Face New Delay in Tax Collection.

Chicago's financial situation saw these three general developments yesterday:

1. The board of review, heeding the growing outcry against the reduction of tax valuations on property in the loop, ordered a survey of the valuations which amounts virtually to a complete revaluation of the loop. This action, announced by Reviewer Charles V. Barrett, is expected to cause further weeks of delay in the collection of taxes for the almost paralyzed taxing bodies.

2. President Caldwell of the school board and Ald. Oscar F. Nelson, council leader for Mayor Thompson, opened direct warfare upon Attorney Silas Strawn and his rescue committee. It was indicated, however, that the council majority led by Ald. John S. Clark, chairman of the finance committee, would support the Strawn committee's proposals. James Simpson, invited by Mr. Caldwell to head a new committee, withheld decision on the matter.

Malone Defends Order.

3. William H. Malone, chairman of the state tax commission, who ordered the reassessment that has held up the collection of taxes for two years, defended his order last night in a public speech. He declared that under the old order the taxing system had been a means of forcing political campaign contributions from large taxpayers, of rewarding ward politicians for support, and of exacting money for fixing taxes, on a wholesale scale.

Admitting that a long delay may result from the order for revaluing the loop, but refusing to guess how long that delay may be, Reviewer Barrett explained that the action was necessary to permit the board of review to investigate the truth of the many rumors about the loop valuations.

The board will see to it that values are fixed which are just to the owners of outlying properties, as well as to the loop owners, Mr. Barrett said. Under the order of the board, which Mr. Barrett said was without precedent, the reviewers have taken full jurisdiction over every piece of property in the south town, which includes the loop, and they may raise or lower the valuations on any property or building in the area.

Acts Independently, He Says.

Mr. Barrett was careful to point out that the action is independent of the complaints filed by attorneys for the school board, who attacked the loop valuations. The board acted upon its own motion, Mr. Barrett said, and will hear evidence from its own realty experts, from the loop taxpayers, from the school board, and from the staff of the board of assessors.

It was indicated also that the board will investigate the rumors that the entire reassessment ordered by Mr. Malone was planned for the purpose of reducing the tax burden of the loop property owners and heaping higher the burdens upon outlying home owners.

In announcing the board's decision, Mr. Barrett stated it was in accordance with an opinion from Roy Massena, attorney for the board.

Calls for "Equalization."

"The board of review has adopted a resolution that, in the opinion of the board, the assessment of property for south town has not been made upon the proper basis and should be equalized," the formal statement by Mr. Barrett said.

"The board of review therefore will diligently pursue a sensible and comprehensive plan in surveying all assessed valuations in accordance with the notice and resolution, and independent of the board of education or other complaints, and will pursue its method to a sensible and equitable conclusion, to the end that the loop valuations may be settled upon the basis that the law provides, regardless of the time necessary for its accomplishment.

"The board of review believes that this is necessary in view of the many statements that have been made publicly and privately regarding the valuations placed upon loop property for taxation purposes.

"To Call on Experts."

"The board of review believes, however, that this plan should be consummated by sensible methods and will call upon men who are thoroughly familiar and widely experienced as to real estate valuations in the loop and in other parts of Chicago and Cook county and that the plan will

MEXICAN KILLS POLICEMAN WHO QUESTIONS HIM

Louis Szewczyk, 32 years old, a plain clothes policeman of the South Chicago station, was shot to death last night by one of three Mexicans whom he and a fellow policeman stopped to question at 90th street and Buffalo avenue. Szewczyk's companion, Policeman Daniel Collins, captured the slayer, Max Garcia, 30 years old, 3040 East 92d street, after a chase of several blocks in which he and Garcia fought a running gun battle.

Szewczyk and Collins met the three men walking along 90th street and, suspicious of their appearance, walked toward them announcing that they were policemen. When they were about eight feet from the trio Garcia suddenly drew a revolver and fired, his first shot striking Szewczyk in the chest near the heart. Collins drew his gun and returned the fire as Garcia ran north on Buffalo avenue, his two companions fleeing to the south.

Collins chased Garcia for three blocks, both emptying their revolvers, before he overtook the slayer and disarmed him. Szewczyk was rushed to the Illinois Steel company hospital near by but was dead on his arrival there. He was married and the father of two children, one a year old and the other 4 years old. He lived at 9332 Colfax avenue.

LIES TO SHIELD DAUGHTER FOR SISTER'S DEATH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 27.—Because he did not want his three year old daughter Frika to be cursed for life with the knowledge of having killed her baby sister, Friedrich Pesla tried to make the court believe that he had poisoned his own baby.

While her parents were sleeping, Frika played with her mother's pills, and fed some of them to the baby. When her father realized what had happened, he rushed the baby to the hospital, but it had died. The father asserted that he had poisoned the child because it was his fourth daughter and a cripple.

His wife contradicted this, saying it was a lie to shield Frika. Pesla then admitted that he heard his relatives berating Frika for killing her sister and he decided to take the guilt on his own shoulders to save the child from having her life ruined by the memory of the baby's death.

Negress, 116, Puffs Pipe, Spurns Flood Rescuers

Princeton, Ind., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Flood rescue parties today reached the water—surrounding the two room hut of Aunt Mary Davis, 116 year old Negress, but she refused to leave. "I've had 'bacy for my pipe, wood for my fire, and enough time for communion with the Lord," she explained as she puffed her old cob. Her horse and cow occupied the other room

The reformation of Frankie Lake, attested by his attendance at a tea dance yesterday, failed to impress a cynical police lieutenant.

The beer merchant and three young men who happened to be at his table in the College Inn at the Hotel Sherman went to jail on a street car.

Lieut. Andrew Barry and his detective bureau squad strolled into the College Inn about 4 o'clock. Lake and his pals were prominently seated at a table close to the dance floor. Terry Druggan's beer partner was daintily fingering a teacup.

Tastes Frankie's Tea.

"Outside, you birds," Barry ordered.

"What's up?" asked Lake, feigning astonishment. For an answer Lieut. Barry picked up Lake's cup, carefully wiped the rim with a napkin, and took a sip. A grin overspread his face—he had tasted tea.

"I said outside," the lieutenant insisted as Lake settled in his chair.

"Aaw, why don't you dicks go after real racketeers and stickup guys instead of annoying us business men?" Lake whined.

"That's what we're doing—outside now," Barry repeated.

"Listen, mister, I travel with white collars gents that carry fountain pens and pencils," Lake defended himself.

Dancers Gather About.

"Aw, get smart and come along," interjected Sergt. Patrick McInerney. The music had ceased and the dancers were in a semicircle around Lake's table.

"I am smart," averred Lake. "But I'm sick and tired of saying 'good morning, judge.' I'm a respectable business man."

Calls Himself Retired Person.

Searched in the lobby of the hotel and found unarmed, the four rode grumbling to the detective bureau on a State street car. Lake gave his age as 35 years, his address as the Morrison hotel, and his occupation as a retired person.

His companions identified themselves as Morris Bogolowski, 30 years old, 433 Wrightwood avenue, who served a term for murder; William Cunningham, 28 years old, 3140 West Monroe street, a clothing salesman, and Jack Silver, 33 years old, of the Lorraine hotel.

The prisoners had been two hours in custody when State Senator Adolph Marks telephoned a request that Barry book them. The senator's request ignored, Ald. William V. Pacelli came to the bureau in company with Si Murray, former assistant city prosecutor, and Jack Lowry, former assistant state's attorney under Maclay Hoyne.

The prisoners were booked for disorderly conduct and released on bail of $50 each shortly before midnight.

TWO DRY AGENTS FACE EXTORTION BRIBE CHARGES

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Charges of an alleged extortion of bribe money in Batavia, involving two federal prohibition agents and a former Republican leader of Genesee county, were laid before the federal grand jury here today by United States Attorney Richard H. Templeton.

While Templeton refused to discuss the case, it is understood that Fred B. Parker, former Republican leader, has been questioned by secret department of justice agents and released with the command to come to Buffalo and testify before the grand jury. The two dry agents against whom charges are made are Lloyd Abrams of Albion, connected with the Buffalo office, who is in custody, and John G. Clark of Buffalo, reported by his supporters as missing.

It is charged that three Batavia citizens identified Abrams and Parker as two of the three men who entered their places and attempted a "shakedown." Speakeasy proprietors, through their lawyers, allege that they were ordered to pay $2,000 down and $100 a week protection money or "take the consequences."

Parker today announced that it was "political persecution" and that he was willing to testify.

2 CHICAGO MEN PITCH TO DEATH WITH 3 OTHERS

Kansas City Airport Scene of Tragedy.

Kansas City, Kas., Jan. 27.—(AP)—Five persons were killed near the Fairfax airport here late today in the crash of a monoplane of the Central Air lines bound from Wichita to Kansas City.

The dead are:

DYKE LAUDEMAN, Kansas City, pilot.

MISS MARGARET DICE, St. Joseph, Mo.

C. R. McKINNON, 18320 Dixie highway, Homewood, Ill.

JAMES R. EGGERT, Chicago, manager of the Ager-Yellin-Bernstein Music Publishing company.

WILLIAM FLYNN, Kansas City, Mo., owner of the Globe theater and former city alderman.

The five passenger single motored Travelair Wasp, the second section of the regular 3 p. m. air express out of Wichita, arrived over the airport according to regulations at 5:28 p. m.

The plane made the usual circle of the port at an altitude of about 500 feet, then suddenly descended at a sharp angle. It plunged to a field about 50 feet from a factory, barely mising the roof of the building. Instantly there was an explosion and a flash of flame.

Heat Drives Rescuers Away.

Field attendants rushed out with fire extinguishers but were unable to fight the flames because of the intense heat from the burning fuselage.

All of the occupants of the ship were believed to have died instantly as the result of the impact.

Five passengers and Pilot Laudeman left Wichita on the fatal trip at 3:30 p. m., a half hour behind schedule. A man who booked passage as "Mr. Haffler" left the plane at Topeka.

C. K. Ettinger of Kansas City started to board the plane but was informed it planned to stop at Topeka, so he took off on the first section. This plane with its pilot and four passengers landed at Fairfax airport just before its sister ship crashed.

Witness Describes Crash.

P. H. Brown of Kansas City, who was waiting the arrival of a passenger on the plane, said he first saw the ship almost a mile away flying at an altitude of approximately 200 feet.

"It appeared as if the pilot was going to come on in on the same level and make a nice landing," he said. "Suddenly the plane swung downward in a sharp nose dive and without any alteration of its course plunged to earth and burst into flames."

Immediately after the bodies were removed from the charred wreckage pilots and mechanics for the Universal Aviation corporation, owners of the ship, were dispatched to the scene to destroy all evidence of the accident. In an hour the wreckage was scattered over a wide area.

James Hare, field manager of Fairfax airport, advanced the opinion that some accident to the controls caused the crash. Laudeman was known as one of the most careful pilots of the line. He had been flying since 1922.

Two Die in New York Crash.

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 27.—(AP)—Two men were killed as their plane crashed in a nose dive at Brizee field near here this afternoon. The men were Gordon Smith, student flyer at Rochester airport, piloting the plane, and Jack Loesby of Boston. Witnesses said the left wing fell from the plane and it dived. Both men were dead when laborers in a field near by reached the wreckage.

CHICAGO VICTIM IDENTIFIED.

C. Roy McKinnon, sales manager for the Robbins-Myers Corp., Springfield, O., was unmarried. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McKinnon, reside at 18320 Dixie highway, Homewood, Ill., with a daughter, Hazel. The father is general foreman for the Pullman Car and Manufacturing corporation at Pullman, Ill. McKinnon was to have celebrated his 27th birthday next Sunday. McKinnon's sister last night said that her brother, Roy, was en route to visit a friend in Kansas City. The father left Homewood last night for Kansas City to claim the body.

Farmer Killed by a Jailbird Now Dry Spy

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Prohibition enforcement has claimed another life in Tennessee. Tom Morris, farmer and suspected bootlegger, living near Winchester, Tenn., was shot down dead by two possemen because, it is said, he resisted arrest. The raid was under state auspices.

One of the raiders, Brutus H. Ashburne, a constable of Franklin county, Tennessee, is a former federal prohibition officer who was known as a killer. He was acquitted here in federal court last fall of a first degree murder charge arising from a killing at a still in Lincoln county.

The other, Tom Rader, is an ex-convict and bootlegger who has been acting as a posseman with federal agents since obtaining his liberty last June under $2,500 bond pending his trial in federal court on charges of liquor law violations.

Has a Long Record.

Rader was confined to the state penitentiary Aug. 18, 1928, to serve a one to three year sentence for transportation of whisky. He was released by conditional pardon from Gov. Henry Horton Sept. 28, 1928, after other convicts had threatened to kill him because he "snitched" on the counterfeiting operations of Howard Barr in that institution.

On March 26, 1929, prison records show, he was convicted of violating his pardon by bootlegging and was returned to the prison May 14. On June 5, however, he was released to federal officials and at that time made bond for his appearance in federal court to answer the charges. Since that time his case has been put off repeatedly.

The shooting took place as Rader and Ashburne were returning from a raid upon a still at which John Morris, a relative of the dead man, and several other prisoners were taken. Fred Curtis, federal prohibition agent, Posseman "Pap" Ashburne, and J. O. Anderson of Nashville took the prisoners down one side of the mountain, and Rader and Brutush Ashburne followed another.

How Morris Was Slain.

Tom Morris was seen leading a mule up the road, across the back of which were lashed two empty kegs. The officers told Morris he was under arrest and he opened fire with a pistol. He was instantly killed by a bullet entering his heart.

United States District Attorney General A. V. McLane tonight said that he doubted that any charges arising from the shooting would be brought in a federal court, as the men were not federal agents.

"From the little I have already learned of the situation," he said, "it is my opinion that the case is one for the state courts."

Basement Still Explodes and Kills Its Operator

Robert Lockett, 43 years old, a Negro laborer, was killed last night when a still which he was operating in the basement of his home at 5015 Calumet avenue, exploded and set fire to the building. The flames swept through the three story building to the roof, wrecking the interior. Lockett's body was found in the basement when the fire was extinguished.

MITCHELL WARS UPON ALL WET PROSECUTORS

New Rule Applies to Agents, Too.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Attorney General William D. Mitchell made it known today that he proposes to purge the department of justice of all employés—district attorneys, marshals and agents—who habitually use liquor or who personally do not favor the prohibition law.

The attorney general's bone dry departmental edict was revealed in a letter, sent to the expenditures committee of the house of representatives, in which he stated that candidates for appointment or reappointment in his service must be abstainers as well as sympathizers with the theory of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act.

"I believe," he wrote, "that no man who makes a practice of drinking intoxicating liquor, or who has definite or pronounced views in opposition to prohibition, belongs in any post having directly to do with the prosecution of cases under the national prohibition act. It seems to me that such men had better seek positions in some other branch of the government or a private occupation."

Carries Out Hoover Idea.

President Hoover, as indicated by several statements, believes that his administration should be personally as well as politically dry. Mr. Mitchell, however, is the first department head under the Hoover régime and the first attorney general in the prohibition era actually to attempt to force prohibition upon his subordinates.

The Mitchell pronouncement was considered significant, not only because the attorney general recommends to the President and exercises influence upon the appointments of district attorneys and marshals, but more so because legislation is pending in congress as a part of the Wickersham program to place the prohibition bureau in the department of justice. It was, in fact, in connection with this legislation that the house committee requested Mr. Mitchell's views.

Prior to issuance of the letter, the attorney general testified before the committee that he is in full accord with the plan to concentrate prohibition enforcement under his direction.

Wets on Warpath Again.

Other prohibition developments during the day included speeches in both houses of congress. In the upper house, Senator Burton K. Wheeler [Dem., Mont.] charged that enforcement has broken down because of corruption in the selection of enforcement officials, while in the house, Representative Emanuel Celler [Dem., N. Y.] attacked the constitutionality of the Wickersham bill to abolish jury trials in petty prohibition cases.

Senator Otis F. Glenn [Rep., Ill.] also was brought into the prohibition picture again when the Woman's Christian Temperance union charged him with playing to the wets.

Demands Loyalty to Law.

Attorney General Mitchell pointed out in his letter to the house committee that he did not believe either the wets or drys have much respect for a man who participates as a public official in the prosecution of bootleggers and patronizes them for a personal supply of liquor nor would they think it wise to assign to prohibition enforcement work "a man who does not believe in what is being done, has no heart in it, or whose activities are constantly hampered by a strong distate for the work he has to do."

"If the public officials who are charged with duties in relation to the enforcement of the prohibition are known to bootleggers, witnesses and jurymen to use liquor themselves with the probability that they are patronizing the illicit traffic in liquors or their disagreement with prohibition is such that it becomes known or the subject of expression by them or others it has a demoralizing effect on the whole machinery of law enforcement.

40,000 Dry Law Cases.

"Out of the 80,000 criminal cases begun in the federal courts during the last fiscal year, more than half were cases under the national prohibition act.

"We do not want fanatics or zealots engaged in prosecuting these cases, but, as a mere administrative matter, it is quite obvious to me that efficient, thorough and diligent work cannot be expected of those who patronize illicit traffic in liquors and have definite and decided opposition to the whole principle of prohibition and make it known."

In his testimony before the committee, Mr. Mitchell cited the necessity of determining in advance an employé's attitude toward prohibition as a reason why prohibition bureau attorneys, when transferred to his department, should not be civil service.

W. C. Deming, president of the civil service commission, another committee witness, took the position that the attorneys as well as agents should keep their merit system status when transferred, but Mr. Mitchell vigorously objected. The committee is expected to consider four amendments submitted by Mr. Deming at an executive session tomorrow when, it is expected that the transfer bill will be reported out.

It is probable that the Deming recommendations will be discarded, as the committee is controlled by the drys who are solidly behind Mr. Mitchell.

Drys Keep McBride Off Stand.

The drys demonstrated their strength at today's meeting when Representative John C. Schafer [Rep., Wis.], a wet, failed in an effort to invite F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, and Dr. Clarence True Wilson of the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals, to appear before the committee. His request for unanimous consent to invite them was objected to by the drys and discarded.

"I merely wanted them to come here and put their stamp of approval on this transfer so that five years from now they will not have an alibi for asking that we put prohibition under the department of agriculture," Schafer explained.

The speech of Senator Wheeler in the senate attacking enforcement methods was occasioned by the transfer of Prohibition Administrator John F. C. Herbert from Baltimore to the Montana and Idaho district, following scandals in connection with his administration. Wheeler declared that if Herbert is not removed from Montana he will demand an investigation. Senator William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho] added that "this man has no right anywhere outside the penitentiary."

Suggesting that the Wickersham commission call members of the Republican national committee to ascertain how prohibition agents are selected, Senator Wheeler declared that it might in that way "learn some of the reasons why enforcement has broken down."

Turn Guns Upon Glenn.

Today's W. C. T. U. attack on Senator Glenn came about as a result of a recent speech of the senator in Chicago, when, according to the W. C. T. U. statement, "he told an audience he voted against the Jones-Stalker law because he was afraid the law would be too harsh with some of his friends."

"Ever since," the bulletin said, "he has been issuing explanatory statements," adding:

"Senator Glenn now says the Wickersham commission has justified his original vote against this law enforcement measure. Senator Glenn said he didn't want to be too hard on his hip flask friends. But the original Jones-Stalker bill did not touch hip flasks. It sought to jail the big machine gun type of rum runners.

"The commission's new recommendations impose a $500 fine on ownership of liquor, including 'hip liquor.'

"Senator Glenn prides himself on gaining the commendation of The Chicago Tribune. This will do him no good with the drys. We wonder how he will vote on the commission's proposal to impose $500 fines for the possession of illicit liquor."

PAUL E. GARDNER TO WED WIDOW, NEW YORK REPORT

New York, Jan. 28.—(AP)—The New York American said today that Mrs. Elliot Cowdin Bacon, prominent in New York and Long Island society, will within the next few days marry Paul E. Gardner of Chicago.

Mrs. Bacon's husband, a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., died in 1924. Mr. Gardner is a widower, his wife, the former Ruby Small of Kansas City, Mo., having died about two years ago. They had one son, Frederick S. Gardner.

Mrs. Bacon before her marriage in 1915 was Hope Norman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Norman of Newport, R. I. Mr. Bacon was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bacon. His father, now dead, was at one time secretary of state and ambassador to France.

Mr. Gardner was graduated from the University of Chicago in 1911 and is a member of Chicago's leading clubs. He has won fame on the squash courts.

GUARDS LET RUM FLOW OFF LINERS FOR $15 A DAY

"Bootleggers' Parade" Is Told by Detective.

New York, Jan. 27.—[Special.]—The French line spent $35,000 to employ private detectives to stop the smuggling from their ships under the eyes of customs guards and it was this investigation which resulted in the recent discharge of three guards for dereliction of duty.

This was revealed today by an official of the line who said that the government had been asked to discharge several other guards in addition to John F. Lenz, Daniel L. Beston and Edward J. Grogan.

The investigation revealed that bootleggers were carrying bags of liquor off the French liners in daylight after the pier had been cleared of customs men who could not be bought, the official said, and that other guards who knew of the smuggling were paid to close their eyes to it.

One detective reported as follows:

"I relieved R. E. at 7:45 a. m. and as soon as I got to the crew gangplank I noticed about 25 or 30 bootleggers going down the gangplank, each carrying one or two bags of liquor, and which the guards made no attempt to stop.

"I then started to look for their roundsman, but could not find him in time to seize the liquor.

"There were three guards—one on the dock and two on the ship. I tried to get the guard's number who was on the dock, but he had it covered up with his overcoat.

"I saw two guards on the ship arguing with one another about money, so I started a conversation with the guards and was told that they got $15 for letting this stuff go out.

"One guard showed me $15 and told me that this was his share for last night"

Duty and Deputy Bryan Cryer during a raid on a still, was ordered investigated by the Lafayette county grand jury today by District Attorney Steve Carrigan. Key Witness Dies Suddenly.

Oklahoma City, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Postponement until tomorrow of the opening of the Pottawatomie county liquor conspiracy case, involving 102 defendants, today gave the federal government additional time in which to meet the exigency created by the death Saturday night of Marion Fuller, former chief of police at Earlsboro, the prosecution's key witness.

Circumstances of Fuller's death were under scrutiny of federal authorities. He is said to have made a death bed statement, which it is reported will be introduced in the trial.

The government will attempt to prove that Randall Pitman, county attorney of Pottawatomie county; Frank Fox, a former sheriff; Clarence Burdett, former chief of police of Earlsboro; Homer Knappenberger, former mayor of Earlsboro; Oscar Motley, former deputy sheriff, and the other defendants controlled and operated the alleged liquor ring during the last three years and sold protection to bootleggers.

Agents' Slayer Arraigned.

West Palm Beach, Fla., Jan. 27.—(AP)—George W. Moore, charged with the murder of the prohibition agents during an attempted raid on his home here Jan. 11, waived preliminary hearing today and was bound over to the grand jury. Bond was set at $10,000 in each case of two first degree murder charges.

Swanson Questions Aid on Phone Calls.

Plans of Patrick Roche, chief investigator for State's Attorney Swanson, to arraign the principals in the Tommy Abbott gang on charges of conspiracy to rob went awry last night when Roche discovered that his agents had committed a misdemeanor in securing their evidence.

In view of Roche's discovery, Deputy Police Commissioner Stege announced early this morning that Abbott, his wife, Irene, Thomas Francis, Mrs. Frances Sterling, and Mrs. Elizabeth Herron, would probably be booked for disorderly conduct. A writ of habeas corpus, issued yesterday by Judge Phillip Finnegan, is returnable for the prisoners today.

Busch Is Suspended.

Another development was the suspension by Mr. Swanson of his assistant, Harry J. Busch, whose name was linked with the gang in alleged tapped wire telephone conversations overheard by Roche's investigators. Busch came to the detective bureau for questioning early yesterday and subsequently was closeted with the state's attorney, his suspension being announced immediately thereafter by Mr. Swanson.

Roche's procedure against the prisoners, as outlined late yesterday, was to have them booked during the night for conspiracy to rob in time to defeat the writ issued by Judge Finnegan. The prisoners were to be arraigned in Felony court tomorrow and stand and testify concerning alleged telephone conversations between members of the band relative to a projected robbery of the McCormick hotel and the seizure of the pay roll at a Joliet factory.

Phone Wire Law Cited.

Roche was citing the unique aspects of the case he proposed to make, pointing out that such evidence was unprecedented in Illinois criminal law. When a reporter dug up the statutes and found in chapter 154, paragraph [illegible], a declaration making it a misdemeanor for any person, policemen not excepted, to tap the wires of any telephone subscriber.

Following his conference with Prosecutor Busch, the state's attorney declared he proposed delving to the bottom of the charges against his assistant. Busch, who is the Deneen ward leader in the 42d ward, charged the affair to politics. He admitted a casual acquaintance with Abbott.

A consideration in the state's attorney's investigation, it was said, will be the data gathered by Mr. Roche in the case of Joseph Spinello, a deputy sheriff who permitted a prisoner to escape on a forged court order last summer. Busch's name is mentioned in Mr. Roche's report of that episode, it is said.

PLOT TO MURDER RUBIO NIPPED; MEXICO NABS 19

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 27.—(AP)—An alleged plot by adherents of José Vasconcelos, defeated candidate for the Mexican presidency, to assassinate Pascual Ortiz Rubio, blow up several public buildings in Mexico City, and seize the administration in the confusion was bared tonight by Chief of Police Valente Quintana. The chief of police said the plot had been frustrated with the arrest several days ago of 19 persons, two of whom had been released. Others, he said, had confessed.

In July, 1928, Gen. Alvaro Obregon was assassinated within two weeks of his election to the presidency. Rubio, within a few days after his election, Nov. 17, made an extensive visit to the United States, returning only recently.

Bishop Anderson Rallies Slightly After Relapse

Physician attending the most Rev. Charles P. Anderson, primate of the American Episcopal church and bishop of Chicago, who is dangerously ill at his home, 4512 Drexel boulevard, stated last night that the prelate is slightly improved but that his condition is still regarded as critical. A slight relapse during the day yesterday was regarded with great concern. Dr. Charles Wakefield stated that the bishop's heart and lungs are in serious condition. The prelate's pulse was reported stronger late last night.

ASKS MILLION FROM CITY FOR BUILDING SAG

The præcipe of a $1,000,000 damage suit against the city of Chicago was filed yesterday in the Circuit court in behalf of the 999 Lake Shore Drive Building corporation by Attorney Charles M. Haft. The apartment building is one of the older of the show places of the gold coast.

According to Attorney Haft, the soil under the building has been softened by leakage from a water tunnel constructed in 1898, which is eighty feet below the surface. This softening is causing the building to sag in its center and will ultimately result in destruction of the building, he said. In the event of constructing a new building, safety will require sinking caissons to a greater depth at an additional cost, Attorney Haft declared.

Noguchi is visiting occidental countries to meet the Japanese students in the schools. He will leave for New York today.

'ELOPERS' BACK IN EVANSTON; END MYSTERY

Young Married Pair Just Went for a Ride.

Two young girls and an unabashed young man stepped in the North Shore hotel in Evanston early this morning, unharmed after an escapade which had provoked their parents to institute police action in Lincoln, Neb., and Marinette, Wis. All three had been reported missing for 24 hours and conflicting reports had them involved in a double elopement and an automobile accident.

The girls, each 17 years old, are Miss Harriet Nelson, 717 Monroe street, Evanston, and Miss Frances Bell, 1218 Wilmette avenue, Wilmette. The young man, who is legally Miss Bell's spouse although she uses her maiden name, is Larry Mouatt, 19 years old, 616 Lake street, Wilmette.

Seek to Annul Wedding.

They became husband and wife at a ceremony performed last Aug. 28 at St. Francis Xavier's Catholic church, Wilmette, but were immediately separated by the parents on both sides. Steps were taken to annul the marriage and Mouatt went to Central America "to forget." He returned to Wilmette last Saturday, and subsequent developments were related to a TRIBUNE reporter who recognized the trio as they entered the hotel.

"It was just that we wouldn't stand for annulment of our marriage," said the bride. "The minute Larry got back from the tropics he called me up. He didn't dare come to the house, so we arranged a Sunday afternoon date for Larry and myself and Frances Nelson and her boy friend, Joseph Montfort."

Use Friend's Automobile.

They used the car of Montfort's stepfather, J. R. Brown, 127 17th street, Wilmette. Montfort, who attends an aviation school at Lincoln, Neb., was due to leave on an evening train for Lincoln. They drove him to the Union station and he allowed them to retain use of the car.

"Larry and I decided to get married all over again," Miss Bell went on. "We started for Iowa, thinking a ceremony performed there might be more binding. Frances came along as witness.

"But when we got to Elgin we decided we were still married in spite of any old courts and annulments. Larry had money earned on a banana plantation, so we checked into a hotel, Frances having a separate room. We stayed there until we saw the story of our disappearance and all the terrible rumors of a double elopement and accidents in the Chicago papers. Frances got worried—and here we are."

SUES LATE PRESIDENT HAYES' SON TO REPORT ON A $250,000 FUND

Columbus, O., Jan. 27.—(AP)—Col. Webb C. Hayes, son of former President Rutherford B. Hayes, was named a defendant in an injunction suit in Common Pleas court here today asking that he be made to account for state funds alleged to have been illegally spent in converting the Hayes homestead in Fremont, Sandusky county, into a state museum.

The suit, instituted by a Fremont taxpayer, also asks for $250,000 exemplary damages from Hayes.

The action charges that Hayes, as the leading figure in the museum project, misappropriated state money by using it for purposes other than that for which it was allowed by the legislature. He is asked for an accounting of all the money appropriated by the legislature twenty years ago.

The suit, which was brought by James B. Cameron, Fremont business man, as a taxpayer, charges that Col. Hayes in his capacity as a member of the commission which started development of Spiegel Grove, site of the President Hayes homestead, has diverted large sums of money from the purpose for which they were appropriated. One charge is that he used $10,000 to construct a tunnel from the Hayes home to the new $100,000 museum.

Rich Negro Undertaker Found Shot to Death

Artesia B. Reid, 40 years old, reputedly wealthy Negro undertaker at 444 East Pershing road, was found dead, clad in hunting clothes and with a rifle bullet near his heart, beside his expensive car late last night at 39th street and South Park way. A hunting rifle, from which a bullet had been discharged, was found on the floor of the front seat. From the circumstances police concluded that Reid had accidentally shot himself and had fallen dead as he stepped from the car in search of aid.

NEW VERSION OF ABSENCE TOLD BY PASSARELLA

Rocco Passarella, former Melrose Park dry raider, added a new version yesterday to the story of why he disappeared from home for more than a week, during which time it was feared that he had been killed by an alcohol ring. Two men, he said, stopped him on his way home from work early Jan. 17, and, thrusting pistols into his back, threatened him with death if he went to the federal building that day to testify against men he had arrested in raids on stills.

Assistant United States Attorney Daniel Anderson called Passarella to the federal building yesterday in an effort to find out why the former police lieutenant was discharged from the force. Anderson refused to comment on his conversation with Passarella, except to say that he believed Passarella would be reinstated.

Following a meeting of the Melrose Park village board last night, J. L. Urgo, member of the police committee, said that Passarella's activities on the police force were under investigation, and that his reinstatement could not be considered yet. Trustees John Hill and Joseph Imburgio are also on the committee. According to Passarella, Imburgio demanded his resignation from the force the day before he left town.

BOARD ORDERS REVALUATION OF LOOP PROPERTY

City Faces New Delay in Tax Collection.

tend to bring about a conclusion that will do justice not only to the loop but to all taxpayers throughout Chicago and Cook county.

"The work of the board of review in this regard will start immediately. The taxpayers and the various municipalities within Cook county may be assured that the board of review will discharge its functions relative to this important question just as promptly as it will be possible intelligently to carry out the work and will finish the work in as short a time as possible."

Members of the board of assessors refused to comment on this action, which puts them in the light of having favored loop property owners at the expense of home owners.

Fairweather's Comment.

George O. Fairweather, assistant business manager of the University of Chicago, and vice chairman of the citizens' committee which first brought pressure for a reassessment, and who has been accused of working in the interest of the loop building managers' association, made the following comment:

"The board of review should flush out every complaint. The loop is the most nervous area in the whole county, and I am happy to join in the demand that valuations in the loop area be most carefully reviewed. I have been urging that all along."

Caldwell Plan Lags.

President Caldwell's proposal for a new committee, headed by Mr. Simpson, and with representatives of the school board, the city council, the county board, and the sanitary district as members, seemed to gain little headway yesterday pending the decision of Mr. Simpson on whether to accept or decline the commission.

Mr. Caldwell, in opening direct warfare upon Mr. Strawn and the Strawn committee, seemed to be burning his bridges so far as obtaining help from that committee is concerned, but last night no other officials had indorsed his alternative proposal.

On three separate occasions Mr. Caldwell yesterday attacked Attorney Strawn, and charged that the lawyer was motivated only by his interests in behalf of loop taxpayers whose taxes may be reduced under the reassessment.

Strawn in Washington.

With Attorney Strawn in Washington until tomorrow, the situation concerning his committee's offer of help to the taxing bodies, to the extent of $20,000,000 pledged by a number of large taxpayers, centered about the willingness of the city, schools and county forces to accept the committee's conditions.

The committee, Mr. Strawn had set forth, will insist on supervising the expenditure of the money, and will demand an agreement by the tax spenders accepting aid, under which they will submit to the passage of legislation which will prevent a similar breakdown of governmental finance in the future.

The city hall seemed split on the question. While Finance Chairman Clark and his followers were agreeing to the Strawn conditions, the supporters of Mayor Thompson were joining President Caldwell of the school board in attacking Strawn and his plan.

It was considered likely that if the matter is brought to the test before the council the result will be a vote of 17 to 30, favoring the Strawn plan, for this is the vote by which the Clark camp defeated the attempts of Mayor Thompson to force through an overloaded budget.

"I am inclined to coöperate with Mr. Strawn," said Ald. Clark yesterday. "I don't think he intends to usurp the powers of elected officials. His committee got the money for us before—they can do it again. As for the Caldwell plan, I don't think it is any time for two rescue committees to be fighting when the city employés need money."

Ald. Joseph B. McDonough [13th] said: "I'm for the Strawn committee." Ald. Sheldon W. Govier [9th] expressed faith in the action of Ald. Clark, and said he would follow it. Ald. George Seif [35th] said: "I think the people of Chicago are fortunate to have a man of Mr. Strawn's type to devote his time in the interest of the people as a whole. Any quibbling about it is nonsense." Ald George Maypole [28th] said he stood with the Strawn committee for "economy." Ald. D. A. Horan [21st] also wants to coöperate with the Strawn committee.

Fights Strawn Group.

Ald. Oscar F. Nelson [46th], floor leader for Mayor Thompson, in a letter addressed to Chairman Clark, carried on the city hall crowd's fight against the Strawn committee.

"I believe," wrote Ald. Nelson, "that the city, the board of education, and the county and other bodies should issue their new tax anticipation warrants in denominations of $100 and up. They should be put on sale in the city comptroller's office and in the county comptroller's office and the people given to understand that these warrants are as good as cash in the payment of taxes and that they bear interest at six per cent.

"It is my frank opinion that Silas Strawn, who receives considerable newspaper publicity as a melodramatic hero who is to rescue local governments, has done considerable harm in his allegations that the city, county, and board of education have padded pay rolls and sinecure jobs in which they are wasting taxpayers' money. If he knows of such padded pay rolls or sinecure jobs, why does he not mention them specifically?

"My message to Mr. Strawn and his millionaire clients, the bankers, is that in his program to destroy confidence of the people in elected public officials he is sowing the seed of communism, and no one would suffer more with the development of bitterness and radicalism among the mass of the people than will Mr. Strawn's clients."

President Caldwell, upon reaching his office yesterday, issued his first attack on Attorney Strawn and the Strawn rescue committee.

"The reformers of this city are trying to sell out the schools to the loop interests," he said bitterly, his remarks recalling recent utterances of Mayor Thompson. "I will not consent to any measures which will sacrifice the well-being of the schools to get a month's salary for the teachers or other employés.

"Silas Strawn has several times made the statement that it might be better for the schools to close than to continue on in the present difficulties. And yet the help that we should have had from the taxes has been held up for nearly two years, while the reformers without legal authority have waited until the last minute before even offering to give aid.

"The Strawn committee has become one of the strongest alliances of bankers that this city has ever known. They have blocked our efforts on every side."

Continue Coal Supply.

Later Mr. Caldwell met with representatives of six coal companies which supply fuel to the schools, and induced them to continue deliveries, although the board of education now owes them a total of $468,156 for past deliveries. John S. Reiner of the Reiner Coal company, who had been most urgent in demanding payment, and who had been considered likely to suspend deliveries, agreed to go on for a while longer

Attorney Strawn, in the national capitol to attend a Red Cross dinner in honor of the 75th birthday of John Barton Payne, was informed of the Caldwell statements, and the Caldwell plan, and remarked:

"I have no comment to make. It simply makes me laugh."

Attacks Tax System.

Chairman Malone of the tax commission, who addressed a public meeting in People's church, Lawrence avenue near Sheridan road, stated that even had he not ordered the reassessment, the collapse of local governments in Chicago would have been delayed only temporarily.

"Evils in the taxing system were growing worse every year," he said. "It is common information that local politicians held the taxing system like a giant whip over the heads of the people, forcing campaign contributions, exacting money for fixing taxes, rewarding friends with light assessments, and using it to build and maintain political machinery.

"Local taxing officials had exercised virtual dictatorship here for years. Tax fixing became a lucrative source of income for shyster lawyers and racketeers who had the right connections in the board of assessors and board of review offices."

Ross Woodhull, trustee of the sanitary district, said the board had found a market for $526,876 in 1929 tax anticipation warrants, with which to meet bond interest payments due Feb. 1. He declined to disclose the purchasers.

City Comptroller George K. Schmidt notified H. C. Sylvester Jr., president of the National City company of New York, that Chicago will meet in full the principal and interest due on its bonded debt on the next interest date, July 1, regardless of its state of finances in maintaining city activities. The amount due on the bonded debt on July 1 is $1,824,420. Mr. Schmidt pointed out to Mr. Sylvester, who had requested information, that a tax levy, independent of the corporate tax levies, is made to cover the payment of bonds whenever bonds are sold.

NAB THIEF AS STOLEN CLOCK BEGINS TO CROW

The whistle of a cuckoo clock resulted in arrest yesterday for Godfrey Smith, 60 years old, 417 North Clark street.

Smith had just left the display room of the Commonwealth Edison company, 72 West Adams street, at 4 p. m., when a bulge appeared in his bulky overcoat and the cuckoo crowed four times.

Police Sergeants John Murphy and Anthony McSwiggin seized Smith, unbuttoned the coat and extracted from under his armpits a $100 clock and a $15 electric egg cooker.

"I should have lifted one that wasn't wound," said Smith ruefully. He was booked for larceny and violation of a parole granted six months ago by Judge Harry Lewis.

Here are 8 REASONS why you may need $300

If you had an extra $300 today—what could you do with it? Pay up scattered bills, buy winter clothing, coal, or household supplies—perhaps pay for necessary medical attention. If you need money for these or any other good reasons, "Household" will advance $100 to $300 without delay.

No Fines—No Fees
No Deductions

You get the entire amount. When you borrow $300 you get $300. All loans are made on basis of repayment in twenty months, but you may repay in full at any time—interest is charged only on unpaid principal balance.

Save Nearly
⅓ Interest Cost

By limiting our service to loans of $100 to $300, "Household" is able to reduce the interest rate to 2½% per month—a saving of nearly one-third. Thus the total cost of a $200 loan for 30 days is only $5.00. Other amounts for longer periods, at proportionate cost.

A Statement About Small Loans by Household Finance Corporation

We Make Loans of $100 to $300 at 2½% per Month

There are classes of loans which require the rate of 3½% per month

The Household Finance Corporation wishes to impress upon the public that any licensee who makes loans of less than $100, and a certain class of loans of larger amounts is, in our opinion, entitled to and is justified in charging the maximum rate of 3½% per month. We could not afford to make loans of less than $100 at less than 3½%. The 3½% rate is not the fixed rate that licensees must charge, but is simply the maximum rate permitted by the State Small Loan Law on loans up to $300.

If you need $100 to $300 you owe it to yourself to see us first.

STATE WILL TRY GUARD SERGEANT WHO KILLED BOY

Hurley Deplores Shooting of Private.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—James E. Chenot, prosecuting attorney, tonight announced that criminal prosecution of Sergt. Joseph Peggione of the 125th infantry, Michigan National Guard for the slaying of Private Stanley Prusinowski, 16, of the same regiment, Saturday, will be undertaken in the state courts.

Simultaneously Secretary of War Hurley, at Washington, D. C., instructed his secretary to obtain a full report of the circumstances surrounding the shooting.

Mr. Hurley said he "deeply deplored" the slaying, but questioned the right of the war department to intervene.

U. S. Furnishes Arms.

Although arms used by national guard units are furnished by the government, the units are entirely under state authority, and interference in the conduct of their affairs might be considered infringement of state rights, Mr. Hurley said.

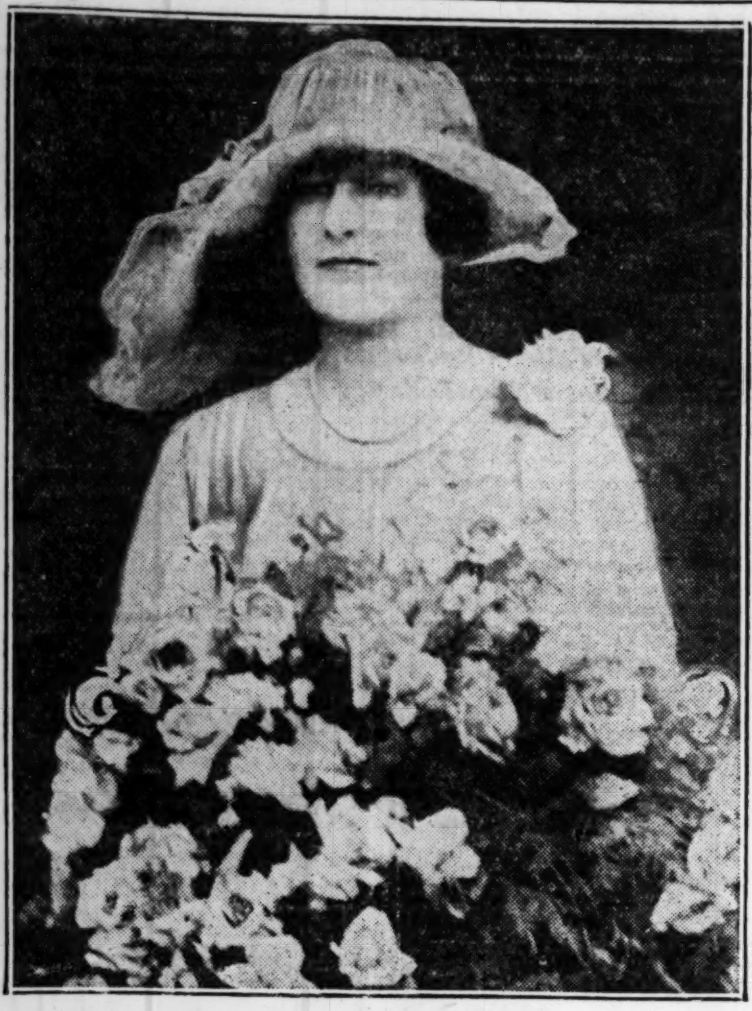
Prosecutor Chenot said he would recommend a warrant for Peggione, but that he had not yet decided on the charge. His statement followed his questioning of Peggione today.

Any military investigation of the shooting by the officers of the Michigan National Guard will be entirely independent of the criminal action, the prosecutor added.

Boy Shot Through Heart.

Peggione shot and killed Prusinowski, who sought to escape arrest on a military warrant directing him to appear before a court martial for failure to appear on a summons to a court martial for missing drill. The young private was running from his home when a bullet entered his back and pierced his heart.

Wins Divorce from Rich Canadian



MRS. LOUISE TAYLOR BOOTH.

Mrs. Louise Taylor Booth, daughter of the late Lloyd Taylor, wealthy trunk manufacturer, yesterday won a divorce from her husband, Frederick H. Booth of Ottawa, Ont., before Circuit Judge Lynch. Mrs. Booth charged that her husband has been drunk on an average of five days a week for the last ten years.

The Booths were married at a fashionable wedding in St. Chrysostom's church, on May 31, 1919. They separated on Sept. 8, 1928. Booth is a grandson of the late Rudolphus Booth, Canadian lumber king. He is a cousin of Princess Lois, wife of Prince Eric of Denmark.

Mrs. Booth's testimony was supported by her sister, Mrs. Virginia Dunham of Lake Forest, and Dr. Lillian Enborg, 4911 North Albany avenue. She is said to have received a settlement of $100,000.

CALLS TRAFFIC JAMS DANGER TO AUTO INDUSTRY

Studebaker Official Asks Better Streets.

BY HAL FOUST.

Traffic congestion in metropolitan areas is the only threat against the prosperity of America's greatest industry, automobile manufacturing, according to Paul G. Hoffman, vice president of the Studebaker company. He expressed this opinion in an address last night at a company banquet in the Palmer house.

The future of the automobile in America, he added, will be measured in direct proportion to the development of pavements for efficient operation of motor cars.

"Antiquated streets and highways have become so overloaded in sections of the country," he continued, "that the value of a machine to its owner is decreasing. Cities are the great sufferers.

"Little Done for Cities."

"In the last few years, there has been much improvement in rural roads. By contrast, little has been done for cities. As a consequence, the farmer who buys a car is getting more for his money than a city dweller who buys an identical machine at the same price.

"An example closer at home can be found in Chicago. The resident of the north or the south side gets more value out of his machine than the resident of the west side because of the lake shore boulevards.

"It behooves the automobile industry, its manufacturers, distributors, salesmen, mechanics and its car washers, to get behind the promotion of better pavements."

Luncheon for Franklin.

The Studebaker banquet was one of several organization meetings held during the day in connection with the National Automobile show. Another was a luncheon for H. H. Franklin, manufacturer of the air cooled automobile.

Today at the national show has been designated as "Sports day." The exhibitors in the Coliseum will lay special stress on the colorful roadsters and phaetons so popular at golf clubs, football games, races and other outdoor events.

Auto Show Notes

Radios tucked under cowls are furnishing music for visitors to the Chrysler Motors exhibits in the Congress hotel. A motion picture of a wreck, illustrating the stability of modern car bodies is another attraction. De Sotos, Plymouths, Dodges, and Chryslers are in the display.

Harry Caley, Chevrolet dealer at Harvey, boasts of the first large order at the automobile show. He sold a fleet of eleven coupes to the Shell Oil company shortly after the doors of the Coliseum were opened on Saturday.

Charles W. Nash, manufacturer of the car bearing his name, will arrive in Chicago this morning from his home in Kenosha for a company luncheon at the Congress hotel.

Another important meeting today is an Auburn luncehon at the Stevens hotel.

Duesenberg is showing a special display this week in its salesrooms at the 333 building.

Ross W. Judson, president of Continental Motors, arrived in Chicago yesterday and contributed to the optimism toward the busineess outlook for 1930. He said that orders in hand were sufficient to justify a prediction of continued prosperity for the auto parts maker.

Thirty Below Zero Fails to Drive Off Mother Pigeon

Tipton, Ia., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—This town has made a heroine of a mother pigeon. Three weeks ago while the thermometer registered 30 degrees below zero the pigeon laid two eggs in the fold of the awning over a tailor shop. The awning was open and the eggs reposed in a blanket of snow. Spectators removed the snow. The pigeon lovingly set on the cold nest. Yesterday the squabs picked their way out of the shell and the proud parent is busily engaged in providing them with food.

"Palmolive is the soap which thoroughly cleanses the skin

... and at the same time reveals natural loveliness"

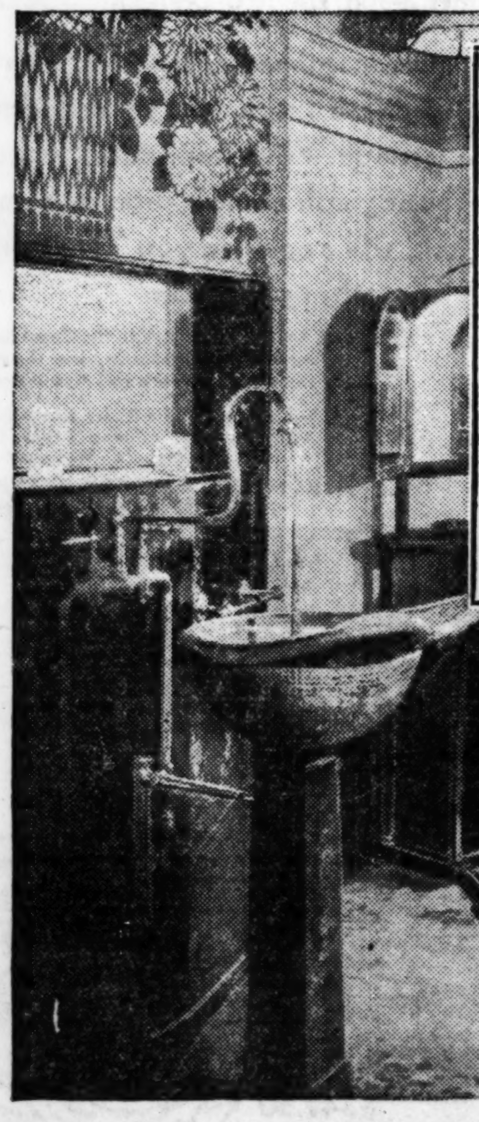
LEON DESFOSSÉ
—one of the best known of all Parisian beauty specialists



Desfossé has a most unusual salon in Paris ... mosaic floors, marble walls lend an elegance of background women delight in.

"Palmolive is so effective because of a unique blending of the palm and olive oils it contains, agents which cleanse and soothe the complexion and at the same time bring out natural color."

The cosmetic oils in this famous facial soap are your best safeguard against modern dangers to skin beauty.

IF you've been to Paris ... if your friends have been to Paris ... you probably know of the chic beauty salon of Desfossé on the Rue St. Honoré. The establishment Desfossé has been a training school for many of the now famous French specialists, including Emile Massé of the Rue Daunou.

Desfossé, himself, was called to Madrid to attend the members of the Spanish Court at the time Alfonso XIII was crowned king. He was also called to Germany to attend the princesses when the last king of Saxony was crowned.

It is a man of such international professional importance who urges you to use Palmolive Soap. He says: "I always advise my clients to wash with Palmolive Soap and warm water, making first a lather with both hands, then thoroughly rinsing with warm water and with cold, thus toning up the complexion."

Desfossé is not alone in his opinion of the tonic effects of palm and olive oils. Today, a tremendously impressive group of more than 18,900 beauty specialists—throughout the world—advise Palmolive Soap.

Ordinary soaps won't do

Beware of using crude soaps, soaps made of undesirable fats, soaps artificially colored or highly perfumed. They may be harmless. But to experiment is dangerous. Palmolive is made of no other oils but those of palm and olives. It is these oils which give it Nature's own green color. They make unnecessary the addition of heavy perfumes.

"The skin must be thoroughly washed, but care taken to employ only the soap which gives the greatest benefits with the least inconvenience," the great Desfossé warns you. So many soaps are irritating. You should not experiment when it is so easy to buy Palmolive. Millions use it for the bath as well as the face.

You will find it safe, protective, bland and soothing. The world's great beauty experts advise it. Try Palmolive and you will understand why.

ENGLISH GHOST! U. S. WOMEN GET A REAL THRILL

Hear Traditional Spook at Admiralty Tea.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The wives of the American naval delegates enjoyed their first thrill of hearing a real English ghost today, when, as guests of Mrs. A. V. Alexander, wife of the first lord of the admiralty, they attended a tea party at the admiralty and drank oolong in the very room where a mysterious spook swishes through punctually at mealtimes.

The admiralty ghost is an age-old tradition. It always manifests itself at lunch and dinner time, making a weird, swishing noise along one side of the room and back again. All these years the phantom has never missed a meal and minute investigations of the haunted room have never revealed the secret.

Dates from 1786.

The admiralty house dates from 1786, but the outer hall is considerably older, being the former home of the elder and younger Pitt—the Earls of Chatham.

The American women enjoyed sitting in the chairs which the venerable figures in English history formerly used, and admired the eight marble mantlepieces, installed from great London houses since pulled down, and from the residence of the prince of Wales. They hung their wraps on chairs shaped like anchors and inspected the huge black pillar in the center of the hall, which was once used for heating purposes.

Find Furniture Is "Cute."

They found the "fish furniture" "cute.". It was presented to Lord Nelson shortly before his death. It is made of wood, gilded and carved in the shape of dolphins, upholstered in almond green and orchid mauve brocade with the chair legs covered with gilded fish scales. Seen anywhere else, it might be described as freakish or frankly hideous relics of the gay nineties, but enshrouded in the glamor of the admiralty house it elicited squeaks of admiration.

The guests inspected the dining room and portraits of past secretaires of the admiralty and Samuel Pepys, the diarist. They saw the state banquet table and the one window alcove, where the first lord and his wife and daughter dine when alone.

American Women Present.

The Americans present included Mrs. Stimson, Mrs. Dawes, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Morrow, and Miss Morrow.

Those invited to meet the Americans included Lady Parmoor, wife of the president of the council and government leader of the house of lords; Mrs. J. B. Clynes, wife of the home secretary; Mrs. Wedgewood Benn, wife of the secretary of state for India; Lady Madden, wife of Sir Charles Madden, first sea lord; Mrs. Greenwood, wife of the minister of health; and Mrs. Philip Snowden, wife of the chancellor of the exchequer.

The American women are becoming more and more impressed by the charm of English people. English life, English customes and English servants. Several already are figuring on sending their sons and daughters to be educated here if they can get them enrolled in a really smart school.

All yearn for an opportunity to take home nice, respectful servants—those who are really willing, to polish boots and do not insist on 6:30 o'clock dinners nightly so they can go to the movies.

ALKY DRINKERS TO INFIRMARY.

Five young men who drank denatured alcohol intended to be used as varnish remover were sentenced to serve thirty days at the Oak Forest infirmary by Judge John C. Kowalski at Calumet City yesterday.

THE TRIBUNE CONTEST OF INTERESTING LETTERS

Every morning The Tribune prints a photograph of the stamp and postmark and the name and address of the recipient of a letter from an interesting or little known place, with a map showing its origin and a brief word of description.

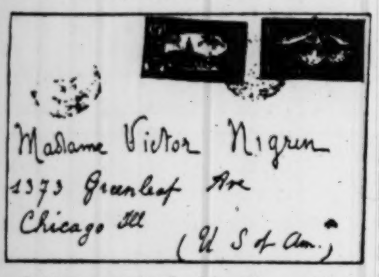
From the Island of Guadeloupe



Madame Victor Nigrin
1373 Greenleaf Ave
Chicago Ill

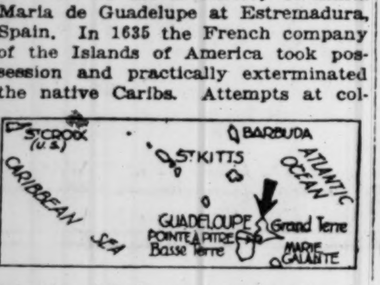
Letter received by Mme. Victor Nigrin, 1373 Greenleaf avenue, Chicago.

This letter is from Point-à-Pitre, the largest town on the island of Guadeloupe, a French colony in the West Indies. It has a fine harbor and a population of 26,500.

Columbus discovered the island on Sunday, Nov. 3, 1493, and named it in honor of the monastery of Santa Maria de Guadelupe at Estremadura, Spain. In 1635 the French company of the Islands of America took possession and practically exterminated the native Caribs. Attempts at colonization failed and the French government took possession and made it a dependency of Martinique in 1674. Britain seized it twice subsequently, but it was restored finally to France at the general peace in 1816.



Guadeloupe is in reality two islands, Basse-Terre and Grande-Terre, separated by an arm of the sea a few hundred feet wide. They have a united area of 8,532 square miles and a population of about a quarter of a million.

The chief products of the island are sugar, coffee, cocoa, and rum.

LONDON PARLEY DEADLOCKED BY FRANCE AND ITALY

Rome Rejects Paris Plan on Order of Discussion.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The wide differences between France and Italy on the problem of naval disarmament flared into the open today at a meeting of the "big five" representatives to the London conference. As a result, the meeting, which had been called to discuss the agenda of the conference, was confined to a discussion between Premier Tardieu of France and Dino Grandi, Italian foreign minister.

The trouble started when Premier Tardieu insisted that it was useless to discuss technical details of what categories of ships should be discussed first by the conference until an agreement had been reached on the method of limitation—whether it should be by global tonnage or by categories of ships.

Grandi Refuses Proposal.

Sig. Grandi flatly refused to accept this proposal and demanded that the conference first establish a percentage ratio for the various powers. Thus, he put forward in different form Italy's demand for parity with France.

No agreement was arrived at after three hours of hot debate, and the meeting adjourned until tomorrow, when the discussions will be resumed.

The delegates agreed, however, that the various points mentioned by both the French and the Italians should be taken up in alphabetical order, according to the power proposing the subject. France, under this system, is credited with a technical victory, since she will present her side before the Italians get a chance to talk

Reaps Fruits of "Hush, Hush."

The conference today began to reap the fruits of its "hush, hush" policy, by which the press of the world has been denied authoritative information and all meetings have been held behind closed doors. The inevitable result has been a crop of rumors, fakes and near fakes, and the spokesmen of all powers spent most of today nailing these and explaining that none could be true because the conference had not yet begun to discuss concrete proposals.

The greatest fake was a long story in the London Evening News, which is owned by Lord Rothermere. The story alleged that at the first meeting of the "big five" this morning the delegates decided to abandon further talk on the proposal to abolish submarines, but explained that this did not affect the proposals for limiting their size. This was categorically denied by American Secretary of State Stimson, Sir Arthur Willert, the British spokesman, and the Japanese spokesman.

The second and most gorgeous scoop in the same story was that the Japanese had "dropped a bombshell" into the meeting of the "big five' by proposing that merchant ships should be forbidden to prepare, in time of peace, for mounting larger than six inch guns. This roused the Japanese to such a pitch that their leader, Reijiro Wakatsuki, himself took over the spokesman's job to deny it. The British and Americans also issued denials. They might have gone further and pointed out that this provision is already in article 14 of the Washington treaty.

British Give Up Two Cruisers.

One concrete piece of news today was an announcement that the British admiralty is abandoning the two proposed 10,000 ton cruisers Surrey and Northumberland, which were part of the 1929-'30 program. No actual work was done on the ships, so Great Britain saves the whole sum of $21,800,000 they would have cost. Work was postponed on them last July, when Prime Minister MacDonald and American Ambassador Dawes began their conversations, and their total abandonment now is taken as an indication that Great Britain is hopeful that the success of the conference will render them superfluous.

Whatever may have been agreed on between the individual leaders of one or two delegations, so far the conference as a whole has not discussed a single concrete proposal and will not reach that stage for some days. The first business is to complete the agenda, which is very important, as the order of discussion of the various subjects may affect the whole fate of the conference.

It is also learned that the British, in addition to canceling the two cruisers, are meditating a further gesture if the conference is still in being. That is to split in two the naval estimates which were submitted last March. The first half, which will be dealt with immediately by parliament, provides only for the maintenance of the existing fleet. The second would cover plans for the replacement and new building, normally included in one naval estimate bill. It is proposed, however, to postpone all discussion of this part until after the conference.

ROME PAPER ASSAILS FRENCH PREMIER AS "SECOND WILSON"

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Jan. 27.—Branding Premier Tardieu's London speech as "short wave Wilsonism," the radical Fascist paper, Il Tevere, in an editorial entitled, "Radio Politics," today roundly berates the French premier as establishing "a new form of demagogy." The paper also takes a few vicious cracks at the general method of procedure at the London naval conference.

"Three quarters of the conversations go on behind the scenes, and the other quarter are bellowed over loudspeakers," Il Tevere declares. "The public has no means of knowing what is actually going on.

"What peace is Tardieu talking about? If it is French peace, all right; but if it is world peace, we would like to have him keep his hands off. He was the author of the Versailles treaty, which pleased nobody. If he organizes world peace along the same lines there will be a new war before we are able to say 'Amen.'

"One Woodrow Wilson was quite enough. We don't want a French edition of the same thing."

Stimson to Talk on Radio from London at Noon Today

New York, Jan. 27.—(AP)—An address by Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson will be broadcast from London and relayed over the network of the National Broadcasting company at 1 p. m. tomorrow, eastern standard time [12 noon Chicago time].

[The broadcast will be sent out in Chicago from station W-G-N.]

Bond Salesmen

A large conservative bond house participating in all leading syndicates, with offices in Chicago, New York and other large cities of the Middle West, is looking for salesmen to represent them in Chicago and outside territory. Replies to receive attention should give experience, present earnings and class of securities sold. A satisfactory drawing account to apply against an unusually liberal commission system will make this proposition exceedingly attractive to producers.

EUROPE ANGLES TO GET U. S. INTO SECURITY PACT

Scheme Would Guarantee Mediterranean Peace.

Naval Developments

Correspondents of THE TRIBUNE reported the following developments yesterday in the five power naval conference in London:

Mr. Henning reveals plan of European powers to get United States to sign security pact guaranteeing peace in Mediterranean.

Mr. Steele tells how parley is deadlocked over French and Italian demands on what shall be discussed first.

Mr. Wales describes how wives of United States delegates got a thrill when they heard traditional ghost at admiralty during a tea party.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 27.—If the straws afloat in the diplomatic zephyrs tonight really show which way the wind is blowing, there is a well planned movement afoot to get Uncle Sam into the concert with Europe before the conclusion of the London naval conference. Trial balloons are being released in various quarters to test the attitude of the American delegation toward adherence by the United States to some sort of a European security pact.

One published report of inspired character even went so far as to say that the American delegation already has signified the readiness of the United States to enter a Mediterranean pact, similar to the four power Pacific pact, which provides for consultation of the signatory powers on any disturbance or threat of disturbance of the peace of the region.

Rumor Stirs Excitement.

The rumor produced more excitement in and about the conference than any development since the delegations of the five naval powers reached the scene. It loosed a flood of speculation, particularly because it is known that Premier Tardieu of France is pressing for a Mediterranean security pact and is flirting with American Secretary of State Stimson for American support of the proposition.

It is also known that Mr. Stimson has been cultivating the French delegation assiduously for the purpose of disarming the suspicion of Paris that France is up against an Anglo-American combine in this conference as a result of the MacDonald-Hoover conversations on the Rapidan river. Mr. Stimson also is seeking French support of the American desire for consideration of cruiser limitation by the conference before the problem of battleships is taken up.

U. S. Spokesman Avoids Comment.

Not the least interesting aspect of the matter was the attitude of the official spokesman of the American delegation when the published report was brought to his attention. He carefully refrained from denying its accuracy and contented himself with stating that the question of a Mediterranean pact had not been brought up for discussion so far.

Despite this cautious sidestepping there is no reason to believe that the Hoover administration has any intention of attempting to put America into a Mediterranean security pact. There would be precious little chance of getting through the senate a treaty involving the United States in any sort of an undertaking to underwrite the peace of the Mediterranean region, which, with the inflammatory Mussolini at large, bids fair to succeed the Balkans as the powder magazine of Europe.

Even Great Britain has turned a cold, fishy eye upon Premier Tardieu's Mediterranean security scheme. That Uncle Sam will go in where John Bull fears to tread is improbable.

Would Guarantee Peace.

What is worthy of more serious consideration is the proposal for a pact among the powers represented at this conference similar to the Pacific treaty, which is being discussed by the British press. Under the terms of this proposition the United States and other naval powers would agree to consult on any disturbance of peace and consider concerted measures for dealing with any aggression on any of them.

This is in line with what the MacDonald government has been contending for in seeking to bring the United States into arrangements for joint action against a violator of the Kellogg anti-war pact. The Hoover administration has not disclosed its attitude towards this proposition. It has not gone farther than to join the MacDonald government in a declaration which Mr. Stimson characterized as a "moral alliance" of America and Great Britain to preserve peace.

Perils Monroe Doctrine.

Presumably, sooner or later some sort of a security pact is going to bob up in this conference, France having served notice that it cannot consent to a naval reduction without security pledges.

It is entirely possible that the adherence of the United States to a five power security pact will be put up to President Hoover as the price for getting a naval reduction agreement. It is worthy of note that a five power pact would bring America indirectly into an agreement covering the Mediterranean and open the way for European intervention in the Caribbean region, in defiance of the Monroe Doctrine, in event of a disturbance of the peace in that quarter.

Night Club Queen Free

MRS. KATE MEYRICK.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—London's "Texas Guinan," Mrs. Kate Meyrick, the "night club queen," was released from Holloway jail this morning after serving one year of a 15 months' sentence for bribing a police officer in connection with certain irregularities at her West End club.

She was met at the prison gates by her two daughters, one of whom married the Earl of Kinnoul and the other Lord de Clifford. Her son and a number of west end night resort habitues formed part of the crowd welcoming her release. Many of them were still in evening dress, having come straight from night clubs.

The occasion was celebrated with a champagne breakfast given by Mrs. Meyrich's friends and the members of the club of which she is proprietress.

HALE RESIGNS AS MAYOR TO AWAIT APPEAL

Raleigh P. Hale, mayor of East Chicago, who was convicted ten days ago of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws, resigned from office yesterday at a special meeting of the city council which he had called. Dr. Thomas W. O'Connor, whom Hale appointed city controller when he took office on Jan. 6, becomes mayor automatically.

Rumors were circulated in East Chicago yesterday that the council was planning to impeach Hale at its regular meeting last night, but the mayor forestalled such action by calling a special meeting after a conference with George Stoddard, president of the council. In his statement to the council, Hale reiterated his innocence of the charge on which he was convicted, pointing to his reëlection last November by a large majority, in spite of his indictment, as a demonstration of the public's faith in him. He declared that he has a legal right to continue in office until his appeal is disposed of, but had decided to resign to prevent criticism.

Hale was convicted with Chief of Police James Regan and thirteen others indicted with them. They are to be sentenced on Feb. 15.

U. S. Attorney Oliver Loomis and Emmett Hall, United States marshal, left South Bend last night for Washington, where they will confer with Attorney General Mitchell on the investigation of liquor and vice in northern Indiana.

GENERAL DAWES "LISTENS IN" ON FRENCH MEETING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 27.—American Ambassador Dawes was an interested listener tonight at the press conference with the French delegation when Premier Tardieu outlined the results of today's proceedings to the Paris journalists.

The ambassador arrived at the Carlton hotel to confer with the premier just as the newspaper men were admitted. Reposing his silk hat on the tile mantelpiece, the American envoy heard the rapid fire of questions which the writers hurled at the French premier in French and Premier Tardieu's rapid replies.

Ambassador Dawes shook his head gloomily when an American reporter asked why the United States delegation had not received the press similarly.

RUSSIA BLAMES U. S. AS MEXICAN LEGATION LEAVES

MOSCOW, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Fernando Matti, Mexican chargé d'affaires, and two other members of the Mexican legation staff today prepared to leave soviet territory following the recent rupture of relations between Mexico and Russia.

The newspaper Izvestia hinted this morning that Washington had prompted the action of Mexico City in requesting the Russian minister there to leave and in withdrawing Mexican diplomatic agents from Moscow.

Declaring that the rupture will not in any way retard development of the soviet union in the sphere of its foreign relations, the newspaper insists that the activities of a few foreign communists in front of Mexican legations abroad furnish only a flimsy excuse for breaking off relations that have existed since 1924.

16 PERISH AS GALE WHIPS SEAS OFF SPAIN, PORTUGAL

MADRID, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Eleven fishermen perished when the boat Maria Carmen foundered off Vigo in the gale which has lashed the Atlantic seaboard for three days. The bodies of two of the crew of the Norwegian steamer Ashlang, which sank about two weeks ago, were washed ashore at Bayona.

The captain and first officer were washed overboard from the Spanish steamer Lolin when a huge wave struck the vessel off Oporto, Portugal, according to a radio report to the owners here.

Three men were blown overboard from the Italian freighter Dottor Paolo and two were washed overboard from the Spanish steamer Else off the coast of Portugal.

FUGITIVE IS CAPTURED.

Logansport, Ind., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Arthur Spillman, 25, fugitive from justice since last October, was arrested here today. He is alleged to have been the companion of James Stinson, 28, in an attempted holdup of Harry Brown, village storekeeper, when Brown shot and killed Stinson Oct. 26, 1929.

VOTE $30,000 FOR WORK ON SUBWAY PLANS

Action on Transit Fund Draws Protest.

An expenditure of $30,000 from the traction fund for the preparation of actual plans and specifications for a State street subway was ordered yesterday by the unanimous vote of the council local transportation committee. The specifications will be written into an ordinance for the construction of the subway by special assessment with property owners sharing the cost with the city.

The order was contested by Ald. Arthur Albert [43d], who is not a member of the committee, on the grounds that the city already has spent $2,500,000 for subway and transit plans which have never been used. Albert pointed to the statement of Maj. R. F. Kelker Jr., committee engineer, that the cost of the specifications will total $100,000 before completion.

"Under the law plans for special assessment improvements should be prepared by the board of local improvements," said Ald. Albert. "The employés of the board are not busy as little special assessment work is being done so if it is a question of incompetence the city's regular lawyers and engineers should be fired.

"What can Kelker and Mason (George Mason, special assessment attorney hired by the committee) do that the employes of the board and the law department cannot do? If the aldermen do not trust the board of local improvements I'll give them a chance to bring out that fact."

Maj. Kelker replied that the committee's engineers and attorneys could bring a "wealth of experience" that employes of the board do not possess. He declared that if Michael J. Faherty, president of the board, made the plans the council could not alter them legally. With the committee's engineers drawing them the council can inject its ideas, he said.

Says Committee Does Not Exist.

Charges that the committee of bankers, appointed by Samuel Insull to draft the financial provisions of the traction settlement ordinance, has no real existence were made by John Maynard Harlan, attorney for an eastern group seeking a franchise.

"It was true a few days ago, and I think it is true now," said Mr. Harlan, "that the committee of bankers selected by Insull, which he said would be able to report soon, does not exist. A. W. Harris (president of the Harris Trust and Savings bank) has never accepted his appointment and I believe that the committee would have difficulty in showing that it has ever met."

"Why do you think Harris hasn't accepted?" asked Ald. James B. Bowler (25th), chairman of the subcommittee in charge of drafting the settlement ordinance.

Chairman of Creditors.

"If I were acting as his attorney I would have advised him not to for the following reasons," replied Attorney Harlan. "He is chairman of the protective committee of the first mortgage bondholders of the Chicago Surface lines and his first duty is to them. If he accepted the appointment and signed his name to a committee report the action might hamper his efforts in behalf of the bondholders."

Attorney Harlan broke into the discussion as the committee was considering the plea of Ald. Guy Guernsey [6th] to set March 15 or April 1 as the date on which franchise contenders should submit transit ordinances. Objections to Guernsey's plan was offered by Ald. Bowler and Jacob M. Arvey [24th] as the subcommittee is working on an ordinance draft with the surface and elevated lines.

"We have been having negotiations and they will continue interminably," retorted Ald. Guernsey. "

Further consideration of the proposal was shelved for three weeks to determine if any progress can be made. Guernsey's plan for a subway in solid rock 125 feet below street level was turned over to the committee engineers for study.

CODE OF ETHICS PUTS BARBERS ON HIGHER PLANE

That air of refinement noticeable in Chicago's barber shops yesterday was the first step in the elevation of chirotonsic practice from a trade to one of the learned professions, and was brought about by the display, for the first time, of the barber's new code of ethics. The code, which is part of "the education of the members of the profession in the higher reaches of the industry," was adopted by the Associated Master Barbers of America at St. Paul and released to Chicago barbers yesterday.

The pronouncement recognizes the responsibility of the barber to his patrons, or clients, and lists seven articles of the tonsorial creed. The code calls for [1] "scrupulous adherence to all sanitary precautions" to protect the patron against infection; [2] courteous and conscientious treatment of every patron, even if he desires only a shave; [3] "the same attention whether you tip or not"; [4] honesty in the sale of undiluted preparations; [5] the right to suggest treatment to patrons without being offensive or insistent; [6] the use of hair tonics as "aids to the preservation and beautification of the hair" and not as "baldness cures"; and [7] the assumption of these responsibilities to the patron by owner and employé alike.

LAKE CO., INDIANA, BOARD IGNORES STATE SUMMONS

The county board of Lake county, Indiana, yesterday voted to ignore the demand of Lawrence F. Orr, chief examiner of the state board of accounts, that the commissioners appear before him on Jan. 31 to explain excess profits of $175,000 alleged to have been found in county contracts.

In deciding on their refusal to appear before the examiner, the commissioners stated that Orr already has been advised fully of the nature of the contracts by the reports of his agents and that they could add nothing to the knowledge he has now. The state board claims that the excess profits were found in contracts awarded by the commissioners to the Tuf-Tread Road service of Chicago. The contracts totaled a little more than $300,000.

Following the county board's action yesterday, H. S. Norton, president of the Gary Commercial club, and Frank O. Hodgson, president of the chamber of commerce, called a meeting of civic leaders of the county for Thursday night at Gary to discuss the case. Only two of the commissioners, William Linton and Joseph Black, were members of the board when the contracts were awarded. The third, William Fulton, was elected after the contracts were let, but he voted with the other two to ignore Orr's request.

STORE MANAGER ROBBED.

Albert Hagberg, manager of a grocery at 224 East 47th street, was robbed of $55 yesterday by a Negro who locked him in a rear room of the store.

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Avoid the snags along the common-sense path to fitness and fashion. Don't let over-indulgence deprive you of the tantalizing contour of the modern figure. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately—when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the graceful, modern figure with its captivating curves.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

"It's toasted"

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

SISTER SUES TO SET ASIDE WILL OF MILLIONAIRE

Charges Widow "Aided" in Four Deaths.

Strange statements were made in a suit discovered to have been filed in the Superior court last Friday which seeks to set aside the will of John B. Murphy, vice president of the Kohler company of Kohler, Wis., of which Gov. Walter Kohler of Wisconsin is president. A half sister of Murphy, who was 74 years old when he died on Nov. 12, 1928, of cancer of the neck, seeks to have the estate, which her lawyers estimate at $1,000,000, taken from the widow, Mrs. Mary Warthin Dunne Murphy, who lives at 4244 Hazel avenue.

The petitioner, Mrs. Sarah Carroll, is 87 years old and lives with her married daughter, Mrs. Sylvester Sullivan, at 1208 44th street, Milwaukee. Her attorneys of record are County Commissioner Harry Newby and former Assistant State's Attorney John K. Murphy.

Charges Wrongful Acts.

In effect, Mrs. Carroll's petition sets forth that the widow "caused or aided by wrongful and skillful acts" the deaths of Murphy, his first wife, Mrs. Rose Murphy, who died June 3, 1922; of his son, John B. Jr., who died Dec. 29, 1917, in Wisconsin at the age of 32 from acute dilation of the heart, and of his only other child, Halet Murphy, who was 34 years of age when he died in a sanitarium in Niles, Mich., June 11, 1927.

Attorney G. D. Gray of the firm of Newby & Murphy sought to explain the "wrongful and skillful acts" by saying that the widow, who is the sole beneficiary of Murphy's will, lived in the Murphy home before the death of Murphy's first wife. The word "skillful," used in connection with each of the four deaths, did not mean that she used any skill in bringing about their deaths, he stated.

Tell of Suspicions.

The bill filed in court said the relatives—there would be 17 heirs-at-law if the will should be set aside—heard rumors that John B. Murphy Jr. was killed by a gunshot wound, due to the act of a woman. They had some suspicion that the cancer of the neck which caused the death of the aged manufacturer was the result of a blow struck by the second wife.

Miss Mary Lillian Kent, who was Mr. Murphy's secretary for many years prior to his death, was one of the witnesses. She dismissed as absurd the statements emanating from the half sister. Attorney Amos W. Martin of 105 West Madison street was the other witness. He, too, said the suit was ridiculous. Murphy was a "bull headed old business man who always knew what he was doing," and there never was any suspicion of wrong concerning the deaths of the first Mrs. Murphy and the two sons.

Murphy married Mrs. Dunne on June 9, 1923, one year after the death of his first wife, the attorney said, and the will was drawn on March 6, 1925.

The widow, at her home yesterday, referred questioners to her lawyer, Silas Strawn. At her home it was said she had refused to make a settlement of the suit for $100,000.

JURY CONTINUES TO HEAR FUTILE O'BRIEN TRIAL

But "High Pockets" Enjoys Liberty.

Twelve citizens, comprising a jury, have been sitting in Judge John P. McGoorty's Criminal court watching Assistant State's Attorney Henry Ayers prosecute a charge against James N. [High Pockets] O'Brien, alleged head of the one time $1,000,000 slot machine syndicate.

The prosecutor, the judge and every one connected with the case admits that no legal evidence is available to convict O'Brien, but the jurymen are locked up each night. The defendant, O'Brien, is not restricted in his movements, being out on bail, but the jurymen are locked up under the watchful eyes of two bailiffs.

Trial Lasts Week.

The only other person locked up or discommoded is David C. Rockola, "crown prince" of the syndicate, who refused to testify and was given a second six months sentence for contempt of court.

The jurors hope to be free again today because Prosecutor Ayers is expected to finish up his closing argument and give the case to the jury. The trial has been going on for one week, tying up one Criminal court completely.

Admits Lack of Evidence.

The prosecutor made his admission of the lack of legal evidence several days ago after Rockola refused to testify. At that time he offered to end the case by entering an order of nolle prosse. The defense, however, refused to accept this offer because of the possibility of a reindictment at some later day. Attorneys Michael Ahern and Timothy Fell insisted that a not guilty verdict be returned by the jury.

Judge McGoorty has stated that the prosecution has no case and that if a guilty verdict was returned by the jury he would be forced to grant a new trial. The judge, however, under Supreme court rulings, has no power to direct a verdict. But Prosecutor Ayers is presenting evidence and making arguments such as take place in a regular trial. He will not tell the jury that he has no legal evidence.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Family Overcome by Gas Saved by Inhalator Squad

Walter Lozek, 37 years old, his wife, Catherine, 32 years old, and their children, Frank, 13, and Eloise, 5 years old, were recovering in the county hospital last night from the effects of coal gas, generated by a heater, which overcame them yesterday afternoon in their flat at 1376 Walton street. A neighbor, finding the family unconscious, summoned firemen. The family was revived and taken to the hospital by inhalator squad 2.

ABATEMENT LAW THROTTLING VICE, REPORT REVEALS

342 Dens Shut, Committee of 15 Is Told.

Chief Justice Frederic R. De Young of the Illinois Supreme court yesterday commended the injunction and abatement law passed in 1915 through the efforts of the Committee of Fifteen, in a luncheon address before that organization at the Hotel La Salle. Judge De Young asserted the law had been the chief weapon in the fight against commercialized prostitution, and had the satisfaction of hearing his sentiment upheld by a report made by Charles E. Miner, general director of the Committee of Fifteen.

Under the injunction and abatement law, which provides that properties in which brothels are found to be operating may be closed for one year, 342 houses of prostitution were closed in Chicago, Mr. Miner's report said. They were situated in 13 of 20 districts into which the city was divided for investigation and action

Districts Not Affected.

The remaining seven districts, apparently still free from the evil, are Woodlawn, Garfield park, West Englewood, Beverly Hills, south shore and Rogers Park,

Commercialized vice is gradually moving away from the loop district, the report further stated, and is encroaching on residence districts.

Areas in which a preponderance of resorts were closed are the lower north side, near west side, Lake View, Douglas and Grand boulevard.

Vice "Zones" Vanishing.

"There is evidence that in many cities throughout the United States," Justice De Young said, "more or less tacit acceptance was accorded the grouping of prostitution into given or understood areas. The almost total disappearance of these areas, which is reported by sociologists, has been accomplished by the enforcement of legislation already existing rather than through enactment of new laws.

"This development, providing a marked change in the observable volume of commercial prostitution brought about by the direct influence of unofficial agencies such as the Committee of Fifteen, is an indication of its usefulness."

AUBURN PRISONERS TRIED FOR MURDER UNDER BIG GUARD

Auburn, N. Y., Jan. 27.—(AP)—Handcuffed to guards, six Auburn convicts today went on trial here jointly on charges of first degree murder, in the killing of Henry Sullivan, another convict, called the "chief devil" of the prison riot of Dec. 11 last year.

Those standing trial are Leo Lewis, Oneida county; William Force, Oneida county; Claude Udwine, Albert Cassidy and Frank Leagan, Erie county, and Jesse Thomas, Cortland county.

Proceedings to select a jury began promptly after Supreme Court Justice J. B. Cunningham, presiding, denied a motion for separate trials.

The convicts were brought to the courtroom under elaborate precautions. Twenty-four guards and state troopers accompanied them. When the convicts stepped from the prison entrance toward the three cars awaiting the party, wall guards with guns ready for any eventuality stood looking down. Auburn city police stood guard along the route.

Max Becker, Brooklyn gunman rioter, indicted for the murder of Principal Keeper George A. Durnford during the December unheaval, will have a separate trial. He is seeking a change of venue, contending that it is impossible for him to receive a fair trial in Cayuga county.

ANGRY FILIPINOS ISSUE MANIFESTO ON DEATH IN U. S.

MANILA, Jan. 27.—(AP)—A strong manifesto protesting the death of Fermin Tobera, Filipino, during the race riots at Watsonville, Cal., was adopted at a meeting tonight of leading educators, legislators, and labor leaders. The manifesto urged "a national discipline and personal sacrifice on the part of each and every Filipino at this time of national humiliation."

Services for Tobera were set for Feb. 2 in the Manila Public plaza. It was expected the entire city would turn out as a "peaceful protest."

The manifesto also called the Philippines' attention to thousands of their countrymen in America whose "lives at this very moment are in serious jeopardy. Let us attempt to reiterate the desire for complete separation, now that under the American flag we are not assured that we can enjoy the same rights and opportunities of American citizens. Let the demonstration also express our good will toward the American nation as a whole."

Irish Farmers Riot After Council Accepts Library

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Farmers of Leitrim county showed hostility after the county council today decided to accept the offer of the Carnegie trust of $4,800 towards establishment of a public library. Leaders said the people were in such a state of destitution and misery in Leitrim that literature was not troubling them. There were exciting scenes in the streets of Carrick-on-Shannon and a crowd of farmers threatened violence to some of the councilors.

DENEEN SLATE PARLEY YIELDS ONLY 10 NAMES

Announces Choice for the County Board.

BY PARKE BROWN.

United States Senator Deneen boarded an 8:30 train last night for Washington. Until within an hour of that time he was closeted with the slate makers of his county group. In fact, he had been with them hour after hour and day after day for about a week. At last he was compelled to call a halt and leave to resume his duties at the capital.

But the only announcement of his local slate at this juncture was the list of ten Deneen candidates for the county board from the city. There was no statement concerning the offices of sheriff, county judge, county clerk, assessor, reviewer, Probate judge, clerk of the Criminal court, clerk of the Probate court, or county treasurer.

See Slate Making Trouble.

So far as the public was informed, secret session after secret session had been devoted to working out a slate for the whole list of places open at the primary on April 8. The date for filing petitions for local offices is next Monday. Consequently, there was a general conclusion that if the Deneen labors had brought forth nothing more than a list of ten candidates for county commissionership, the senator's group is having as much trouble as any other this year in its slate making.

Over on the Democratic side of the fence more progress was reported, although skeptics were inclined to think that some of the slating in that camp consists of jockeying for strategical purposes which possibly will not be binding upon future conferences. The leaders here made several shifts in their lineup for their primary, the chief of which was a definite decision to list Ald. William D. Meyering, D. S. C., for the post of sheriff.

Ticket Not Surprise.

The Deneen county board ticket contained no startling surprise. Ald. Arthur F. Albert, as predicted some time ago, was put on the ticket for president of the board. The others listed with him were the following, including one woman and one Negro:

Paul Schulze, 2305 Commonwealth avenue; president Paul Schulze Biscuit company.

Edward J. Stevens, attorney; resides at the South Shore Country club, of which he is president; born at Janesville, Wis.; graduate of Harvard.

Charles Bostrom, 5254 Wayne avenue; building commissioner under previous Thompson administration; now aligned with Lundin; born in Sweden, 1872.

Charles F. Axelson, 5457 Hyde Park boulevard; insurance man; president of Fifth Ward (R. O. West's) National Republican club; trustee of University of Chicago and Rush medical college; born at Princeton, Ill., 1881.

Max Hensel, 4758 Archer avenue, contracting and real estate; president Polish National alliance.

Harry A. Newby, county commissioner, resides at Edgewater Beach hotel; attorney; formerly allied with Brundage group and later with Crowe-Galpin group; graduate of University of Chicago; born Charleston, Ill., 1885.

Mrs. Helen G. Mehrle, 4444 Magnolia avenue; social service department (Chief Clerk Kearns' office) of Court of Domestic Relations for last six years; born at Osage, Kas.; former director of physical education.

The Rev. William S. Braddan, pastor of Berean (Negro) Baptist church; major and chaplain of 8th Illinois infantry; candidate for county commissioner in 1926.

Frank P. Murphy, real estate; Deneen leader of 41st ward; born in Livingston county, Ill.; former chief clerk of Torrens department.

The same announcement from Deneen headquarters said that Charles M. Moderwell, already announced as a candidate for sanitary trustee, is to be named for the L. F. King two year vacancy and Ayres Boal for the four year Henry A. Berger vacancy.

Other Democratic slatings in addition to that of Meyering included Edward J. Hughes for the board of review, Sheriff John E. Traeger and Ald. John Toman for the board of assessors, Judge Frank M. Padden for chief justice of the Municipal court, Joseph L. Gill for chief clerk of that court, and Ald. A. J. Horan for its bailiff.

The candidates for the drainage board tentatively selected were former Judge Joseph S. La Buy, Ald. Thomas Byrne, Ald. Thomas J. Bowler, Ald. Dennis J. Horan, and John Buddinger. The candidate for clerk of the Criminal court is Walter W. L. Meyer.

A. J. Fertig, chairman of the press committee of the group that is pressing former Congressman Walter A. Rodenberg to run for the Republican nomination of United States senator, said last night that he is convinced Rodenberg will become a candidate.

"I talked to him over the phone at Washington," said Fertig, "and he said that if the voters are for his principles he will make the race. He stands against the world court, for modification of the prohibition laws, and revision of the immigration act."

George Edmund Foss, former congressman from the 10th Illinois district, has announced his candidacy for congressman-at-large. In his statement he emphasized his twenty-two years of service at Washington, during eleven of which he was chairman of the committee on naval affairs.

NEW LINCOLN PARK CHIEF CUTS $20,000 OFF MONTHLY PAYROLL

Warren Wright, new president of the Lincoln park board, yesterday announced that he had effected a saving of $20,000 in the park district's monthly pay roll. Several hundred employés have been discharged under the direction of President Wright, who was appointed by Gov. Emmerson three weeks ago.

"The employés dropped were mainly minor clerks and laborers," Mr. Wright said. "There will be further reductions from time to time as conditions warrant.

"When I accepted the presidency of the park board I told Gov. Emmerson that I would give him a businesslike administration. I am trying to conduct the affairs of the park the same as I do my own business."

FLYERS REPORT OMINOUS QUIET IN FLOOD REGION

Inactivity About Homes Hints Famine Death.

Vincennes, Ind., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—With definite information from marooned spots still lacking, fear is expressed that some of the flood victims in farmhouses along the White and Wabash rivers have starved to death. Urgent appeals for help for those isolated continue to come from Red Cross officials and United States army and state militia flyers who are coöperating to relieve conditions in southern Indiana and western Illinois.

Maj. R. F. Taylor, commanding officer of the National Guard air squadron, who has been patrolling the district around Hazleton, told today of flying over one home Friday where a boy came out and waved. Saturday he circled the place and the boy came out, though walking feebly. Today he again flew over the home and no one appeared. Taylor is certain the boy is either seriously ill or dead.

Jams Still a Peril.

Capt. Earl W. Sweeney, executive in charge of operations, relates similar tales regarding the territory near the mouth of the Little Wabash below Mount Vernon. Between Mount Vernon and Shawneetown the territory is threatened today with disaster because an ice jam at the mouth of the Little Wabash had caused the water to rise to its highest level there today.

Aviators say conditions in this area are appalling, with more than 500 persons unable to communicate with the outside world from waterbound homes. There is a general lack of smoke appearing from these homes.

Lieut D. D. Watson, who flew with Sweeney, saw one home below Mount Vernon on the Illinois side of the Wabash where ten or fifteen women and children were isolated and no men to be seen.

Relief work in Knox and adjoining counties continued by air today, and most of the families hemmed in by water and ice near there have now been reached, workers said.

Wade Ice to Get Help.

Planes from Vincennes today dropped supplies to forty families suffering from lack of food and fuel near the White river, of whose plight nothing was known until a man and his son worked their way through ice fields to bring word. White river today was within its banks at Petersburg and farmers were moving back into their river bottom homes. In some houses three to five inches of ice covered the floors.

State road 50 between Washington and Wheatland probably will be opened to traffic tomorrow.

IDENTIFY DEAD MAN AS KILLER.

Merrill McMann, 32 years old, 1623 South 48th court, Cicero, who was shot dead on Saturday night by Charles Borowiak, 2821 South 49th court, Cicero, was identified yes-Joseph Kroupa in Kroupa's meat market at terday as the bandit who shot and killed 4339 22d street on Jan. 17.

TWO MEN KILLED WHEN PASSENGER TRAIN HITS AUTO

Two men were killed and three others were injured, two probably fatally, when their automobile was struck yesterday by a west bound New York Central passenger train at Mishawaka, Ind. The car was lifted as high as the engine by the impact and hurled fifty feet into a gully.

Ernest Miller, 20 years old, and Paul Sherrard, 24 years old, were killed. Miller's brother, Arthur, 24 years old, and Ernest Young, 20, were seriously injured. The fifth, Thomas Propes, 25, driver of the car, escaped with minor injuries. All the men were from South Bend and were on their way to find work at the Major Packing company in Mishawaka. Propes is said to have disregarded warning signals and signaling of the crossing watchman.

Edward Jergens, 60 years old, of Crown Point, Ind., died of injuries incurred in Gary Saturday, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Basil Arnott of Rensselaer, Ind. Arnott was exonerated by a coroner's jury.

One death yesterday raised the Cook county motor toll for 1930 to 46. The victim:

Mrs. Alice Caldwell, 55 years old, colored, of 5540 Prairie avenue, was instantly killed and her 5 year old grandson, Chauncey Earhart, escaped with slight injuries when a Yellow cab driven by Amos Slagle, 1532 South Oakley avenue, struck them at 39th street and South Park way. Police held the accident unavoidable and released Slagle.

Pantages Allowed Month to File Briefs in Appeal

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—First steps in Alexander Pantages' appeal to set aside the recent conviction for rape were taken today when his attorneys were allowed by the California Appellate court until Feb. 25 to submit complete briefs. Another month will be allowed for briefs by the district attorney and rebuttal briefs in Pantages' behalf. Meanwhile Pantages remains in county jail, bail having been disallowed.

CALL ELECTIONS ON ANNEXATION FOR LAKE BLUFF

Special elections on the question of annexing Lake Bluff to Lake Forest were called yesterday by County Judge Perry L. Persons, of Lake county, on petitions of 331 residents of Lake Bluff. Lake Forest will vote on the issue on April 8, and Lake Bluff on April 15 at their regular municipal elections.

The question of annexation has been discussed in Lake Bluff for ten years but has never been voted upon. Proponents contend that the village will gain in better municipal services and a general increase in property values, while opponents argue that Lake Bluff will lose its identity. Lake Forest has a population of about 6,000, while Lake Bluff has 2,000.

Among the prominent residents of Lake Bluff who signed the petition were Stanley Field, Scott Durand, Philip D. Armour, William McCormick Blair, and De Forest Hulburd.

TRUE STORY MAGAZINE

VOLUME II. TUESDAY, JANUARY 28, 1930 No. 2

A Stone-Mason on the Parthenon

A STONE-MASON on the Parthenon, looking over at a fellow-worker said,

«Πάντες μὲν, ὦ Συμεὼν, σφόδρα γλιχόμενοι φαίνονται τοῦ εἰς τὰς Συρακούσας ἀποπλεῦσαι. ’Εμοὶ δ’ οὖν δοκεῖ ἐνταυθὶ μένοντι τῆς οὐσίας φείδεσθαι μή ποτε εἰς ἀπορίαν ἀναγκαίων καταστῶ.»

Which, roughly translated for those of us who have been stripped of our Greek clear down to our alphabet, meant:

"Well, Simeon, everybody seems crazy about this new move to Syracuse, but I think I'll just stay here and save my money for a rainy day."

And Simeon said, "Yeh, I think so, too," and strolled over to the levers to heave another column into place.

* * * *

It is high time we begin to understand the significant part that the masses have played throughout every civilization in holding together the things that are, while the changes that are going to be are taking place.

Had those two stone-masons and all their fellows been caught up in the fervor of the great exodus to Syracuse, the city of Athens would have been covered with grass and the culture of a whole civilization would have been lost.

* * * *

It is always the masses who are re-affirming the virtues that are, until the virtues that are going to be have had time to change.

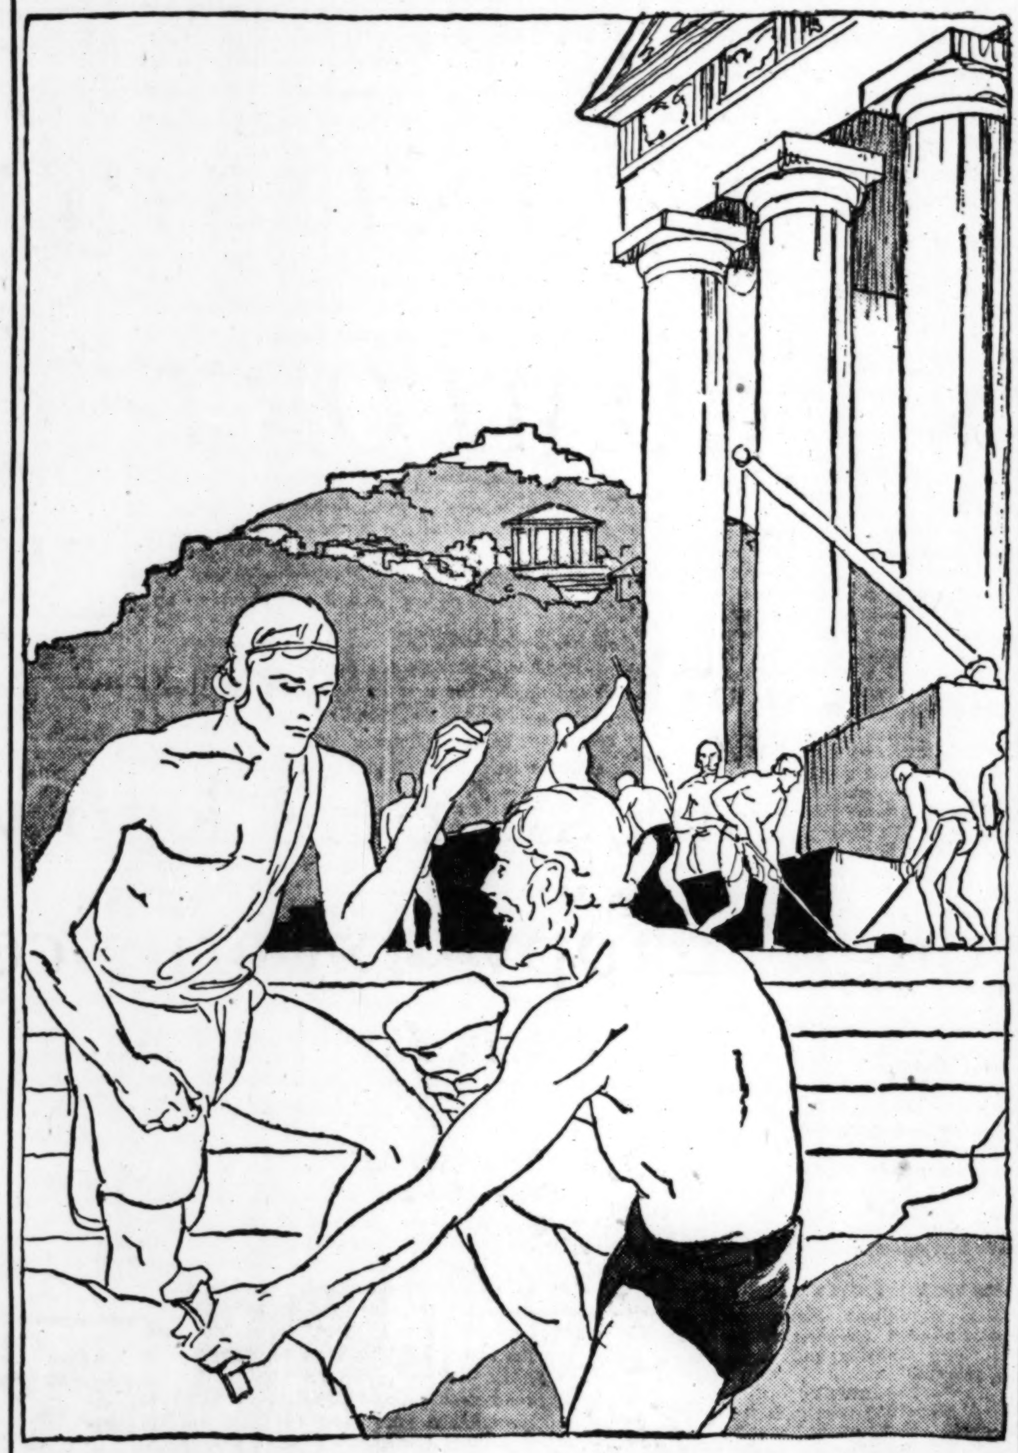
Nor do we need to go back three thousand years to an old civilization for our illustration.

We only need to go back three months in our own civilization for an almost perfect parallel.

In the latter part of last October, we went through a stock market panic which shook the nation. It seemed as if everybody in America were in that market up to his neck when the crash came.

* * * *

But everybody wasn't in that market by a long shot. There were TWENTY-EIGHT BILLION DOLLARS OF WORKING PEOPLE'S SAVINGS THAT STAYED IN THE SAVINGS BANKS WHERE THEY BELONGED. And that is why those of us who were in that market then can feel our businesses being strengthened by this great back log of ready money now.



The great masses of America's wage earners, the Georges and Jims and Harrys, swinging from girders and laying bricks and stoking furnaces and guiding lathes, were saying to one another, just as those Georges and Jims were saying at the Parthenon, "Better not join this new speculative exodus to Syracuse. Better let the old pile pile up, so that we can use it for the good things we need and are able to buy." That is why you are planning "business as usual" in 1930.

* * * *

And let us have no misunderstanding of the value of the re-affirmation of that old virtue by our new masses. If the great masses of America's wage earners had really been in that market, if the great aggregate of Georges and Jims and Harrys had been caught up by that great speculative craze and had withdrawn those twenty-eight billion dollars in savings accounts, the whole banking institution of America would have been in difficulties or worse, the entire manufacturing set-up of America would have been wrecked, and we wouldn't have gotten over that speculative panic for 50 years.

Now where does True Story Magazine come into this picture? What part does it play?

To begin with, we know here at True Story, as no one else could possibly know, the tremendous part that the masses play as a stabilizing influence during these times of rapid change and social unrest.

* * * *

Remember we are dealing with more than two million of these wage earning families. They are not only our subscribers, they are our contributors. They not only read True Story—they write it.

We have taken cross-sections of it in every part of America. We know them personally by the hundreds of thousands—who they are, where they are, what they do, and how they live.

* * * *

And in their manuscripts we see them re-affirming their old virtues again and again as all these modern, rapid changes press down upon them. Re-affirming the virtue of savings in these times when expenditure runs riot, re-affirming the virtue of chastity during these great social changes that are going on, re-affirming the values of the family while innumerable forces are tending to break up the family or bring about a re-adjustment of it on a new plane.

* * * *

And, knowing the value of the masses as a stabilizing influence in all times of rapid change, here at True Story we constantly foster that re-affirmation with an intelligent and historical knowledge of what we are about.

JAMES H. RAND Jr. Has Said:

"When the economic history of the twentieth century is written for the schoolboys of a future generation, I suspect that a large chapter will be headed, The Economic Revolution of the 1920's. It will appear as vital as the Industrial Revolution which came in England several generations earlier and it will likewise mark the beginning of a new era in the development of our commercial civilization.

"Wages have stayed up at post-war peak levels, prices have come down. The worker can buy the same living that he bought with his total 1920 income for just 60% of his present income. This leaves 40% for investment, for automobiles, for radios, for the 101 luxuries that add zest to the business of living."

WHY ISN'T THE KELLOGG TREATY ENOUGH?

Proponents of the league court urging that the United States enter it say that under the Root formula this country would remain free and unrestricted in its right to make decisions for itself; that if the United States accepted the court in principle it would strengthen the international judicial system and promote the cause of international law.

The Root formula endeavors to meet the American objection to advisory opinions given by the court to the league of nations. The senate reservations provided that no such opinion should be given in a case affecting the United States unless this country consented to ask for it. The other court nations refused to accept that condition. Mr. Root endeavored to find a way out by stipulating that if an advisory opinion were given when the United States objected this country would be at liberty to drop out. The senate reservation required the other nations to acknowledge that they could not ask for such an opinion if the United States did not join in asking for it. Under the new plan they do not give up the right. Regardless of American opinion or protest the court could give its opinion and the United States would have only what it would have in any event, the right to quit.

American objection to the league's court is not an objection to the arbitration of international disputes. That has always been a process favored in this country and used time and again. It has, however, been a process in each instance set in motion with a regard for the specific case to be submitted and the arbitrators have been selected with such a regard. In that way an attempt could be made to obtain judges whose national and personal remoteness from the issues involved would give the best promise of impartiality. With a fixed court that method is not available.

There is, moreover, no reason to believe that the court alone would satisfy American internationalists. One commitment leads to another and it is the intention of the league court people that this should be so. The embarrassments of these things are apparent. There is the occasional relief of comedy, but that does not compensate. There are now in London the delegates of five powers which have sworn on their honor never to use war against each other as a means of attaining an end and their present preoccupation is to make arrangements by which none will be the worse off if attacked by any other. This is a laughless comedy.

INCREASING FEDERAL POWER.

The pressure of organized prohibitionism for more power for the federal courts is as persistent as it is significant. The prohibitionist distrusts local sentiment which will reflect itself in jury trials, being chiefly interested in imposing his code upon communities which do not approve or accept it. He seeks therefore the maximum power in the central government and its officials. In the Volstead act he inserted the provisions for injunctions and contempt which permit imprisonment and fine without recourse to a jury. He favors any perfecting of the federal judicial machinery to avoid jury trial and therefore will approve the law enforcement commission's proposal for the use of commissioners for the trial of lesser offenses against the dry laws.

Strictly speaking, the commission's plan does not deprive defendants of their right to trial by jury, but it postpones that right and imposes upon the defendant the burden of a prolonged procedure. In most cases he will submit, and thus we have an indirect but quite effective restraint upon jury trial. If he does not submit to the finding against him by a commissioner without jury trial, which may impose a fine of $500 and a jail sentence of six months, the prosecuting attorney may then proceed to have him indicted by a grand jury and tried for felony. What was a mere misdemeanor has, by election of the official, become an "infamous crime."

To vest in an official a discretion to determine whether a particular act is a minor offense, a misdemeanor, or an "infamous crime," a felony, may not reveal the fact that we no longer have "a government of law and not of men," but that is how it looks to us. Bargains in justice of this sort are not novel, but they have not up to this time been given statutory sanction. They have been submitted to as an expedient of dubious and dangerous possibilities. That its adoption in the cause of mandatory teetotalism will diminish the disrespect for law which so disquiets the President seems to us unlikely.

At any rate the net result is a substantial enhancement of power of the federal judicial machinery in dry law enforcement. We think the American people do not want any increase of power in the central government or in the federal courts. Many people already question whether the latter are rendering justice to litigants or imposing judgments predetermined between the district attorney, marshal, and the court. It is one of the most deplorable consequences of the prohibition experiment that by imposing upon the federal agencies the duty of enforcing a standardized discipline or police measure upon the whole nation, regardless of community custom or condition, it has put these agencies in the light of tyrants. Up to this time the social peace and unity of the American nation have been conserved by a system of government adjusted to the variety of our social conditions, restricting federal powers to strictly federal concerns while leaving to the community freedom to express its own customs and social character.

LONDON AND CHICAGO.

Chicago's old friend London must be allowed to have all the fun it can get out of what is now happening in these parts. The Daily Telegraph, describing the magnificent completeness in which Chicago finds itself broke, says that such news could come from nowhere else and that "there is but one simple explanation of it—political graft." Concession is freely given that there are some sparkling accomplishments which make the newest English speaking metropolis remarkable to the oldest, but nevertheless "Chicago is universally regarded as a warning and a menace."

The late war waged by what was called a board of education here against the British crown has not been forgotten in London or in other parts of the empire. It wouldn't be forgotten anywhere very soon, although its perpetrators have tried to forget it, and the abject apologies offered Mr. McAndrew, in fear that the prank would have some costly consequences, were not extended to the British people. Hence whenever Chicago can be put upon the pan London may be expected to do it con amore. And fair enough.

London and Chicago both have their troubles. Philip Kinsley of The Tribune is writing of some of the English ones. The British may fancy theirs. Americans would prefer to live with their own rather than with the English. One comes from adolescence, the other from senescence. Both may be remedial. Here's wishing London luck. It will need it.

Here there are the consequences of a democracy politically groggy and punch drunk from hitting its own chin. It took more demagogy into its system than any electorate can absorb comfortably and consequently it got a government which no community successfully could sustain politically. The political failure is apparent. It's costly, but private initiative and enterprise have not been slowed down in their stride. Thus it happens that as Chicago presents itself in one aspect as a political failure it is all the time becoming for all its people a better place in which to live.

London, metropolis of an aristocratic caste system and a populace which is content with thin gruel of a political democracy, not a social one, becomes year by year a worse place for the average man. Its faults and its vices have been built into it by centuries of aristocratic indifference to the common lot. Its miseries are inherent in its ideas and fine minded Englishmen now look at the thing with dismay. They are not without hope, but what they see before them to do is far beyond any general will they can discover to do it. Chicago's predicament is the work of certain discreditable and discredited politicians against whose appearance from time to time in government the American system has not found reliable protections, but that system has not handed over great masses of humanity to apparently unescapable misfortune which comes with birth and ends only with death.

London is comfortable for the persons at the top. Its ordered processes are for their security and enjoyment. Its life is delightful for solvent, intelligent people, unless their sympathies make other people's wretchedness their own. Custom and usage, however, are protections against an emotional disturbance. Misery is too familiar to be unendurable to such as do not have to endure it themselves. London is for the Norman and that is why it is what it is.

Good luck to the Old Lady. There's more forlorn English spoken there than anywhere else in the world, but it probably will lift its people out of their despair some day. Only the bulldog breed could have survived what it has in London.

LIGHTHOUSE LIBRARIES.

The American Merchant Marine association has informed us of a deficiency in resources which prevents the circulation of books among the lightships and lighthouses on the Atlantic coast. This is regrettable because the loneliness of existence there would be vastly relieved if the companionship of books were available. The tenders are faithful, vigilant servants of the government, but their service is individually inconspicuous and they are not richly paid. We know that a donation to the association to provide for the extension of library service to lightships and lighthouses would be well advised charity.

CLEVELAND AND THE CITY MANAGER PLAN.

[Columbus (O.) Dispatch.]

Back of the whole movement toward the "city manager" method lay the conviction that American cities were suffering from the extravagance and inefficiency of machine politics and politicians. The modern city, it was believed, is a great business concern, having no vital relation to ordinary political party distinctions and requiring nothing in its government except the application of sound business principles.

It was just such a government that Cleveland was seeking after when her present charter was adopted, with its city manager provision. The charter itself, however, was not carefully enough drawn—or perhaps, as some would say, it was a little too carefully drawn. The machine politicians who had supposedly been booted out the front door soon found a key to a little postern gate, and have been roaming through the new structure more or less freely ever since.

Manager Hopkins had apparently been trying, the last year or two, to make it less freely rather than more freely and the city itself has now found out that there are really two city managers, one official and the other nonofficial, and that the nonofficial incumbent now has decidedly greater power over the city's management than the official. Manager Hopkins goes, at the orders of Nonofficial Manager Maschke, and how long his official successor shall remain will depend upon his adjustability to the nonofficial master's wishes.

There is just one court of appeals from that sort of political dictatorship, and that court holds its sessions in the voting booths. It evidently takes something more than a city managership to take machine politics out of city government.

How to Keep Well

WHAT POTT'S DISEASE IS.

T. WRITES: Please give us an article on Pott's disease.

REPLY: This disease was named for a surgeon who was just rounding into his profession in Great Britain 200 years ago. He must have been a great inventor, because we find ten diseases, or sets of symptoms, bearing his name when we consult Stedman's medical dictionary. Speaking more to the point, he must have been a close observer, with an ability to describe what he saw, both in writing and in the spoken word. He must have had a large practice and he must have been an aggressive, assertive personality.

When one speaks of Pott's disease without qualifications, it is almost certain he refers to tuberculosis of the spine. There must have been plenty of it in Pott's days. The records are full of stories of hunchbacks and cripples generally, and there was enough evidence of widespread tuberculosis of other kinds.

The bacillus which causes Pott's disease may be either the bovine or the human strain. The evidence is that the avian or bird strain is still practically harmless to human beings in America. What another generation may bring forth remains to be seen. It is probable that drinking raw milk from tuberculous cows is the most frequent direct cause. Injury to the backbone is usually a contributing factor.

Much the best general method of prevention is pasteurization. It is possible for farmers to pasteurize the milk their families use, and small town consumers of milk can be made safe. Pott's disease is without symptoms for a long time after it starts. The child may be listless and pale, and the thermometer may show a mild fever, but there are no special local symptoms. Then comes a pain or tenderness which, if noticed at all, is called rheumatism or growing pains, or which is charged to some hurt. Finally a little swelling is noticed, often accidentally. This swelling may be over the spine or near it, or, more frequently, it is some inches or a foot or more away. In many places this puffy, swelled place is located in the leg.

About this time there is enough pain to attract attention. It may be over some point on the backbone, but it may be elsewhere. It may feel like a band around the abdomen. This is a pain caused by pressure on nerves and it is felt in whatever regions the nerves run to. When the swelling is examined closely it is found to be a cold, burrowing abscess.

Pott's disease is the usual cause of hunchback and a frequent cause of other forms of deformity. As a rule it is curable, but deformity may be expected and relapses are frequent. Treatment consists of heliotherapy, the use of irradiated ergosterols and cod liver oil, open air life, rest in bed, fixture by casts, and building up resistance.

HAVE PHYSICIAN GIVE DIET.

C. S. B. writes: Please give treatment and diet for man 56 years old, with both diabetes and hardening of the arteries.

REPLY:

In all probability diabetes is the dominating disease. Hardening of the arteries is one of its most frequent complications. Dieting is of first importance in diabetes. It is of secondary importance in high blood pressure.

The diet in diabetes should be restricted as to starches and sugars. Let me advise you to have a physician direct you how to diet, giving you minute directions. Get a small book on diabetes to help you carry out directions.

IT WILL NOT AFFECT BABY.

L. G. B. writes: My sister-in-law is 7 months pregnant. Early one morning a mouse ran up her back and gave her a terrible fright. She screamed and put her hand to her face. Will this have any effect on the coming child?

REPLY:

It will not.

LOANED MONEY TO FRIEND.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A friend of ours borrowed money, giving us a note reading: "Judgment note, short form," payable on demand. A year will soon be up and it seems as though we shall not get our money. 1. Must they pay the interest when the year is up? 2. Does this note hold good for another year or, 3, must they give use a new one? 4. We were told the note was not valid unless recorded. Is this true? C. Z.

1. They must pay, as provided in the wording. 2. A note is not barred by lapse of time until 10 years. 3. You are in a position to insist that they do anything that you desire in the sense that if they do not you can take judgment. 4. This is not true. The judgment would make the note a lien on real estate but has nothing to do with the validity of the note.

MINOR GIVES FALSE AGE.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Can a minor be held to a contract signed by him when on the face of the contract he gave his age as 21?

2. If he used the mail in returning said contract could he be charged with using the mails to defraud? J. R. A.

1. No. 2. Prosecution would be extremely unlikely.

CAN'T TRACE WITHOUT CLEWS.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I was married in Chicago but have not seen my husband since the war and do not know his whereabouts. 1. How can I find out if he may have secured a divorce? 2. How could I secure a divorce with the least expense? B. G. A.

1. If you have no clew as to where he may have been, we can suggest no way of exhausting the possibility of his having secured a divorce.

2. Where it appears, after investigation, that a client is unable to pay an attorney and that a divorce is necessary for the proper protection of the family, the legal aid bureau of the United Charities sometimes takes such action, but there is no other agency through which one can avoid paying an attorney's fee. The mere fact that you have legal grounds and that the payment will involve some sacrifice for you will not suffice.

Anyhow, We're Getting Somewhere—in that congress after months of terrific oratory that at one exciting period of oratory set fire to the dome of the capitol has decided to keep shoes on the free list. That fills us full of joy and peaceful satisfaction. Shoes are of interest to every one. We all wear shoes, even the flappers. Of course the flappers wear thin little sandal affairs that can't help much in blizzard weather, but the less there is of a flapper's shoes and the thinner they are the more they cost. But we've all got to move our dogs around, no matter how much snow and ice there is on the ground, and congress, good old congress is taking care of us.

Shoes are on the free list. That doesn't mean that they cost any less at the store, but if you buy them in London or Paris you can bring them in free. What with farm relief, sugar, big packer hides, prohibition enforcement, and naval parity, we didn't think congress would have much time to do anything for the common people. But they've put shoes on the free list.

Of course, shoes were on the free list before, but it's comforting to know that after all the storm and excitement they're still there. After which we will go down and spend fourteen dollars for a pair of shoes that aren't as easy on the dogs as the good old three dollar kind used to be.

Anyhow, shoes are on the free list. Shoes are free! Gosh, there's something in that word free that makes us like to say it over. We may be all tied up in a lot of laws we don't like, but at least shoes are free. Yessir, there's some things in this country that's free! Shoes! Wish we were a shoe! We thank you. Signing off!

IN WINTER.

Yes, spring will come again. Full well I know
That e'en the longest winters sometime end;
That long-imprisoned brooks must some day rend
The ice that is their prison. Flowers will grow
Again, and bow to all the winds that blow
From out the south. I know all this, my friend,
But tell me—can a heart that's broken mend
Itself when spring comes 'round? Yes, dear? Or no?

And, wondering thus, I sit and watch for spring,
And dream a hundred futile dreams, and smile,
And tell myself the new spring months must bring Forgetfulness and peace. And all the while
I know that spring will never come to stay
In my poor heart now you are gone away. . . .

SCIENTISTS in Washington have invented an elaborate apparatus which they are going to try out this week in the hope that it will produce a degree of cold 463 degrees below zero. Pooh! BUT PUT IN SPINACH! THAT IS STILL OUR ONE BEST BET.

M. B. down at Nauvoo thinks our idea of putting spinach, cod liver oil, and bread pudding in industrial alcohol to keep people from drinking the stuff is all very well. But he doesn't think we go far enough. He says Washington has tried everything—wood alcohol, T. N. T., barbed wire, corrosive sublimate, and every poison known—and still people go after it, and he doubts if even spinach, bread pudding, and cod liver oil will help very much. "What you want to pour in that there now industrial alcohol is limburger cheese and sauerkraut." No; for some of us that would just be temptation. Of course the limburger would give the things Washington puts into industrial alcohol an awful battle. And it might lick all the other things and drive 'em out. Well, it's worth trying.

OLD PHIL KINSLEY, who has been exploring in darkest London, says he was a guest at a fashionable hotel for three weeks and no one spoke to him. We were in a fashionable London hotel once for three minutes and three people spoke genially, nay, cordially, to us. The first one was an American who had lost his letter of credit and wanted to borrow a couple of pounds until Saturday. The second one was an American who had lost his letter of credit and wanted to borrow a couple of pounds until Saturday. And the third—ah, you will say the third was an American who had lost his letter of credit and wanted to borrow a couple of pounds until Saturday. You are wrong! The third was an American who had lost his letter of credit and he wanted to borrow five pounds until Friday. Wish Phil would tell us the name of the hotel where nobody spoke to him for three weeks. Sounds like it might be a nice place to stop.

WHAT! IS THERE NO ALTERNATIVE? BUT, YES!

We were all set to go down to the Automobile Show and pick out a car when our eagle eye caught the headline, "More and More Cars Now Being Equipped with Radio." It's all off. We don't know a thing about autos and we might pick out a car with a radio concealed under the seat. Then when we started to drive a voice would break in on us with, "UP—DOWN—RIGHT—LEFT—UP—DOWN—RIGHT—LEFT." We'd be hauling the thingamajigs you drive a car with this way and that and running back from one side of the street to the other, and on the sidewalks and everything before we realized it was a radio barking setting-up exercises at us and not directions about driving the car. Or, worse still, it might be a jazz orchestra playing or Secretary of Labor Davis making a speech. In which case we would drive the car right up a telephone pole and roost on the cross trees. No, the hazard is too great. No automobile for us. Back to the railroad.

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 28, 1865.

NEW YORK. — Recent discoveries justify the belief that many thousand tons of husks of Indian corn will hereafter be consumed yearly in this country in connection with the manufacture of paper. Editors of leading papers are inviting proposals for the sale of the husks from towns all over the country. They should be addressed to D. H. Craig, general agent of the Associated Press, New York City.

PHILADELPHIA.—Following is a dispatch from Washington to the Evening Telegraph: "It is now definitely known that Francis P. Blair's mission to Richmond has been crowned with complete success. Mr. Davis pledged himself to send immediately three gentlemen to Washington to confer on terms of peace."

NEW YORK. — A Savannah letter says that Sherman's South Carolina campaign has already begun, although a month at least must elapse between the present time and the attainment of his object. The Richmond Dispatch has a report from Charleston that Sherman has commenced his movement against that city and Branchville. The steamer United States from Savannah brings a report that Sherman captured 2,000 rebels near Pocotaligo, S. C.

CHICAGO. — Henry G. Perkins of Chicago and Miss Maggie Fisher of Lacon, Ill., were married in this city on Jan. 27 by the Rev. Dr. T. M. Eddy. On the same date Dr. Eddy also married Augustus Rapp and Miss Rebecca Wilson, both of Chicago.

CHICAGO.—A call was issued to citizens of Chicago to meet at Bryan hall tonight to take such action as is expedient in connection with the "horse railroad swindle" which has been juggled through the legislature. The call is issued by leading men of the city.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 28, 1900.

CHICAGO.—The city of Chicago lost tens of thousands of dollars last year and will lose as much more this year, unless a reform is instituted, through a lax enforcement of the municipal liquor license laws. An investigation by The Tribune reveals that 8,502 places are licensed to sell liquor by the United States collector of internal revenue. Saloon licenses issued total 6,431, leaving 2,071 places that sell liquor and do not pay the city's license fee of $500.

CHICAGO.—Two pioneers died yesterday. One of them, Charles Maltby, left his impress on the early politics of the state and his career was intermixed with the history of Abraham Lincoln. He died in San Francisco at the age of 88. The other was the Rev. Richard Haney, the Nestor of Methodism in Illinois, who died at Altona, near Galesburg, at the age of 87.

LONDON.—This is the blackest day that England has yet experienced. London is distraught by a succession of rumors of the grave predicament of Gen. Warren's forces near Ladysmith. Rumors that Warren's army has been captured by the Boers are not denied by the war office.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 28, 1920.

CHICAGO. — A brass cleat on a black steamer trunk led postoffice inspectors through a string of southern winter resorts and finally to a room in the Euclid hotel, Cleveland, where they arrested pretty Irene Elizabeth McAuliffe, fugitive postmistress of Franklin Park, and Merrill B. Inks, her "city feller." They will be brought to Chicago to answer charges of embezzlement of postoffice funds to the amount of about $20,000. The couple had been sought since Jan. 12.

CHICAGO.—Dr. Robert S. Bentley was shot to death in his office at 5035 Indiana avenue by his friend, William Gardiner, who claims it was an accident.

WASHINGTON.—Henry P. Fletcher has resigned as United States ambassador to Mexico, to take effect in a few weeks.

WASHINGTON.—President Wilson sent to the senate the nominations of Secretary of Agriculture Houston of Missouri to be secretary of the treasury to succeed Carter Glass, and E. T. Meredith of Iowa to be secretary of agriculture.

ANOMALOUS MacDONALD.

Chicago, Jan. 24. — Oswald Garrison Villard asserts in the current number of one of our magazines that "the British governmental machinery is far superior to our own," because such an excellent type of man as Ramsay MacDonald, a Socialist and war disclaimer, has advanced, for the second time, to the position of prime minister, while party machinery and tradition in U. S. would prevent him from taking a leading congressional position, and his chances for reaching the highest office in our land would be below zero.

True enough, but neither would the good, honest and idealistically bent Mr. MacDonald have much of a political future in soviet Russia, where, more likely, he would be whisked off to Shakalin island, if not put before a firing squad, because he is no more a communist than an individualist in line with capitalism. In fact, modern socialism is hemmed in between the two extremes, with responsible and sensible leaders of the MacDonald type rather leaning toward individualism, and the rank and file of the party, somewhat motivated by dissatisfaction and jealousy when witnessing other people's greater diligence and measure of success, more or less consciously aligned with communistic sentiment. Between the Scylla of capitalistic individualism and the Charybdis of communism able captains of the Socialist vessel have a difficult time and, in order to keep in power and hold the party together, are prompted to steer closer to communism than they really like. MacDonald in his first premier term had to do so until the final wreck on the Zinovieff reef in 1924.

He must steer the same course once more, and so, being unwilling and unable to realize much of good old Marxism or even to tackle acute problems such as unemployment and industrial depression, he and his most distinguished colleagues have grasped the straw of armament reduction as an issue that is highly convenient to communism, domestic and alien, and also appealing strongly to general post-war weariness and smart politics, especially if the step can be deftly executed and leave Britain unassailable in her rule of the waves as ever before.

That a declared Socialist has no chance of attaining the presidency of the United States is self-evident unless and until we may produce the same proportionate number of Socialists as any up-to-date European commonwealth, and such an event is unlikely to happen unless and until U. S. is reduced to the European economical level. Now, it is a curious fact that economic distress produces Socialists and also that socialism, as soon as it becomes prevalent enough to influence legislation and dominate industry to any considerable extent, will produce still more economic distress, as has been amply demonstrated in Europe and elsewhere during a generation. Of course, we have in U. S. a respectable number of bureaucratic and paternalistic officials, liberal propagandists, papers and magazines, reformers and suppressers, demagogical, incompetent and corrupt politicians and legislators, all of which are doing their bit to bring about some of the impoverishment prevalent elsewhere, and with their chance for such a contingency increased if the United States leave the London conference in a decimated maritime state and unable to defend our shores and overseas trade against one or more other powers.

But until then we need hardly worry or engage in erudite discourses as to any Ramsay MacDonald's prospects for occupying the White House.

LAW AND CUSTOM IN FREE GOVERNMENT.

Elmhurst, Ill., Jan. 20.—May I congratulate you upon your splendid editorial of "Law and Custom in Free Government"? You have discussed a burning issue of our public life with rare intelligence and with literary clarity that raises the editorial to the level of a classic. I would not hesitate to recommend that this excellent bit of journalistic expression be displayed in every public library and be sent to every law school in the land.

As an ardent advocate of temperance in all things but an equally ardent opponent of prohibition I have always maintained that the eighteenth amendment had its birth in just that confusion between law as the expression of a temporary political majority and law as the expression of common sense custom and fundamental moral approval. As long as this confusion persists in the thinking of our legislators and reformers we shall continue to have laws and statutes oppressive and tyrannical to intelligent citizenship cluttering our law books and making impossible the just and effective administration of even those laws that are based on the common consent of the governed.

I wish you well in your continued effort to bring enlightenment into a situation that is increasingly revealing dangers for the maintenance of our fundamental liberties and for the progress of genuine democracy in America.

KARL M. CHWOROWSKY,
Minister, the College Church.

THE HISTORY CONTEST.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—As a member of the D. A. R. I would like to commend you for sponsoring such a worth while contest as the historical one now being carried on. This will stimulate not only young students but those of us who have almost forgotten school books to a greater interest in our country's history.

The intensive study and research required should be of inestimable value and, unlike most contests, this one should prove of lasting benefit to entrants, whether they win or not, in contributing to their greater knowledge of American history. P. M. W.

QUARANTINE.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—I wish to inquire how far a quarantine is going to protect the public.

As the father of two children I realize the danger of contagious sickness such as scarlet fever and am wondering why telephone collectors persist in entering the premises quarantined to make their collections when parents are compelled to live in hotels, etc., during period of illness. It seems to me the phone company could wait until the premises were fumigated as required by law.

EIELSON'S PLANE IDENTIFIED; DIG IN ICE FOR AIRMEN

Learn Flyers Crashed at Terrific Speed.

NOME, Alaska, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Searchers today dug into tightly packed snow and ice around the wreckage of an airplane 90 miles southeast of North Cape, Siberia, in their quest for Carl Ben Eielson and Earl Borland, American aviators missing since Nov. 9.

Pilots Joe Crosson and Harold Gillam, who Saturday located the wreckage, specified in their report that it was the demolished all-metal monoplane flown by Eielson and Borland.

Both Crosson and Gillam, who landed their planes on the snow, to examine the wreckage, had flown Eielson's plane and said they recognized it instantly.

Search Snow for Bodies.

Four men taken to the scene yesterday from the ice locked trading ship Nanuk in planes, piloted by Crosson and Gillam explored the area around the wreckage in the belief that Eielson and Borland were flung out to instant death, when their ship crashed in a blinding snowstorm Nov. 9, or were under the wreckage of gasoline cases near the cabin.

Two dog teams, driven by natives, were also on their way to the wreck from North Cape.

Meanwhile the conviction was growing here that a faulty altimeter, upon which Eielson was forced to rely when the snowstorm wiped out all visibility, was partly to blame for the crash.

Crosson reported upon his return from the wreckage yesterday that the altimeter registered 1,000 feet. Inasmuch as the plan crashed on tundra almost at sea level the instrument's error may have misled the pilot.

Find Throttle Wide Open.

Proof that the plane was traveling at a high rate of speed was found by Crosson. The throttle of the ship was wide open. The manner in which the metal propeller was wrapped around the motor of the plane testified to the terrific impact with which the ship struck the frozen earth.

Crosson reported that Eielson evidently was attempting to make a banked turn when he struck. The time of the crash was figured about dusk by the plane's clock.

Ex-Kaiser Goes to Church and Sees Movie on 71st Birthday

DOORN, Holland, Jan. 27.—(AP) — Wilhelm II., former emperor of Germany, who has spent his birthdays in exile for eleven years, celebrated his 71st birthday in unusually quiet circumstances today. It was the simplest celebration since he took refuge in Holland.

Divine services in the morning, a formal dinner at noon, and an educational movie in the evening offered the only outward evidence that Wilhelm thought of his birthday as a formal occasion.

Deaths Dampen Celebration.

Only three Hohenzollern princes were present, namely the former crown prince and crown princess, Prince Adalbert and his wife, and Prince August. The ex-kaiser's only daughter, Victoria Louise, was prevented from attending the birthday celebration by the illness of her children.

The mourning of the imperial family for the late Prince Henry of Prussia, brother and intimate advisor of Wilhelm, and for Frau Victoria Subkoff, the ex-kaiser's sister, who married a Russian dancer, contributed to making the birthday observances informal and inconspicuous.

At the church services, to which all employés of the estate were invited, the Rev. Dr. Herbst preached a brief sermon based on the Twenty-third psalm—"The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want."

Wilhelm Reads Message.

At the noon dinner, the former crown prince in the name of the guests proposed his father's health in a formal toast, to which the ex-kaiser responded briefly. A vast floral display, accompanied by a letter of congratulations, expressed the respect of the Doorn community for their distinguished resident, but, because of the mourning, no delegation from the village council appeared, as in former years, to congratulate him personally.

Congratulations poured in, however, from many parts of Germany and from other countries, all of which were personally examined by Wilhelm.

Gala uniforms and decorations were worn at the evening dinner, attended by only eight of the closest friends of the family besides the Hohenzollerns themselves.

Treasures Explorer's Film.

The gift that the ex-kaiser most treasured was a film taken by the German explorer, Wilhelm Filchner, during explorations in Tibet. The ex-kaiser, who has always been tremendously interested in scientific explorations, had shown special interest in Filchner's achievements, and the members of his personal staff surprised him by showing the film.

Throughout the day Wilhelm seemed to be in excellent health and spirits.

BANDIT SEIZES MAIL TRUCK AT RAILWAY DEPOT

Elkhart, Ind., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Local police, vigilantes, and railroad detectives tonight were hunting a bandit who fled after abandoning a United States mail truck he had seized as the driver awaited a train at the New York Central station.

The truck, with a registered mail pouch and a parcel post bag missing, was recovered on a side street. An hour later these two containers were also recovered untouched when railroad police gave chase to the driver of a battered sedan near the depot. The man leaped out and fled.

England Cleans Up Night Clubs; To Deport 60 Aliens

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 27.—England is to use an unusual method of deporting unwanted aliens next month. A special boat will leave Cardiff carrying sixty undesirables who are being deported by Scotland Yard. The majority of them have been connected with London west end restaurants and night clubs which not only violated English licensing regulations, but cloaked other criminal activities.

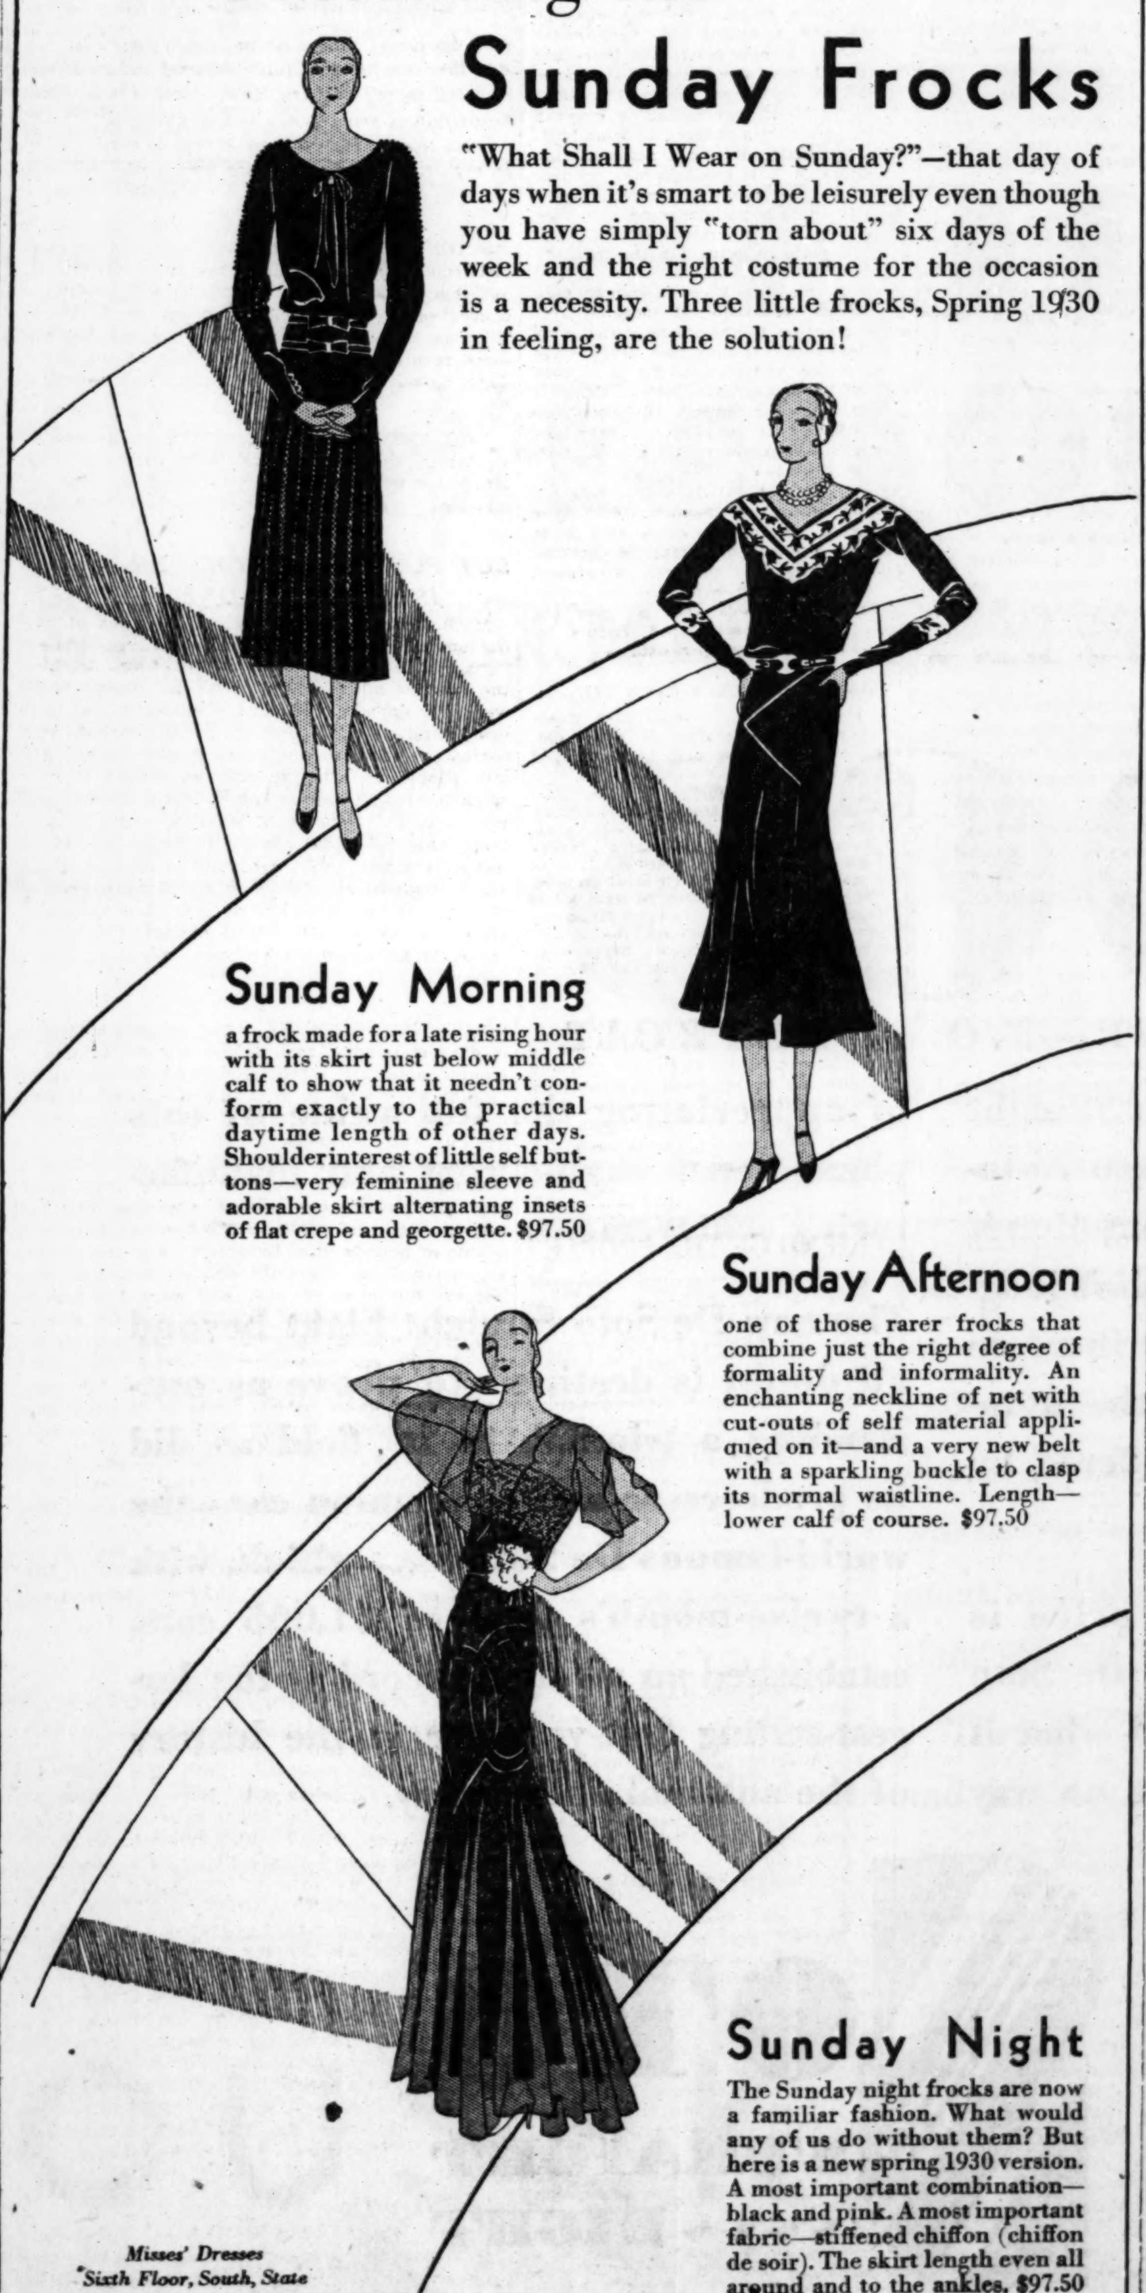
Presenting the

Sunday Frocks

"What Shall I Wear on Sunday?"—that day of days when it's smart to be leisurely even though you have simply "torn about" six days of the week and the right costume for the occasion is a necessity. Three little frocks, Spring 1930 in feeling, are the solution!



Sunday Morning
a frock made for a late rising hour with its skirt just below middle calf to show that it needn't conform exactly to the practical daytime length of other days. Shoulder interest of little self buttons—very feminine sleeve and adorable skirt alternating insets of flat crepe and georgette. $97.50

Sunday Afternoon
one of those rarer frocks that combine just the right degree of formality and informality. An enchanting neckline of net with cut-outs of self material appliqued on it—and a very new belt with a sparkling buckle to clasp its normal waistline. Length—lower calf of course. $97.50

Sunday Night
The Sunday night frocks are now a familiar fashion. What would any of us do without them? But here is a new spring 1930 version. A most important combination—black and pink. A most important fabric—stiffened chiffon (chiffon de soir). The skirt length even all around and to the ankles. $97.50

WARNS FARMERS TO CUT YIELD OR DOWN GO PRICES

Legge Advises Them How to Be Prosperous.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Stern warnings to American farmers that they must hold down the production of surplus crops if they expect to regain prosperity were sounded in unison today by the two highest federal autnorities on agriculture, Chairman Alexander Legge of the federal farm board and Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde.

Launching what apparently is to be a countrywide educational campaign to limit surplus production at its source—on the farm—the two officials voiced their pleas for crop limitation in radio speeches over a forty station hookup of the National Broadcasting company, during an agricultural outlook program arranged by the department of agriculture.

Quotes Outlook Report.

Both speakers called attention to the departments' outlook report issued yesterday, predicting little, if any, increase in farm commodity prices during 1930, if overproduction continues.

Declaring that the success of the coöperative marketing program of the farm board cannot be a complete success despite the use of the board's 500 million dollar revolving fund unless farmers coöperate in limiting their crops, Mr. Legge urged them to be cautious during the planting seasons. Developing and broadening of markets to provide an outlet for farm products, he said, is only one step toward a solution of the farm problem.

"We must recognize," Mr. Legge said, "that after all there is a limit to the quantity of any commodity beyond which it will be impossible to find a profitable outlet and it seems clear in the case of some of our commodities that production now is in excess of quantities that can be disposed of at prices that will afford a reasonable return to the producers.

Foolish to Overproduce.

"It should require no great amount of argument on our part to convince now is getting with a larger production, it would be foolish for him to expend the time and labor and to exhaust the fertility of his soil in producing an excess.

"The percentage of decrease in production of most commodities, if properly distributed; that is, if the reduction were made by all producers, would not be sufficiently large to seriously change the farmer's present operations.

"Furthermore, in cases where, by the development of new foreign markets or expansion of existing markets abroad as a result of an increase in the purchasing power of consuming countries, it is found possible to dispose of an increased quantity of a commodity, the board hopes to give the farmers this information early enough for them to take advantage of the changing conditions in the planting of their crops."

Restoration of Woodlot.

Restoration of the farm woodlot as a step toward reforestation of land now devoted to crops was proposed by Mr. Legge as an initial step in a modified production program. Many suggestions to this end have come to the board, he said, but reforestation the grower that if a somewhat reduced production would result in bringing him more money than he has met "very general approval."

"Most people think of a reforestation program along the lines of large areas," Mr. Legge continued, "but there is another kind of reforestation that is equally important; in fact, more important to agriculture, and that is the restoration of the so-called woodlot.

"In the past the woodlot has played an important part in the prosperity of a large percentage of our farmers. It has furnished shade for livestock in summer and shelter in winter, posts for fences, firewood for the house, and in other ways been useful. In many areas this woodlot is disappearing. Why not restore it? If every American farmer were to devote 5 per cent of his acreage to a woodlot he would have gone a long way toward meeting the problem of excess production."

Secretary Hyde was even more emphatic than Mr. Legge in urging that farm production be kept closer to the prospective demand for farm products. "Blind production" he described as "the bane of agriculture." He declared that 1930 will show if the farmers really are willing to help themselves by removing it.

Backed by Half Billion Dollars.

"There is a challenge for every individual farmer in the year ahead, and also a great opportunity," Mr. Hyde asserted. "We confront in the coming years as stern a test as ever faced our forefathers.

"Agricultural leadership has formulated and secured the enactment of the agricultural marketing act, which established the federal farm board. Science and invention are at our service through many federal and state agencies.

"The farm board, backed by half a billion dollars of public money and clothed with far reaching powers, is applying collective thinking to that great problem of the new decade—the problem of modern coöperative merchandising of crops and live stock.

"But all this will break down unless each individual farmer intelligently plans his production.

Exceed Domestic Needs.

"In the past production of agricultural crops has time and again exceeded domestic needs. The surplus has been compelled to compete for the markets of the world, there to further break the farm price. If we must meet the fierce, cheap labor competition of the world market, only those producers whose costs are low will be able, at such prices, to live.

"The facts as given by the outlook reports which you heard today do not indicate relief from the situation by increase of domestic and foreign demand or improvement of the foreign market. The inescapable facts prove that, if we are to conduct a profitable agriculture, we must not only produce at lowest possible costs, but also keep our production reasonably close to prospective domestic demand. This problem must be met on the farm. It can best be met by careful planning, and by the broad organization of agriculture."

MASHERS TRAIL LADY COPPER; SHE CALLS COPS—OFF TO JAIL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 27.—A pretty policewoman made a dramatic arrest today, the first since the organization of female police. As she walked up the main street, two mashers followed her, saying "sweet words." The woman copper accosted a policeman and asked him to call additional police.

When the other police arrived, the mashers were arrested and the policewoman marched them to the police station, where she charged them with interfering with officers of the law. The men pleaded guilty and said that it was all a joke.

"That you and others may learn not to joke with the police authorities, I will send you to cool your heels in Belem—the Mexico city prison," the judge decreed.

LOBBY QUIZZERS IGNORE GARVAN'S ATTACK ON MOSES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Publication of charges in a deposition by Francis P. Garvan, president of the Chemical Foundation and former alien property custodian, linking Senator G. H. Moses [Rep., N. H.] with German dye and chemical interests active in behalf of low tariff schedules, failed to creat anything like the expected stir in the capitol today.

The apparent indifference of lobby investigating committee members at once gave rise to reports that the Democrats are willing to ignore Garvan's charges against Moses, the president pro tempore of the senate, if the Republicans agree not to make an issue of the fact that Senator W. H. King [Dem., Utah] received campaign contributions which were not disclosed in the senator's report of receipts from the same German interests.

Inquiry revealed that a copy of Garvan's deposition had been in the possession of Senator T. J. Walsh [Dem., Mont.], chief prosecutor of the lobby investigation, for several days. Study of the charges has disclosed nothing thus far, the Montana senator said, to warrant committee action, and it is highly improbable, both he and Senator T. H. Caraway [Dem., Ark.] said, that the matter will go any farther.

At the same time, it was discovered that even Senator A. R. Robinson [Rep., Ind.], the regular Republican member of the committee whose insistence upon questioning Samuel Russell, Senator King's former secretary, led to exposure of King's alleged dealings with German dye interests, was willing to let the matter drop without summoning the Germans' agent.

Following Russell's sensational story last week, Senator Robinson demanded that both Metz and Samuel King be subpoenaed to testify before the lobby committee and he promised a report of the incident to the senate which might become, he said, the basis for action similar to that taken by the senate when it formally censured Senator Bingham [Rep., Conn.] for allowing a personal tariff adviser to attend secret senate tariff sessions.

Today, however, Robinson said the case was complete as far as he was concerned.

AND UP—F.O.B. DETROIT

The new Chrysler-built De Soto Straight Eight is repeating at the Chicago Automobile Show the unparalleled sensation it created in New York. In the public's judgment it represents the greatest increase in the purchasing power of the automobile dollar that has been offered by anyone up to this time.

Until its unbelievably low price is contrasted with what the new De Soto Straight Eight actually is—and what it actually accomplishes—there is no way of appreciating the full value of this phenomenal engineering and manufacturing achievement.

The new De Soto Straight Eight beyond all doubt is destined to prove as outstanding a triumph in its field as did its predecessor and companion car—the world-famous De Soto Six—which, with a twelve-month's total of 81,065 cars, established an all-time record as the largest-selling first-year car in the history of the automobile industry.

"Permanency in building construction is just as important as permanency in investing" . . .

A. P. GIANNINI

A. P. GIANNINI
President
Transamerica Corporation

IN building a home you should be guided by the same rules that govern your investments. In both cases you are spending money for future return. In both you should seek lasting values. Many famous bankers, such as Mr. Giannini, advise you to build for permanency—with Copper, Brass and Bronze.

Brass or Copper pipe, Copper flashings, gutters and downspouts and solid Brass or Bronze hardware and lighting fixtures represent permanent worth when used in any building. They cannot rust. They do not depreciate in value or service.

Genuine rust-proof equipment of Copper, Brass and Bronze costs slightly more at first, but in the long run it saves you money. It serves for a lifetime without repair or replacement.

The Building Service Department of the COPPER & BRASS RESEARCH ASSOCIATION, 25 Broadway, New York, will be glad to advise you without charge about the uses and proper application of these metals.

NEW LAMP PUTS SUNSHINE IN YOUR HOME OR OFFICE

Saves Eyes and Makes Your Vitamins Grow.

New York, Jan. 27.—(AP)—A new lamp, described as the first step toward bringing artificial sunshine indoors for office workers, was explained to the American Institute of Electrical Engineers today.

The lamp is a combination of the familiar tungsten filament and a pool of mercury. The hot filament vaporizes the mercury and produces a glowing vapor arc, giving light from three sources, seven per cent from the filament, 25 per cent from the mercury vapor, and 68 per cent from tungsten electrodes.

This light, said Dr. M. Luckiesh of the General Electric company, is "the first practical source for simulating sunlight which has been developed with a possible new era of lighting in mind."

Means End of Eye Strain.

"Our eyes still squint and suffer," he said today, "under the feeble present day artificial light—one-thousandth of the strength of outdoor light during most of the day."

The new era, he explains, aims at "simulated sunlight, adequate and proper for vision, and in addition supplying health benefits of sunlight for those who work and play indoors."

Among major facts emphasizing the value of sunlight. Dr. Luckiesh said that in some places the death rate is highest in the season when sunlight is at its minimum, or shortly thereafter, and that there is evidence that fewer colds are experienced by persons systematically exposed to artificial sunlight than by those lacking it.

Cure for Rickets.

Sunlight also cures and prevents rickets; it is known to be closely related to one or two vitamins, possibly to all, and the effects of a single exposure to powerful ultra-violet rays for only a few minutes can be detected for two and sometimes three months afterward.

He forecast a new viewpoint in buildings which would require walls and ceilings of materials reflecting ultra-violet light. Some substances already are known to possess this quality, including chromium, aluminum, and some white pigments.

ARMY AND NAVY PONDER FATE OF SPAIN'S DICTATOR

Nation Stunned on Offer to Risk Job.

MADRID, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The question of whether Gen. Primo de Rivera will continue at the head of the Spanish government or retire remained unanswered tonight by the army and navy.

The highest military and naval officers were still exchanging opinions, studying the situation and polling their subordinate officers from colonel up to decide how to reply to the impulsive offer of the dictator to resign if the army and namy say so.

Close Up Madrid School.

The foremost subject for conversation among citizens generally today was the manifesto which the premier issued yesterday, leaving his political fate up to the army and navy, which have been the chief support of his dictatorship.

The strike of Madrid university students is considered by observers to be closely bound up with the situation of the government. The university today was ordered closed indefinitely pending negotiations to adjust the differences between students and authorities.

Police closed the headquarters of the student federation and placed guards at the locked doors to prevent meetings of the strikers.

King Keeps His Silence.

The attitude of King Alfonso on Primo's offer to quit has not been revealed. The king knew nothing in advance of the manifesto, which he received Sunday afternoon. In fact Primo himself did not premeditate it, but acted on the spur of the moment, because he was tired of daily reports that he was losing the support of the army.

The premier decided upon his own personal responsibility, without waiting to consult the king and cabinet, to issue his manifesto and force the issue by putting the question of support or nonsupport of the dictatorship directly up to the commanding officers of the army and navy.

Allegheny Metal has a thousand and one other uses ... less dramatic possibly ... but just as important in our daily life. Cafeteria counters, pots and pans, golf clubs ... these are only a few. No one can foretell how far Allegheny Metal will reach.

Small wonder The Ford Motor Company received thousands of inquiries regarding this bright unrusting metal the first day after the announcement of its use on the new car. People are intensely interested in such a decided advance. The wives of America will look for its gleaming beauty when they buy household appliances. The builder will want it on his new structures. Industry is seeking it to improve its products.

DISTRIBUTION

Business, today, knows that distribution costs can be cut by getting close to the consumer. Philadelphia offers not only her own billion dollar purchasing power, but also the quickest and cheapest means of reaching 30,000,000 people. Her port brings New England and the South within economical reach. Her three trunk line railroads spread in every direction. Distribute from Philadelphia. And sell and advertise your product here—where one newspaper reaches nearly every home.

REFLECTING A GREAT PEOPLE

NEW standards of newspaper value are being recognized by advertisers. Today, the circulation total and the line rate do not tell the complete story.

Advertising results are being worked out in advance by exhaustive studies of the sales potentials of markets . . . by searching analyses of newspapers.

It is upon this basis that Philadelphia and The Evening Bulletin invite the attention of manufacturers today.

Here is a "billion dollar sales" market, comprising 572,600 individual homes.

And a newspaper which is read every day in nearly every home.

The Bulletin has grown deeply into the consciousness of the Philadelphia home.

For almost a generation it has worked to give Philadelphia a newspaper which would reflect this great people.

Using care, accuracy and moderation as the means to their confidence. Seeking to interpret the community of interest in this great city of homes.

Building a consumer demand as any fine product would build it—without premium, prize or contest.

For 34 years it has stood the test of worth, of dependability, day after day.

Today, Philadelphia presents a newspaper situation unique in publishing history: One newspaper being read by practically a whole people . . . 572,600 individual homes; 555,711 daily net paid circulation of The Evening Bulletin.

An exceptional market condition that makes for economy and effectiveness in your advertising and sales efforts.

LAW IN FLORIDA BARS BOLTERS AS CANDIDATES

Al Smith Foes Can't Run on Democratic Ticket.

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Some Democrats in Florida are going to find themselves in an embarrassing position next election. If they voted for Hoover, they cannot be Democratic candidates for public office in the state. If they voted for Hoover and then voted for some Democrat for some other office, they cannot be candidates under the Republican banner.

Fred H. Davis, attorney general, said so today. It isn't a party regulation that puts the Hoover Democrats in such a position. It is a state law. If a man seeks an office as a Democrat, he must swear he did not vote for a single Republican in the last general election. If he seeks an office as a Republican, he must swear he did not vote for a Democrat.

Therefore, the law, if it is enforced, will bar Hoover Democrats as candidates in the election of next year.

The law concerns only Democrats and Republicans, because no other party officially is recognized in this state. The law provides that a party, to be recognized, must have polled at least 30 per cent of the total vote in the last general election.

Next year will be the first time in the history of the state that the Republican party will have to nominate its candidates by primaries. It's because the G. O. P. got more than 30 per cent of the state's vote for Hoover and William J. Howey, who was a Republican candidate for governor.

The law that applies to candidates does not affect Democrats or Republicans so far as voting is concerned. Those Democrats who bolted Al Smith for President still can come back into the Democratic party and vote the ticket next year. Republicans who may have voted for some Democrat for national, state, or county office, may return to the party fold.

A man's honor will be the only means of determining his political vote in the last general election. The vote is secret, and no man is required to tell whom he voted for until he becomes a candidate for office. Then he is placed on his oath and his oath is final.

ASKS COLONY FOR STATE'S WARDS AT CAMP GRANT

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—The use of Camp Grant during ten months of the year for the colonization of inmates of state institutions for the feeble minded was advocated here tonight by Rodney S. Brandon, state director of public safety. Mr. Brandon spoke at the annual banquet given by County Judge Fred E. Carpenter for county supervisors, Republican committeemen, and other party leaders. He proposed that the state ask the federal government to turn over Camp Grant and the proving ground on the Mississippi river at Savanna to be used as colonies for the feeble minded, which they could cultivate, and on which they could become, in a measure, self-supporting.

A POLICY PLEDGED TO PROGRESS
OLDSMOBILE

"DEEP-ROOTED in the mind of every man who plans or builds or tests is the unwavering determination that his knowledge and skill and resources shall render constant service . . .

". . . that the American family may have, at a moderate investment, a car that gratifies their finer tastes as well as satisfies their every need . . . that this car shall not be wanting in a single essential factor that contributes to performance, comfort, beauty, or long life . . . that in the design, material, and manufacture of every detail, the strictest standards shall be rigidly maintained . . . that their boundless resources and matchless facilities shall be utilized to the utmost to provide these qualities at the lowest possible cost . . . "

More than three years ago, Olds Motor Works published this declaration of purpose, and publicly pledged itself to this policy of progress.

And the promise has been fulfilled.

The Oldsmobile Six reflects this purpose in the improvements which have been made.

Meanwhile, the Viking Eight was introduced, applying the same principles to a 90-degree V-type eight in the great medium-price field.

Olds Motor Works recognizes four responsibilities in its policy pledged to progress . . . first, to engineer progressively . . . second, to manufacture faithfully . . . third, to sell honestly . . . and fourth, to support its dealers and join with them in the most equitable service policy in existence. Olds Motor Works' interest in every sale goes far beyond the time of purchase.

And now, at the beginning of this new year, Olds Motor Works renews its pledge and reaffirms its responsibilities in order that in 1930, as in years past, it shall retain the sincere friendship of every owner . . . and that every motorist may consider the purchase of either Oldsmobile or Viking with absolute confidence.

FIRED RAILMEN RIOT AS RUSSIA HOLDS BACK PAY

Chinese Storm Offices at Harbin, Manchuria.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Jan. 27.—A dispatch from Harbin this afternoon stated that several hundred Chinese and White Russian employés of the Chinese Eastern railway, recently dismissed when the soviet resumed control, gathered today at the administration building and demanded their salaries, withheld by the soviet manager. When the manager refused their pay again the mob broke into riot.

"The Chinese Eastern railway is now controlled by the Red cheka, the real governors of North Manchuria," the ousted workers cried.

Chinese Officials Pledge Aid.

The mob appealed to the Chinese administration, which promised to relieve the situation. The angry crowd was still congregated about the building late today. The Chinese police, who are in sympathy with the dismissed workers, have not interfered. Soviet officers of the railroad are nervous over today's events and are reported to have wired Moscow for advice.

Mo Te-hui, president of the Chinese Eastern railway, arrived in Shanghai today from Harbin on his way to Nanking, where he will confer with President Chiang Kai-shek, Foreign Minister C. T. Wang, and other government officials. The topic of their conference will be the north Manchurian situation and the scheduled Chinese-Russian conference at Moscow, scheduled for sometime next month.

Manchuria's Situation Grave.

Mo Te-hui declared that the situation in Manchuria is more critical and dangerous than it has been in years, due to China's defeat by Russia.

He also said that widespread dissatisfaction is prevalent among the Chinese, and that Manchuria's futile attempt to resist the full military strength of Russia has resulted in the loss of the "flower of the Manchurian army," upon which China has heretofore depended for border defense.

Fears Fresh Outbreaks.

The railway president also declared that the alleged soviet inspired Mongolian independence movement in the Barga district constitutes a crisis likely to result in China losing all territories west of the Hinghan mountain range.

"In the event that the Chinese-Russian trouble is not quickly settled a fresh outbreak is likely to occur, causing incalculable loss of lives and properties," said Mo Te-hui. "The losses suffered by the Chinese people, as well as by the government, in the three eastern provinces totals more than $40,000,000."

'HEADLESS GHOST' THROWS COAT AT FACTORY WORKER

Workmen at the plant of the Pullman Car and Manufacturing company at Michigan City went about their tasks uneasily last night, stirred by a tale of a headless ghost haunting the shops, which John Landwich, a workman, claims he saw. Landwich has not returned to work since his experience on Friday night.

According to his story, he heard a muffled tapping in the gloom of the car shed at midnight and on investigating came upon a headless figure, rapping on the side of a new box car. Landwich said he hurled a brick at the figure and that it retaliated by throwing an overcoat at his head. Whether the figure was a specter or not, the overcoat was genuine and when Landwich extricated himself from its folds, he fled without investigating further.

The more superstitious of the plant employés recalled that a Negro workman disappeared there several months ago and some said that he had been murdered and his body burned in a furnace. Others explained the Negro's disappearance more prosaically by recalling that he was being sought by the police for a minor law violation.

FOUR FINED FOR SMOKE LAW VIOLATIONS; 20 CASES STILL PENDING

Four violators of the city's smoke abatement ordinance were fined in the Municipal court yesterday by Judge Arnold Heap. Mrs. Freda Ludolph, 6556 South Lincoln street, was fined the maximum of $100. Jacob Hartman, bakery proprietor, 3236 West Division street, was fined $95. The Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company and the Windsor laundry, 1726 East 75th street, were let off with fines of $10 each because they had taken steps to prevent a repetition of the offense.

The cases had been pending since November, when Frank A. Chambers, chief smoke inspector, requested the city prosecutor's office to act. Twenty more cases, twelve of which were requested last year, are still awaiting action of Prosecutor Peska. The last trial preceding the cases disposed of yesterday was held on Nov. 16.

"I am in favor of the campaign to rid Chicago of the smoke evil," remarked Judge Heap, "and I am in favor of punishing the violators who are not trying to coöperate with the city's smoke department."

L. V. L. CONDEMNS 27 FROM COUNTY IN LEGISLATURE

Reports on Records of New Term Aspirants.

Cook county members of the general assembly whose terms expire this year heard from the home folks yesterday and heard unmistakably.

Release of that part of the report of the Legislative Voters' League of Illinois having to do with the senators and representatives from Chicago and its country town neighbors showed that the organization condemned more than half of those who are up for renomination.

The balance sheet on the senators was worse than that for the members of the lower house. With sixteen senators up this year, the league condemned nine, criticized two others with qualifications, praised only three without reservations, and barely let the remaining two into the acceptable class.

In the house there were sixteen boosted, there were ten praised with reservations, there were eighteen pronounced unfit or unqualified, and there were seven placed in the doubtful class.

In condensed form the findings as to house members from Cook by districts were as follows:

1. George W. Blackwell—Deserves credit for supporting effort to repeal Crowe bill. Harris B. Gaines—Gave attention to business; intelligent work in committee; record as whole creditable. John Griffin—Not well qualified.

2. Albert J. Mancin—Showed no signs of being qualified. Thomas J. Clancy—Rather attentive and deserves credit for vote against Calumet harbor tax. Frank Ryan—Not particularly active.

3. George T. Kersey—Mixed record. William E. King—Some ability; attentive; but did not show much effectiveness. George Garry Noonan—Unenviable record.

4. Michael A. Rudy—Gave no indication of fitness. James P. Boyle—Some capacity and gives attention; record showed improvement. Thomas J. O'Grady—Extremely active member who would be better legislator if not so attentive to wishes of city hall.

5. William J. Warfield—Quiet, unassuming, attentive, but did not give evidence of large capacity. Michael L. Igoe—As Democratic floor leader functioned ably; showed remarkable ability and qualities of leadership.

6. Ralph E. Church—Gave the public good service. Emil A. W. Johnson—Unsatisfactory record; should not be returned. Charles H. Weber—In some respects did better than at preceding session.

7. Anna Wilmarth Ickes—Showed decided capacity; unusually fine record for new member. Emmett McGrath—Voted intelligently; gave close attention; creditable showing. William F. Propper—Weak record.

9. David E. Shanahan—As speaker showed some fairness, vigor and tireless industry that have rendered him remarkable as guiding spirit of house; remarkably able and valuable service to the people of Illinois. Henry Sonnenschein—Active and wide awake; record generally good. William J. Gormley—Colorless record.

11. David I. Swanson—Served with the ability and disinterestedness that have always characterized his work; added to his reputation as one of most valuable members. Calvin T. Weeks—Poor record; especially active in pushing tax increase measures. John M. Lee—Attentive; did creditable work; is earnest and has legislative capacity.

13. Elmer J. Schnackenberg—One of the ablest members; leader in fight against income tax bill. John C. Garriott Jr.—Hard working; some capacity. William W. Powers—Mediocre record.

15. Matt Franz—Bad record. Edward Skarda—Voted intelligently.

17. William V. Pacelli—Poor record. Charles Coia—Record in general has been poor. Henry Minsky—Poor record.

19. Charles E. Marinier—Poor record. R. V. Graham—Earnest and intelligent member; good judgment; good record. John R. McSweeney—Gave closer attention and showed more earnestness and activity.

21. James W. Harris—Unusual independence; appeared to have good intentions but to lack some qualifications for effectiveness. Joseph L. Rategan—Has showed courage and discrimination; excellent record. Thomas J. O'Brien—Showed decided improvement; capable of decided usefulness.

23. William G. Thon—Excellent record; one of the most valuable and dependable members. Edward M. Overland—Poor record. Thomas P. Keane—Record creditable.

25. Rena Elrod—Showed judgment in voting; very good record. Edwin B. Bederman—Faithful; gave close attention; general record creditable.

27. A. O. Galvin—Very little capacity; poor record. A. L. Auth—Record showed some improvement. Joseph A. Trandel—Although lacking qualifications showed more independence.

29. Ernest W. Turner—Poor record. Michael R. Durso—Disappointing record. Lawrence C. O'Brien—Very bad record in spite of some improvement.

31 Roy Juul—Very good record; usually showed sound judgment and independence. James J. McVicker—Showed little fitness; poor record. Joseph L. Gill—Marked courage and independence as well as excellent judgment; high grade service; fine record.

The verdicts in reference to the senators from Cook in condensed form follow:

1. Adolph Marks—Has habitually associated with worst forces in senate; deserves no consideration.

3. Adelbert H. Roberts—Some good intentions, but little legislative ability.

5. Roy C. Woods—Seems to be superficial and is unconvincing; has not shown legislative capacity; district deserves better representation.

7. Arthur A. Huebsch—Well qualified; energetic and gives attention to business.

9. Patrick J. Carroll—Has few if any qualifications; seems to lack interest; record uniformly poor.

11. Thomas J. Courtney—High grade record; unusual ability, courage and dependability; fearlessness in fighting bad Small measures; consistently active against tax increase measures and has fought for reapportionment.

13. Harry W. Starr—Poor record; very little legislative ability or sincerity; should be retired.

15. John J. Boehm—Courageous, attentive and dependable; record very good.

17. James B. Leonardo—Not properly qualified.

19. John T. Denvir—Record not creditable.

21. Edward J. Hughes—Voting record not as enviable as previously; voted against desirable amendments to school tax increase bill.

23. Lowell B. Mason—Voting record improved but in general work decidedly disappointing; has not shown force and qualities of leadership senator from this district should have.

25. Theodore R. Steinert—Record somewhat faulty; general work creditable.

27. John Broderick—Not properly qualified; political orders; lacks qualifications; poor record.

29. John T. Joyce—Guided too much by political orders; lacks qualificatioins; poor record.

31. Herman J. Haenisch—Decided improvement in record; not as capable a senator as his district should have.

The next report of the Legislative Voters' league, following the filings which close on Feb. 17, will deal with all the candidates for the legislature, including the new entries.

Well Shaped Heads

Authorities on baby care are telling mothers that a plentiful supply of one essential factor must be provided if bones and teeth are to develop strong and sound.

This factor—Vitamin D—should be supplied even though your baby is breast-fed; even though he is plump and rosy and the picture of health.

This needed protection is obtainable from two common sources—sunshine and good cod-liver oil. It is almost impossible, however, to get enough sunshine on the bare skin to be of benefit. Clothing, clouds, fog and smoke prevent it. Even ordinary window glass filters out the ultra-violet rays.

Physicians therefore advise, as the most dependable protection, the daily use of Bottled Sunshine—good cod-liver oil.

In urging cod-liver oil as a way to avoid future trouble, thousands of physicians advise, "Use Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil."

They specify Squibb's because it is very rich in two essential vitamins—Vitamin D, the "sunshine vitamin" which helps to build good bones and teeth, and in Vitamin A which increases resistance to many infections.

Your physician knows that Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil is vitamin-tested and vitamin-protected and that it will help build teeth and bones for your baby. You can get both Squibb's Plain and Mint-flavored Cod-Liver Oil at all good drug stores.

W. Sparks

President—General Manager
The Sparks-Withington Company

A YEAR ago, I told them that the richness of Sparton reception must be brought within the limitations of every income. I told them that they were men with a mission, and that that mission was to place the cultural influence of true music in new millions of homes. I placed at their disposal every resource of radio, electrical and mechanical science. And I gave them time.

From this group of men . . . some of them my trusted associates of thirty years . . . has come what I regard as Sparton's greatest accomplishment . . . our new Model 589 at the lowest price ever asked for any Sparton Console.

Every fine quality that has made Sparton the outstanding favorite in homes where there can be no compromise with quality, is embodied in this new instrument. New features bring about noteworthy improvement even in Sparton reception.

The new Model 589 reaches out to amazing distances with practically no aerial.

Extreme selectivity makes this distance-getting power fully usable. Its ability to reach through local stations and capture others has been a source of wonder even to engineers. And with all this remarkable improvement in performance, Radio's Richest Voice retains its captivating purity.

So now Sparton offers . . . not a low priced radio set . . . but a true Sparton, worthy of the name, at a price all can afford. To you who know our past, nothing of greater significance can be said. We urge you to hear the new Sparton at once.

EX-JUDGE KNIFED GIRL DEAD, SAY FOUR WITNESSES

Lawyer Stabbed Several Times, They Declare.

Austin, Tex., Jan. 27.—(AP)—Witnesses for the state of Texas testified here today that they saw John W. Brady, 58, former state appellate court judge and prominent lawyer on trail for murder, pull out a knife, threaten Miss Lehila Highsmith, 28 year old stenographer, strike her and bend over her still striking. One of them said he wrested a knife from Brady after the girl had been stabbed.

F. R. McNaughton said he wrested a knife from Brady a moment after the girl had been stabbed. Another witness, Frank Graham, Jr., testified he saw Brady "strike" the girl while she stood and saw him bending over her still striking. A third, King Mcfarlan, swore he saw Brady pull out a knife and heard him threaten Miss Highsmith.

Mrs. R. B. Crider, testified she saw Brady's arm movement as the girl sank to the ground, and heard the girl cry out, "Please don't do that."

Slain Near Her Home.

Two of these witnesses, McNaughton and Mrs. Crider, lived at the rooming house where Miss Highsmith stayed, and it was in front of this house where she was stabbed to death on the night of Nov. 9, 1929.

McNaughton, stationery company employé, told of drinking with Brady on the afternoon of Nov. 9, of attending a football game and going back to the rooming house. Here, he testified, Brady became loud and unruly.

McNaughton repeatedly testified that he didn't believe Brady was "drunk," except for one time on cross examination when he said he was not qualified to say definitely .

Hears Girl Scream.

Brady started quarreling with the girl, McNaughton told the jury. McNaughton went in to use the telephone twice, he testified, and while he held the receiver in his hand the second time he heard a scream. He dashed outside and found the former judge bending over Miss Highsmith, he added.

When Graham, considered the principal state witness, came to the stand, Brady looked at him steadily. Graham testified "I saw Judge Brady strike her and I ran into the house to get McNaughton, and met McNaughton on the steps. Brady was holding a knife and was still hitting at her."

Graham said he believed Brady was intoxicated.

How to Sell Automobiles in the Largest Automobile Market in the World . . .

Properly understood and properly developed, the New York market is the most profitable market in the world for automobile advertisers. And to understand it is as simple as A B C.

A. Within its huge cosmopolitan population of 10,000,000 people in the city and suburban area, metropolitan New York has a far larger number of automobile owners and automobile buyers than any other market in the world.

B. The New York market has not only the largest number of people who own and buy cars—it has also the largest number of people who have no cars and can't afford them. In addition to having the largest number of income tax payers, New York has the largest number of those who pay no income taxes. This pronounced diversity is what makes New York the great market that it is for all commodities.

C. Automobile advertisers must, therefore, reach that portion of New York that is made up of automobile buyers, through newspapers that are read by automobile buyers. In choosing a newspaper for automobile advertising the thing that really matters is the newspaper's strength among the automobile-buying portion of the New York market.

In this market of largest sales opportunities automobile advertisers have found The Sun a remarkably profitable medium. There are a number of good reasons for this. These are only a few of them:

1. Time and again impartial surveys have shown The Sun's leading position among people of means—people who constitute the best market for automobile manufacturers. In the better-class districts of Brooklyn, Queens, Bronx and Richmond; in the Park Avenue apartment houses and the prominent apartment hotels of Manhattan—The Sun is read by more people than any other evening newspaper.

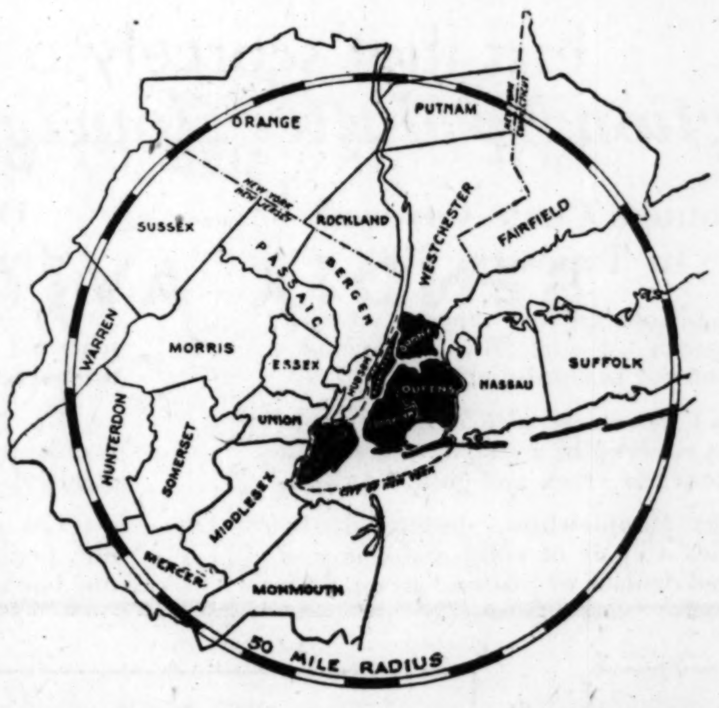
2. In the better-class suburbs of New York—where buying power is high and garage space is plentiful—The Sun is the most widely read evening newspaper.

3. The buying of an automobile is a family affair and automobiles, in the last analysis, are sold in the home. The Sun is preeminently a home newspaper. It is bought in the evening, read on the way home and carried into the home.

4. For fifteen years The Sun has led all New York evening newspapers in Automobile Display Advertising.

5. In 1929 The Sun was the only standard size New York newspaper to show a gain in Automobile Display Advertising.

The Most Profitable Automobile Market in the World



A RECENT SURVEY BY THE NEW YORK EVENING POST . . .

. . among the owners of 1,902 cars in New York showed that The Sun was read by more people than any other newspaper.

1—Among all the car owners The Sun was first.
2—Among owners of cars of less than $1,000 in price The Sun was second.
3—Among owners of cars of $2,000 to $3,000 in price The Sun was first.
4—Among owners of cars of $3,000 to $4,000 in price The Sun was first.
5—Among owners of cars of $4,000 to $5,000 in price The Sun was first.
6—Among owners of cars of $5,000 and over in price The Sun was first.

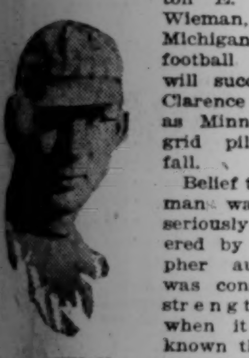
MINNESOTA LOSES AGAIN TO MICHIGAN, 26-13

WIEMAN LINKED WITH GOPHER COACHING JOB

Confers with Board Tomorrow.



TAD WIEMAN.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Rumors persist here that Elton E. "Tad" Wieman, former Michigan head football coach, will succeed Dr. Clarence Spears as Minnesota's grid pilot next fall.

Belief that Wieman was being seriously considered by the Gopher authorities was considerably strengthened when it became known that Wieman made a rush trip to Chicago yesterday to confer with Dr. L. D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota.

Wieman said today that he and Dr. Coffman had conferred, but added quickly, "nothing definite was done about signing a contract."

Michigan's former coach will go to Minneapolis tomorrow for a conference with the Minnesota athletic board on Wednesday, and it is the general belief that he will take the post if the Gopher authorities make a suitable offer.

"Let Out" Never Explained.

Coach Wieman has been in charge of the professional work in the school of physical education this year, following his "let out" from coaching by Director Yost last year under circumstances never fully explained by either party.

GOPHERS DENY RUMORS

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Rumors continued to run wild in the University of Minnesota tonight as to the probable successor to Dr. C. W. Spears as Gopher football coach, but the school senate committee denied them all with emphasis.

The newest name is Tad Wieman, formerly of Michigan. Ed Pierce, chairman of the senate committee, was appraised of the Wieman rumor, but said he did not know anything about it except that the Michigan man is one of six or seven receiving serious consideration.

"It will be two weeks before the committee definitely names a new coach," said Mr. Pierce.

Primo Diets; Heavy Ration Gifts Taboo

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Primo Carnera, the Italian giant man, who is to appear with Elzear Rioux in the Chicago Stadium prize ring next Friday night, is on a diet and his admirers have been asked to refrain from sending him gifts in the form of victuals.

Many friends of the big fellow sent up sides of beeves, huge cheeses, miles of spaghetti, and numerous other tidbits, but Leon Cie, Primo's watchful manager, spurned the gifts, politely but firmly. If the fans want to send up an apple or an orange once in a while, all right, but the heavy rations strictly are taboo.

There is a commendable reticence around the Carnera camp in the matter of proclaiming Primo a great fighter, but there also is utter seriousness in the contention that he is a remarkable athlete and a willing trainer. It is true that while he was following the mosaic laying trade and later the carpentering profession, he was a ravenous eater, but since he has undertaken a program which calls for three fights a month for six months, his restraint has been no less remarkable than his physique.

Here's Schedule for Today.

M. Cie has simply to issue orders on all matters pertaining to Primo's conduct and the large boy goes along meekly.

Take the orders for today: Primo has been instructed to arise at 6:30, do his setting up exercises, eat a breakfast of only a dozen slices of bacon and six eggs, and get up to Lincoln park by 8 o'clock.

While his handlers follow in automobiles and on bicycles, Primo is to run around the park for at least an hour and a half, then go back to his hotel for a drawing lesson. At 3 o'clock he will go through his second gym routine at Dave Barry's.

After the gym workout Primo will return to the hotel, where he will take another drawing lesson, eat enough dinner to keep him strong. During the evening the giant man will flit about town making "personal appearances" at wrestling shows, soccer matches, basketball games and what not. Then home and to bed until 6:30 tomorrow morning.

Trafton Wants Match.

Knowledge that Big Boy Peterson received more than $10,000 for staying one minute and ten seconds with Primo in the Madison Square Garden ring last Friday night has caused many of the heavyweight palookas of the nation to break out in a rash.

Individuals thus afflicted include our own George Trafton, who has found someone to whom he can refer as a "big bum." In past years George, a consistent fellow, has refrained from calling men big bums because of his sensitiveness in matters of repartee. But George read about Primo's dimensions and compared them with his own. Then the invective started and George had a great day commenting on Primo's size and suspected awkwardness.

Carnera is signed to fight for Jack Dempsey in March and Trafton is clamoring for the match. It was said by Jack's representatives that he may get the call if he makes a good showing against Battling Criss at Jack's show a week from Friday night.

New York yesterday began the process of steaming up Carnera's second Gotham appearance. According to dispatches last night Primo will fight Meyer Christner at the Garden March 11.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

POTPOURRI.

PRIMO CARNERA, latest aspirant for the heavyweight crown, attracts instant attention because of his size. Intelligent publicity accentuates his proportions. This is good showmanship. Showmanship, as much or more than boxing, is the vogue of current fisticuffs.

Thus curiosity to see whether Carnera has anything else than size will provide plenty of customers for his appearances, including that of Friday night at the Stadium, until some one comes along to topple the Italian giant, if he is to be toppled. That dire contingency will be guarded against so far as possible in choice of opponents during the building up campaign.

The Wake approves Carnera just as we approved Whataman Shires. He is something different. Like many others, we seek to escape the ennui of the present heavyweight situation. The Italian's appearances against Willie Stribling were not impressive. Perhaps he will learn. Perhaps he will be just another yawn.

Chicago's Bruins lead the second half of the American basketball league. Increased attendance, no doubt, will be the answer to continuation of that position. Local sportsmen do not necessarily demand their representatives in any sport be champions, but they do demand they be up among the leaders. Hockey is the latest proof of this statement, for the Blackhawks are having their best year at the box office.

With all the snow and cold, one hardly can realize that the first squads of baseball players will be leaving for preliminary spring training in about two weeks.

JACK JOHNSON'S REPUTATION BARS RACE FROM RING

Memory of Heavyweight Champ Lingers On.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 27.—Around our town there drifts a big black man with a shiny nude skull, giving his head the appearance of a bowling ball, and a brassy gleam to his teeth. At the latest report of him he was jiggling a baton as conductor of a colored orchestra in a chop suey place on Broadway, but he has always had a great change of pace and there is no telling what he will be doing next.

In his time he has handled bales of cotton at Galveston, run a saloon or two, driven taxicabs, stripped to their frames, at forty-five miles an hour in hippodrome auto races on the county fair tracks, stabbed a few decrepit muley cows in the ring at Barcelona, served at least two terms in prison, and held the heavyweight championship of the world.

There is a disposition nowadays to write of the last of the colored heavyweight champions of the world as a wronged man, the victim of the white man's prejudice, a homely philosopher, a patient sufferer, and an all around free style martyr. He seems to be something of a hero and a symbol, too, among the lower orders of society in his own race, but if his conduct were traced back over the years when he had a chance to make a decent impression on the world and thus to help his people, who are very race-conscious, it would be shown that Jack Johnson earned such grief as he has suffered and by his acts occasioned the unwritten but inviolate rule of the fighting for the championship and even barred them from the elimination contests which made so many mediocre Caucasian heavyweights quite well to do.

Why Others Were Barred.

Both Harry Wills and George Godfrey, prizefighters who could have won their way to the challenge round for the heavyweight championship in their respective eras since the war, owe their unspoken but nevertheless effective disqualification to the deportment of another Negro prizefighter coming before their time who was uncommonly cunning in the ways of life in the underworld, but for whom it has always been claimed that his misdeeds were the result of the machinations of unscrupulous white men.

It may be scant justice that other heavyweight prizefighters of the same complexion have suffered from the prejudice created by Jack Johnson, but the fact remains that he did create the prejudice by a series of outrageous acts when he was in a position to allay old feeling by living on the safe side of scandal. He was a challenge to the white people in his daily life and a nuisance and a reproach to his own people as long as he was prominent, and now that he is old and reduced to leading the music to stifle the sounds of the yat-gar-mein, in a chop suey joint on Broadway, the fault is still his.

Other Races Seek Honor.

I do not know the sentiment about him in Harlem or Chicago's south side and perhaps it would be impossible to generalize anyway, but Germany and Italy are much interested in the possibility that Max Schmeling, a German, and Primo Carnera, an Italian, will win the heavyweight championship, and if these nations can regard such an achievement as something on the order of a national honor, as either of them would, then there need be no doubt that the race of George Godfrey would be similarly pleased if he should ever take the title, as he certainly will not if for no other reason than the absolute stop order in all of the boxing jurisdiction against any fight between a heavyweight champion and a black man.

Godfrey might not be good enough to win, but even if he stood out above the white heavyweights as high as Joe Gans towered over the white lightweights of his day he would never be allowed to win the championship because the last Negro who held it declared social war on the white race,

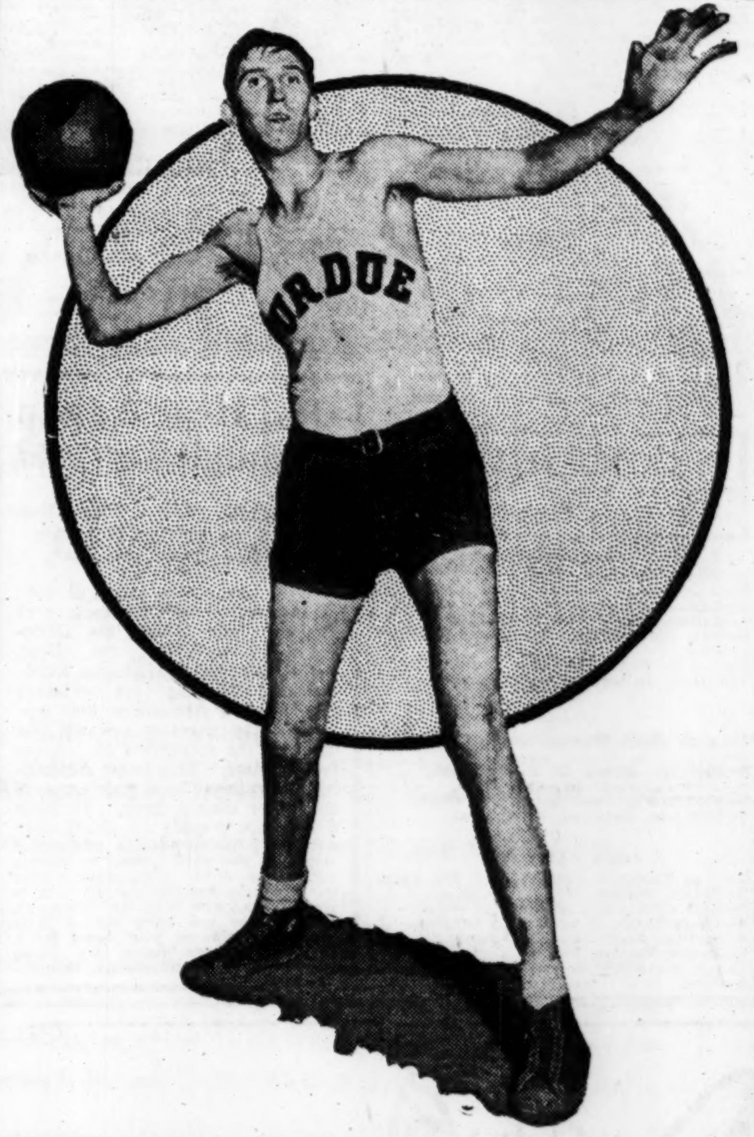
Ready for Battle of Murphys



Charles (Stretch) Murphy, co-captain of Purdue, gets one of the biggest tests of the season when he meets Charles Murphy, captain of Loyola, at Lafayette Thursday night.

'Tis Some Foine Fun the Murphys Will Be Having

BY HARLAND ROHM.

Exhibit A in the case of Purdue vs. Loyola which will be tried in the basketball court at Lafayette, Ind., Thursday night is Charles Murphy of Purdue, hereinafter referred to as "Stretch." Exhibit B is Charles Murphy of Loyola, hereinafter referred to as "Feed."

Unrelated by blood ties the two Charles Murphys [or Murphies] are alike in that both are captains of their teams. Both are seniors. Both tower far above six feet. Both are rated outstanding centers of the middle west and probably of the country. For three years followers of each team have claimed their Murphy is the better and Thursday is the first and last time they will play against each other in college.

Exhibit A, otherwise known as Stretch, is only an inch shorter than Primo Carnera but weighs nearly 100 pounds less. Another contrast with the big Italian is that Stretch absolutely refuses to become excited about anything.

Always at His Ease.

A wag off the basketball floor, on the campus and at the Delta Tau Delta fraternity house where he ducks to enter the door, Stretch does get a bit serious when playing, but never loses his calm or ability to stir things up a bit with the crackle of dry wit. Even the fact he scored 143 points in 12 conference games last year to break the all time record didn't shake him from his unflustered ease.

Strangely the Boilermaker center, who packs 6 feet 6 inches of basketball height and 185 pounds of power under the back board, was a buck private in the rear rank of the awkward squad when he first dared to report for basketball at Marion High school. Murphy played baseball his freshman year at Marion, but the next year the sport was abandoned and the awkward Murphy, who as a fast growing youth was unable to coordinate himself, became the laughing stock of the basketball squad.

Naturally rather touchy about his awkwardness, Murphy was almost driven to quitting the squad by the jibes of his mates, but the Marion coach, who saw great possibilities in the lad kept encouraging him, and by his junior year he became first string center, although not particularly outstanding.

Marion Wins State Title.

But Murphy found himself and suddenly came into his own his senior year and led the Marion High school quintet to the Indiana prep championship, where the once awkward boy had become a highly developed basketball machine. As one writer remarked, "cut Murphy off at the knees and you would still have an outstanding basketball player."

In the fall of 1926, Murphy transferred his basketball and scholastic affections to Purdue, and under the tutelage of Ward Lambert, who has developed such high scoring centers as Blair Gullion and Wilbur Cummins, jumped into the Big Ten limelight in 1928 when he finished second in the conference scoring race and was instrumental in giving Purdue a tie for the championship.

Last year Stretch set a new high scoring individual record. But it is not on offense alone that Murphy is listed among Purdue's assets, for the Marion lad, with almost unbelievable stamina for a man of his build, races from one end of the floor to the other when the occasion demands; first grabbing the ball off one backboard to start a Purdue scoring drive and then going under to finish the drive with a bat-in basket.

Senior in School of Science.

Seemingly a master of basketball, Murphy is a senior in the school of science and has been weathering those stresses and strains with test tubes and angles of repose nearly as well as he tosses shots at a basketball hoop.

Stretch is likely to have one advantage in the Loyola game for it will be the first time in a long while he's played a basketball game without two men guarding him. Loyola figures its zone defense will put five men on him instead of two, which, if it works, will be something new in Stretch's 22 years of experience.

CHAPMAN LEADS WOLVERINES IN SLOW CONTEST

Free Throws Add to Victory Margin.

Iowa Wesleyan, 36; Parsons, 20.
Iowa State Teachers, 30; Upper Iowa, 19.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Markedly off the form they displayed a week ago against Indiana, the Michigan basketball team tonight conquered Minnesota, 26 to 13, in a slow and uninteresting game. Neither team had their basket eyes and both were missing frequently on the long tosses since both defenses cut down on the short tosses.

Capt. Bob Chapman was high point man for the Maize and Blue with two baskets and two free throws. The Wolverine leader, along with Loose, acting Gopher captain, were the only players to register more than one field goal, the Northman also registering twice from the field.

The game was decidedly rough and fouls were frequent. Bondy and Schoening were detected in four personal fouls for the Gophers, while Chapman was also put out in the late stages of the battle.

The Michigan team was disappointing in the first half and the form of the Indiana game was missing. The Maize and Blue registered but four field goals and six penalty throws to amass a total of 14 points, as against the Gophers' 5 points. The tall Minnesota quint had control of the ball during most of the period.

Missed Long Shots.

The Wolverines were badly off form also in shooting, and a tight Minnesota defense offered few easy shots, while the long ones were also going astray. Toward the close of the half the offense clicked once more. The start of play was slow and the scoring was confined to penalty tosses until three minutes of play were over.

Minnesota scored first on Bundy's free toss, the only one the Northmen could make out of seven attempts in the first half. Orwig tied the score with a penalty throw and then broke through for the initial basket. Six scoreless minutes followed before Kanitz dribbled into position for a successful throw that brought Michigan's total to five points.

Another free throw by Truskowski was followed by the first Gopher basket by Loose, a long heave. Norgaard also registered a long toss to cut the Wolverines' lead to one point, 6 to 5. Then Truskowski cut loose with a sensational one hand toss for a basket and connected on one of two penalty tosses on a dub foul. Lovell's two pointer and Orwig's basket ended the half with the score 14 to 5.

Score at Half 20 to 10.

Minnesota staged a threat after the rest period. After Chapman had sunk a basket Hutchinson and Schoening brought the score up to 17 to 9. At the half way mark in the game the scoreboard showed Michigan, 20, Minnesota, 10, the Wolverines registering on a free throw by Chapman, and two successful tosses from the penalty line by Weiss. The lone Gopher point was scored by Norgaard.

Chapman dribbled in for a two-pointer, the last basket for Michigan, three minutes later, and Kanitz registered twice on free throws before Loose swished the meshes with a long toss.

Chapman came through with a free toss when Umpire Schommer detected side line coaching by the Gophers, and this point, coupled with Hudson's gift shot, completed the Michigan total. Karsner scored the Gophers' 13th point.

Gelding Breaks String of Defeats.

New York, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Breaking his long string of defeats, Miss E. F. Fullerton's Ormonbird today won the Miami Daily News purse, which featured a brilliant Monday program at Hialeah park. It was the five year old gelding's second start of the Miami meeting.

With the veteran jockey C. Ponce named as the rider, Ormonbird was made the favorite, closing at 7 to 5. The field of six got away to a good start, with Capt. H. Bennett's Chatover showing the way. At the seven furlong pole Chatover was out in front by several lengths and appeared to have the race well in hand.

In the final furlong, however, Ponce brought Ormonbird up fast on the outside. He took the lead in the last 100 yards, winning by a neck in a hard drive. Chatover finished a head in front of the Royal stable's Blessefield for the place.

Mrs. R. Pollard's Mortgage gave the hunch players something to talk about when he won the "Young" Stribling purse over a fast six furlongs at the Fair Grounds. The event attracted a classy field of three year olds and up. Jumping into the lead at the rise of the barrier, the Pollard colt by Morvich was never headed. Second went to F. F. Brant's Eil-Weir, with Harry Payne Whitney's On the Air third. Mortgage paid $11.40 for a $2 mutuel ticket.

Trainer Gentry and Jockey Townrow shared honors at Oriental park, scoring a double. River Forest easily accounted for the second race, with Knight Commander winning the Providencia. The Providencia topped the card, being a six furlong dash for three year olds and up.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

BRUINS BATTLE ROCHESTER TO HOLD 1ST PLACE

The second game of the Bruins-Rochester series will be played tomorrow night at the stadium. Chicago went into the league leadership by whipping Rochester Sunday night but will lose that position if the New York team takes tomorrow night's game.

Honey Russell may not start the contest because of a fractured thumb on his right hand. Russell received the injury two weeks ago and an X-ray yesterday revealed the break.

The Taylor Trunk girls' team will play a handicap game with the Bethany M. E. girls as one of the preliminaries. The Trunks' opponents will be permitted to use seven players.

SALIVA-SEALED CIGAR

Spit-tipped Cigars and Moustache Cups

Propaganda against tandem bicycles, bustles, or moustache cups, would be laughed out of existence.

And it's just as senseless to cry "wolf" over "spit-tipped" cigars . . . that particular wolf was dead and buried long ago. Today, every reputable manufacturer of a popular priced cigar uses the utmost precautions to safeguard purity and cleanliness. To suggest that any cigar, selling in hundreds of thousands each month, could possibly be manufactured by antiquated, unsanitary hand-methods is ridiculous.

Rocky Ford

ROCKY FORD is as clean as a modern loaf of baker's bread. Made in a sunlight factory . . . pride and show place of Richmond, Va. Sanitary machines cut and roll the long filler . . . and place and seal the fine Sumatra wrapper. Sanitary machines even fold ROCKY FORD in its humidor-foil . . . Taylor Trunks Defeat Cleveland Aces, 15 to 8

Fort Wayne, Ind., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—The Taylor Trunks, Chicago girls' basketball team, defeated the Cleveland Aces, 15 to 8, in a league game here tonight.

2d Place Again at Stake for Hawks Tonight

For the twentieth time this season the Chicago Blackhawks and the New York Rangers will be battling for second place in the American division of the National Hockey league, although they aren't playing each other. The Hawks engage the Senators at Ottawa, while the Rangers have a softer assignment in their city mates, the Americans.

One of the all time records of major league hockey is in danger, the team scoring record. While it is just a matter of a few games until the old mark will be bettered, Boston's Bruins have a chance to break it tonight playing the weak Pittsburgh Pirates. The present record was set by Les Canadiens in the 1927-'28 season with 116 goals, breaking the record of 115 goals set by the Blackhawks the season before. Boston enters tonight's game with 108 goals and a scoring spree might set a new standard.

Victory for the Hawks and a defeat for the Rangers would again put the Chicagoans back in second place and drop the Rangers to third. With their full strength available the Hawks are at least an even bet against Ottawa, despite the return of the Senators to their early season form when they led the league for some weeks. Injury to King Clancy, star defense man, weakened them, but he is once more on the ice and Ottawa has been moving up again.

Games Tonight

Chicago at Ottawa.
Les Canadiens at Montreal.
New York Americans at New York Rangers.
Pittsburgh at Boston.

SOCCER TEAMS IN SECOND ROUND TOURNEY GAMES

The second round of the Chicago Indoor Soccer League tournament will be played tonight at Chicago Stadium.

The Jewish All-Stars, who played a tie with the German All-Stars last week, will meet the Swedish Americans, who lost to the Norwegians a week ago. The Norwegian-Americans will take on the German All-Stars in the second game, and the Bricklayers will tackle the Carpenters in the third. The fourth game will find the Sparta seven lined up against the Jugo-Slavs.

Starlings Give Bird Fans Bit of Winter Fun

BY BOB BECKER.

Bird fans in Illinois and Indiana continue to have fun these winter days in discovering small flocks of European starlings. The starling is a "foreigner," originally introduced in the eastern states.

During the last few years it has been gradually working west, unheralded and unnoticed by the average bird fan. Today these birds are slipping into many sections of the central west. Resembling blackbirds, they frequently are identified as such.

G. H. Clark of Crescent City, Ill., has just reported another bunch of starlings near his place. At least, he is certain they are this species, because they tally with the description which we published some time ago. He writes:

"I am feeding a bunch of birds that came here about Jan. 1. They look like blackbirds except that they have short tails and are slightly brown on the back. I presume they are starlings. My neighbor butchered and put the lard cracklings on a box at his door. Three or four of the 'blackbirds' showed up at once and began to eat the cracklings. More birds have been coming until we finally have 13 in one flock.

"I bought sausage and placed it on a box in my grape arbor, hoping to attract some of the birds. They found the meat right away. At present, 30 of 'em are eating my food every day. Recently I mixed grain with the meat and also put out a few apples. But they have ignored the fruit. Now I am going to see what I can do with rabbits for food. My idea is to kill a few and cook the meat for the starlings because rabbits are abundant down here."

Mickey Walker Denies Divorce Action Charges

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 27.—(AP)—Allegation of his wife that he drank excessively, entertained other women, and had an ill governed temper were denied today by Edward Patrick ["Mickey"] Walker, middleweight boxing champion, in answering the divorce action instituted by Mrs. Margaret Walker of Rumson.

In her suit Mrs. Walker sought custody of a son on the grounds that her husband was unfit to care for him. Walker denied this.

BASEBALL WORLD MOURNS ILLNESS OF CANTILLON

Grand Old Man Fights Losing Battle.

Hickman, Ky., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—While wires and phone calls of regret and sympathy poured in from all parts of the country, Joe Cantillon, the grand old man of baseball, lay helpless and unconscious in his home here tonight, apparently fighting a losing battle against death. His physicians reported little change in his condition.

JOE CANTILLON

Just once since he was stricken Sunday has he been rational, and then he tried to tell a story about Rube Waddell. His paralyzed throat refused to shape the words and he lapsed back into a coma.

Only three men are in baseball today who started as far back as Cantillon. They are Connie Mack, Wilbur Robinson, and Charles Comiskey. All three sent messages today.

Gorilla Jones Knocks Out Izzy Grove in Seventh

Johnson's Reputation Bars Way of Race to Ring Success

Larry Johnson Coming Up.

Of late, a lanky, saddle colored Negro fighter of about 175 pounds has been raising ructions with the white boys in his line of work and it may be that he will win the light heavyweight championship in a year or so for his right hand shoots out faster than the eye can follow and big, tough athletes fall as stiff as cast iron monuments when it lands. His name is Larry Johnson and because he weighs only 175 pounds, his complexion is no great handicap, there being no special significance in any of the titles below the heavyweight.

But if he picks up eight or ten pounds in the next year or two, the heritage from Jack Johnson will begin to operate against him and even if he is a better prizefighter than any white man on earth he will be forbidden the title and the perquisite thereof.

It seems strange that the prizefight commissioners who often swing out into space and chirp their desire to keep the industry pure and sanitary should permit Jack Johnson to sit at the ringside in big arenas and even to reach through the ropes before the start of a main event and shake a principal's hand as he did with Primo Carnera, on the evening of his debut with Big Boy Peterson, with all of the late Tex Rickard's favorite big men and best people present.

Claimed He Sold Title.

Johnson not only performed a very handy all around job of debauching the championship when he held it, which would come close to a world record in debauchery, but years after he got through he claimed to have sold the title for a bribe in the Willard fight in Havana. Whether this was true or otherwise, his claim that he did so would seem to me to brand him as either a faker or a scandalous liar and in either case as undesirable member of the up-front audience and no fit associate for any brawler holding an active license from a state commission.

In the baseball business they are much more careful to avoid the appearance of evil and the athletes are forbidden to have social or business relations even with bookmakers who, in my observation, owe no apologies to any class, taken as a class, in sport or business.

But on this night in the garden one notorious briber, the lad who stuffed the money in the pillows of the White Sox of 1919, attended Carnera as his second, and a past champion who claimed to have faked his last fight as champion, passed the dehumanized Italian a few last words of counsel.

Should Be Thrown Out.

Far be it from me to suggest strict sanitation in the prize fight business, which, to my mind is very dull when honest and amusing only in proportion to the number and villainy of the crooks who adorn it. I like pugilism low and dirty, but if prizefight commissioners are charged with keeping it decent and they mean what they say in their after dinner orations about ideals and respectability, then the next time the last of the Negro heavyweight champions goes shouldering down the aisles to the ring at a big occasion, they should, in consistency, order the house detectives to rush him to the nearest exit and throw him emphatically out.

Pesek and Montana in Wrestling Show Tonight

John Pesek of Nebraska will grapple with Steve Savage in the windup match of the Ashland Boulevard auditorium mat show tonight. Bull Montana, who will be seconded by Primo Carnera, giant boxer, will meet John Kilonis in the supporting card.

Savage has defeated Wally Zybyszo, Billy Demetral and Charles Hanson, while Pesek claims victories in his last 54 starts. Jack Reynolds, world's welterweight champion, meets Jack Gorman in another bout. The curtain raiser brings Pietro Bacini, huge Italian, in action against Big Bill Beth.

ILLINI DISCARD MENTAL PRACTICE FOR PHYSICAL

Tune Up on Free Throws; Drill Today.

Champaign, Ill., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—After a week of strenuous mental practice for final examinations, the University of Illinois basketball team will resume physical practice tomorrow in preparation for the game with Chicago here Feb. 5.

After successful starts against Ohio State and Michigan, the Illini met more than their match in Wisconsin, co-champions of the conference, who scored only three field goals, but defeated them, 14 to 9. This defeat evidently has created in the team an anxiety for action, for the men reported today and practiced foul shooting in an attempt to remedy the deficiency which cost them the Wisconsin game.

There is a possibility that C. R. Canfield, captain of the freshman team last season, will make a bid for a position on the team if he is available at the end of the semester. He matriculated in the university last February and will have completed a full school year Wednesday. He has worked with the squad for a fortnight and is considered to be a prospect by Coach Craig Ruby.

George Hoffman Defeats Babe Hunt in 10 Rounds

Harrison and Marshall divided a City league double header at the latter's gym yesterday, the Harrison heavies winning, 23 to 20, while the Marshall lights took an 18 to 16 decision. The latter's victory pushed them into a tie for first place with the Harrison lights, each with a record of five won and one lost. The Harrison heavies now lead the west section with four victories and four defeats. The winner of today's game between Crane and McKinley will join them in first place.

Joe Rudman and Walt Osty featured for the winning heavies with nine points each, while Capt. Feigenberg's four baskets headed the Marshall scorers. Louie Gratch's basket in the last two minutes gave the Marshall lights victory after Herrison, lagging by seven points at the half, rallied, tied the score, and then went ahead on Sisulak's free throw. AN EXPECTATION SURPASSED

It was expected that the men who now control Durant Motors would introduce a line of good motor cars.

That they would build honest cars. Cars of character that would serve long and economically and well—precisely the kind of cars they have been in the habit of building for many years.

It was also regarded as certain that the new Durants would bring a new response to the throttle and a new thrill to the wheel. For no group of manufacturers has more consistently stressed the importance of motor car performance.

That each of these expectations has been realized is attested by the reception accorded these cars wherever shown.

But few would have prophesied that Durant, or any other builder, could have produced, at Durant prices, a line of motor cars so comfortable, so roomy and so smart in line and design.

Durant has surpassed public expectation.

REVEAL TERMS OF NEW STEEL CONSOLIDATION

Republic Co. Setup Is Announced.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The new Republic Steel corporation, which is a merger of four western concerns into the second largest independent steel company, will start out as a $335,000,000 concern.

The terms of the merger, which will embrace the Republic Iron and Steel company, the Central Alloy Steel corporation, the Donner Steel company, and the Bourne-Fuller company, and the proposed capital setup of the new company were announced yesterday.

The Republic Steel corporation will have $60,000,000 preferred stock and 1,885,144 no par common shares outstanding, the latter being carried in the balance sheet at $167,725,688. Its funded debt will be $59,059,400. The other items follow: Current assets, $86,599,612; fixed assets, $223,745,437; investments, etc., $13,600,060; deferred assets, $1,751,704; current liabilities, $23,678,028; reserves, $25,233,697.

Basis of Exchange.

The merger plan is essentially an exchange of preferred and common stocks of the new Republic Steel corporation for those of the constituent companies. Holders of common stock of the merging companies will be offered new Republican Steel common stock on the following basis:

Republic Iron and Steel, one share for each share held; Central Alloy, four-ninths of a share for each share; Donner, 5-12 share for each share; Bourne-Fuller, ten-thirteenths of a share for each share.

Holders of the preferred stock of the constituent companies will be offered new Republic Steel preferred stock and cash on the following basis:

Republic Iron and Steel, one and 1-10th shares and $10 for each share; Central Alloy, one and 15-100ths shares and $1.75 for each share; Donner first preferred, one and 1-10th shares and $1 for each share; Donner convertible preferred, one and 1-10th shares and $1 for each share.

The Trumbull-Cliffs Furnace company will be taken into the merger by exchange of its stock for old Republic Iron and Steel common stock prior to the above exchanges. It was stated by Otis & Co., managers, that stockholders who accept the terms may deposit their shares for exchange up to Feb. 17.

The new $55,000,000 Republic Steel corporation preferred stock has been underwritten. There also will be $5,000,000 preferred stock of the Trumbull-Cliffs company, a subsidiary. Republic Steel preferred stock will be cumulative as to 6 per cent dividends and will be convertible into common stock on the following basis: Share for share until May 1, 1932; thereafter until May 1, 1937, one and ¼ shares for one common share; thereafter until May 1, 1942, one and 1½ shares for one common share; and thereafter, one and ¾ shares for one common share.

Employment Trend.

The trend of industrial employment continued downward in December for the third successive month, according to the monthly review of the Chicago Federal Reserve bank. And for the first time in 1929, employment in a given month was slightly below that for the corresponding month of 1928. Reporting firms in the Chicago district showed a decline of .3.5 per cent in number employed and 7.3 per cent in amount of pay roll between Nov. 15 and Dec. 15, compared with the previous month.

But the amount of regular savings deposits as of Dec. 31 was 0.8 per cent larger than on Nov. 30, although totaling 4.3 per cent under Dec. 31, 1928. The number of accounts declined 0.4 per cent from Nov. 30 and increased 0.4 per cent over Dec. 31, 1928. The average account increased 1.2 per cent over Nov. 30, but declined 4.6 per cent from Dec. 31, 1928.

Government of Turkey Issues Anti-Foreign Order

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Turkey's new economic revolution took an anti-foreign turn today with the issuance of a government order expelling from the stock exchange foreign members whose membership had been guaranteed by the treaty of Lausanne. The order affects six Greeks, three Italians, one Rumanian and one Frenchman. Their expulsion leaves twenty-five Turks the sole members of the bourse.

Tells of Railroad's Fight Against Barge Competition

BY SCRUTATOR.

It has long been a favorite argument of railroads that inland waterway transportation is uneconomical and that government accounting for the barge lines it operates is deceptive when it shows apparent profits.

There may be grounds for this. But the Southern railway system, in documents filed with the interstate commerce commission recently, has turned the argument into another channel to protest against the issuance of certificate of convenience and public necessity to a privately owned barge line proposing to operate between Cincinnati and New Orleans.

In brief, the Southern claims that the new company, the Mississippi Valley Barge line, would, if granted the certificates and the joint rail and barge rates, approximately 20 per cent under all rail rates, have a complete monopoly on the traffic in its territory which it had available vessels to handle. The argument here is that the barge line, under present conditions, can haul much more cheaply than the rails serving the same territory.

Protests Cheaper Form.

Supporting its contention that the public convenience does not require the opening of a new water line, the railroad states that it would open no new territory and would create no additional traffic, but would depend on tonnage that it could take away from the Southern and other southeastern railroads.

This may be true, if it is assumed that no increase in shipments will come about as a result of lower rates. The Southern and the Louisville and Nashville, the roads that would be most affected, might lose tonnage. But the proposal that a cheaper form of transportation under private ownership which supposedly expects to profit by its operations be completely barred from the field has a strange sound.

It is doubtful if the railroads north of the Ohio will take any part in the opposition to the establishment of the barge lines. They might fight if efforts were made to cut their proportion of the freight rate down to Cincinnati.

Questions Assumption.

The Southern questions the assumption that a cheaper freight rate on such a waterway is really any saving to the public generally, much as it might benefit the particular shippers whom it would serve. It holds that the principal dependence for transportation must be on the railroads, and that if their gross revenues are reduced by water transportation in one section, they must get more from other sections or give impaired service.

Rights of railroads are ably expounded by their friends. They may be justified in protesting against being forced to join with barge lines in making lower rates. But to ask the interstate commerce commission to tell the people who live along the Ohio and Mississippi that they cannot make full use of the streams because that is bad for the railroads seems a little far fetched. Moreover, it is contrary to all that has been adopted as a waterway policy.

DEERE & CO. REPORTS $68.59 A SHARE NET ON COMMON STOCK

Further improvement in the agricultural implement industry last year is evidenced in the annual report of Deere & Co., made public yesterday. It was by long odds the best period in the company's history and brought a remarkable increase in earnings.

"While general business has been somewhat unsettled by the recent collapse in the stock market," Chairman William Butterworth says, "the sales of farm equipment have so far not been disturbed. The passage of the law creating a federal farm board and the appointment of a most excellent board by President Hoover have had a tendency to stabilize farm prices and to create a better feeling in the farming industry.

Net income for the fiscal year ended Oct. 31, 1929, was $15,181,949, equivalent after preferred dividends to $68.59 a share on the $18,917,300 common stock outstanding. Surplus earnings after dividends were $11,841,911 and after writing off $17,904,000 for trademarks, good will, etc., there was a total surplus of $19,007,302.

Net income for the preceding period was $9,290,067, or $37.50 a share on the common stock. The balance sheet as of Oct. 31, 1929, shows current assets of $72,653,284 and current liabilities of $9,366,318.

Deere & Co. was a leader on the New York curb yesterday, closing at 620, a gain of 55 points for the day.

U. S. LINES, INC., NET IS $1,693,151 BEFORE TAXES

New York, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The United States Lines, Inc., in its report of operations from April 8, 1929, when it took over the first vessel of its fleet from the United States shipping board, to the end of the year, showed net earnings of $1,693,151, after deducting expenses, etc., but before franchise and federal taxes.

The consolidated balance sheet showed total assets of $7,654,641, of which $5,311,928 was in cash, and current liabilities of $1,286,405. The company declared its first semi-annual dividend on the preference stock of 50 cents a share last December. It was paid Jan. 15.

Hercules Powder Company Earnings Total $4,358,904

The annual report of the Hercules Powder company, manufacturers of chemicals and explosives, shows that the net income for 1929 amounted to $4,358,904, equal to $5.95 a share on the common stock outstanding. Net profit in 1928 totaled $4,038,980, or $5.51 a share. President R. H. Dunham stated in his report that the increase in profit was brought about by a steady expansion of the company's domestic and foreign markets and the development of technical improvements which increased the efficiency of the manufacturing end of the business.

No heavier
but much stronger

The trouble a certain manufacturer was having with broken transmission gears is ended—thanks to the Interstate Metallurgists—and to an Interstate Alloy Steel.

Here is the situation these experts faced:

The gears were too light, considering the kind of steel being used and the work they had to perform. Stripping and breaking were occurring too frequently. But it was absolutely impracticable to change their design.

The Interstate Metallurgists recommended an alloy steel with greater dynamic strength . . . and the trouble has been eliminated.

The sound advice and experience of these experts is available to you without obligation.

Fox Retains His Grip on Film, Theater Companies

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 27.—William Fox remained head of the Fox Film company and of the Fox Theaters company today despite attempts of creditors and stockholders to dislodge him. Federal Judge Frank J. Coleman adjourned until tomorrow the hearing on applications for an equity receivership.

A proposal that all the officers and directors of Fox Film company resign, that Bernard M. Baruch, Edward C. Delafield, president of the Bank of America, and Herbert P. Howell, president of the Commercial National bank, be named trustees of the voting stock, in order to avert the receivership was met in federal court with the answer of the principal creditors through Morton Bogue, counsel: "We would rather have a receivership."

Seek Neutral Ground.

Between those extreme grounds the interested persons will seek to find a neutral middle ground. Conferences will be held tomorrow with the banking group which is to handle the refinancing and with the creditors to learn more of the details of the plan proposed by Samuel Untermyer, counsel for Mr. Fox.

Mr. Untermyer's proposal had several strings attached to it which did not meet the approval of the creditors' representatives. He agreed to deposit the resignations of the officers and directors with the court, but demanded that a trustee agreement of December which made Harry L. Stuart and John E. Otterson, representing 80 per cent of the unsecured creditors, joint trustees with Mr. Fox, be abrogated. He also specified selection of six of the seven members of the new board of directors, including Mr. Fox and Winfield Sheehan, his general manager.

Dillon, Read & Co., Lehman Bros., and Bancamerica-Blair & Co. are the bankers who will work out the details of the financing under the new proposal.

Fourth Petition Filed.

There are three petitions for receivership for Fox Film corporation and today a fourth petition was filed in federal court for a receivership for Fox Theaters corporation on the grounds that such action was necessary because of the difficulties in which Fox Film finds itself.

Maurice Shutte of Allegheny, Pa., owner of 100 shares of class A stock of Fox Theaters corporation, made the application for receivership through his attorney, David W. Kahn. He says in his petition that Fox Theaters owes Fox Film approximately $17,000,000 and that because of the danger of a receivership in Fox Film there may be a demand for payment which cannot be met at the present time owing to lack of liquid assets, although the firm is solvent.

PLANS CHAIN OF TOBACCO STORES FOR CANADA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 27.—Dunhill International, controlled by the Schulte interests, is planning a retail chain of stores for the product it handles in Canada, which may involve the negotiations for existing chain tobacco stores in the dominion by the Dunhill interests, it was learned today.

A. L. Ogden, vice president, said today that the reports of such expansion were "premature," but that the company did have extensive expansion plans which would, however, await an improvement in conditions in business generally.

New York, Jan. 27.—The bull crowd kept their market moving forward today. A little lamely, it is true, a bit uncertainly at times, more or less irregularly, always, but forward, nevertheless.

With everything seemingly against them, the earnings reports confirming popular suspicions that trade recession in the last three months has been quite severe, disappointment over the Montgomery Ward report, a growing disposition on the part of traders to accept profits on their holdings, persistent short selling in anticipation of a reaction and yet—progress!

By which it might be rightly guessed that the market showing was made at the expense of a good deal of

Commonwealth Edison Soars 10 Points.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The Insull stocks, most of which have been quietly marking time in the background for several days, led in a market which was generally higher on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. Middle West Utilities, leader of the group, was the most active issue on the board with sales in excess of 63,000 shares. The stock closed at 28, up 1½ for the day.

Commonwealth Edison jumped 10 points to 260 on sales of about 1,000 shares while National Electric Power A advanced 1½ on a like trade. Both the Insull investment firms, Corporation Securities and Insull Utility, gained a point. The latter was the most active with a turnover of about 10,000 shares.

Rumors Are Current.

The movement in the Insull issues was accompanied by the usual procession of rumors which follow in the wake of every advance in the Insull group. The gossip was largely a rehash of reports previously denied or still circulating without authentic sponsorship.

Other utility stocks were prominent in the trading. United Gas advanced 1½ points to cross the 30 mark. Western Continental Utilities dropped 5 to 13 on light trading.

The automotive stocks were higher during most of the session although Bendix and Borg Warner failed to retain gains registered in the early part of the day. Auburn was the most spectacular, climbing to 218½ on sales of 2,000 shares.

Ryerson was a fraction higher following the announcement of an increase of more than 25 per cent in net earnings for 1929. Net earnings for the period were $2,308,084, equal to $5.77 a share on the common stock, compared with $1,824,000, or $4.56 a share, in 1928. Gross sales during the year gained 11 per cent to $34,111,083. The balance sheet as of Dec. 31 shows current assets of $13,097,437, against current liabilities of $1,595,321.

Vortex Reports Income.

In the general list gains ranging from 1 to more than 3 points were chalked up for Associated Apparel Industries, Gleaner Combine Harvester, and Vortex. The Vortex company reported yesterday that net income for the year ended Dec. 31 amounted to $707,078, equivalent to $4.05 a share on the common stock outstanding, compared with $550,389, or $3.45 a share, in the previous twelve months.

National Securities Investment issues were quiet in the face of the report by the company for the year ended Dec. 31 showing a shrinkage in surplus of $4,859,778, after marking down investment to cost of market basis. Net income for the year after deduction of preferred stock dividend requirements amounted to $4,662,830. The balance sheet showed total assets of $32,356,116.

Radio stocks were mixed. Grigsby was active and slightly lower. Raytheon was up 3, despite failure of directors to declare the regular stock dividend of 5 per cent which is due March 1.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Cotton goods opened quiet today in the unfinished lines. Wash goods are active. Burlaps showed little change in cables or local conditions. Raw silk cables say 20,000 boxes have been taken from the primary market by the Japanese syndicate that has been supporting prices. Quotations here were 50c a pound higher. In the garment section of dry goods threats of strike are holding back commitments with mills.

Chicago Curb Exchange Stocks

Spirited trading in International Rustless Iron featured yesterday's Chicago curb session. The issue finished fractionally higher at 2 on a turnover of over 7,700 shares. De Forest eased fractionally, but recovered to finish unchanged following a statement by the company that the pending application for a receivership would be vigorously contested. Harrison's was steady at 1½ on announcement that 1929 sales were approximately 43 per cent above the 1928 volume.

Watching Earnings

When the maintenance of earnings involves careful watching of expenses, many an executive does well to look for error in the treatment of property in the accounts. Too liberal depreciation, or charging off capital items to expense, shows up in fictitiously reduced earnings. Reverse practices inflate earnings. The Washington Water Power Company

First and General Mortgage Gold Bonds

5% Series due 1960

Dated January 1, 1930 Due January 1, 1960

Interest payable January 1 and July 1 at the office or agency of the Company in New York. Coupon bonds in $1,000 denominations, registerable as to principal. Fully registered bonds of $1,000 and $5,000 denominations and authorized multiples thereof. Fully registered bonds and coupon bonds interchangeable. Redeemable as a whole or in part at any time at the option of the Company upon at least 30 days' published notice at 105 prior to January 1, 1937; at ¼ less for each full year elapsed after December 31, 1935 up to and including December 31, 1953; thereafter at 100½ up to and including December 31, 1955; thereafter at 100¼, up to and including December 31, 1957; and thereafter at 100; plus accrued interest in each case. Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company, New York, Corporate Trustee.

The following has been summarized from a letter, dated January 25, 1930, available on request, from Frank T. Post, Esq., Vice-President of The Washington Water Power Company, and is subject to the more complete information contained therein:

Company: The Washington Water Power Company is one of the most important hydro-electric companies in the Pacific Northwest. The Company's system (including properties of its subsidiaries and properties presently to be acquired) supplies directly or indirectly electric power and light service to the City of Spokane and 62 other communities in eastern Washington and 30 communities in northern Idaho, and serves a territory with an estimated population of 233,000. Power is supplied to a wide diversity of industries, to other public utilities, and to some 130 miles of electric main line of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad Company.

Security: The First and General Mortgage Gold Bonds are to be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct first mortgage on certain of the electric and water properties presently to be acquired by the Company, and by a direct mortgage on all other fixed property of the company subject to a closed issue of First Refunding Mortgage 5% Bonds, due 1939. Of the latter $4,911,000 are outstanding with the public, and $7,514,000 thereof will be deposited with the Trustee under the Mortgage subject to withdrawals for sinking fund purposes of the First Refunding Mortgage without substitution of cash or other property. The Mortgage will also cover (as provided therein and subject to the First Refunding Mortgage) all the outstanding securities of subsidiary companies, as defined in the Mortgage. Spokane United Railways is not initially to be such a subsidiary company. Additional Bonds may be issued, property released from the lien of the Mortgage and modifications made in the Bonds and the Mortgage as provided in the Mortgage and referred to in the above-mentioned letter.

Earnings: Net earnings before depreciation of the Company and all subsidiaries, including earnings of properties presently to be acquired, for the 12 months ended November 30, 1929, were equal to over 5 times the annual interest requirements on the entire funded debt of the Company to be outstanding with the public upon completion of present financing. Subsidiary companies have no funded debt with the public.

Supervision: The Company is controlled through ownership of substantially all of its Common Stock by American Power & Light Company. Electric Bond & Share Company supervises (under the direction and control of their respective Boards) the operations of the American Power & Light Company and The Washington Water Power Company and of the subsidiaries of those companies.

We offer these bonds when, as and if issued and received by us, subject to the approval of our counsel. It is expected that delivery will be made in the form of temporary Bonds about February 11, 1930.

Price 98½ and accrued interest

White, Weld & Co. Bonbright & Company

We have accepted as accurate the information and statements contained in the above-mentioned letter and herein, but this offering is made on the condition that no errors, omissions or misstatements in said letter or herein shall give rise to any claim against us.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

TRANSPORTATION BUILDING IS SOLD TO W. P. DAVIDSON

Minnesota Man Again Is Skyscraper Owner.

BY AL CHASE.

Watson P. Davidson, of St. Paul, Minn., has again secured control of the twenty-two story Transportation building, at the southwest corner of Harrison and Dearborn streets. Mr. Davidson traded the Chicago skyscraper, several years ago, for a huge tract of South Dakota land.

The Transportation Building corporation, of which Ernest A. Jackson is president and C. F. Johnson secretary, at that time became the new owners of the building. Yesterday this corporation transferred title back to Mr. Davidson who in turn placed the property in the hands of the Minnesota Transportation Building corporation. It is understood that Mr. Davidson controls the Minnesota corporation. Taylor, Miller, Busch & Boyden were attorneys for Mr. Davidson.

Erected in 1912.

The Transportation building was erected in 1912 by Charles C. Heisen. Two years later he sold it to Louis W. Hill, son of "Jim" Hill, and Mr. Davidson. The latter bought out Mr. Hill's interest some time afterwards.

Harry Zisook has sold the seven stores and twenty-six apartments at the northwest corner of 95th street and Vanderpoel avenue, known as the Vanderpoel block, to William F. and Emilie S. Friedeman, for an undisclosed consideration, subject to $175,000. Morris Getz & Co., were brokers.

Kegel To Address Architects.

Health Commissioner Kegel will talk on electric refrigeration and other matters pertaining to his department at the monthly meeting of the Illinois Society of Architects this evening at the Architects' culb, 1801 Prairie avenue.

The six apartment building at the southwest corner of Grace and Herndon streets has been sold by Dr. Horace E. and Elise Turner to Alwas Benjamin and wife for an undisclosed price, through the north side office of John J. Ready.

Sherwood D. Steele has sold the Addcliffe apartments at 1248-50 Addison street, lot 54x125, to Nils Swanson for an undisclosed consideration, subject to an encumbrance of $67,500. The E. E. Stults Realty company was broker.

NATIONAL TEA PLANS BUILDING AT PARK RIDGE

The National Tea company has purchased the vacant 150x176 at the northeast corner of Touhy and Prospect avenues, in Park Ridge, and contemplates erecting a one and two story building next spring. The owner will occupy the one story section and lease the corner two story unit.

Top yesterday, $13.50; average, $12.70.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 7,000 cattle, 36,000 hogs, and 14,000 sheep.

A supply of nearly 90,000 hogs brought prices down 10c at the opening yesterday, but losses were soon replaced during activity in midsession and spots at the finsh were slightly above the extreme close of last week.

Yesterday's total equaled the largest in two years and compared with 56,172 the previous Monday. An advance estimate of only 36,000 for today, however, changed the situation some and small packers and order buyers were taking hogs readily at stronger prices late. Reports from five of the leading markets show 88,000 in sight for today, against 92,000 last Tuesday.

Many Bought from Outside.

The extreme top at $10.35 was paid late in the day for 191@215 lb averages, against a peak of $10.25 at the opening and $10.35 Saturday. The general average moved down 5c at $10.05. Outside buyers obtained 21,000, the largest number to shippers since last February. Only 6,000 were left at the close

Yesterday's 16,000 cattle, only a moderate Monday supply, met narrow outlet at barely steady prices Plain kinds in some instances were considered 15@25c lower than last week's unsatisfactory close. Fancy light yearlings were absent and prime 1,311 lb steers topped the price list at $15.50.

Few sales passed $14.50, which was paid for 1,036 lb yearlings. Bulk of cattle of beef merit sold at $11.00@14.25. In contrast to last week's active market for butcher stock trading in cows and heifers moved slowly at barely steady prices. Calves lost 50c to $1.00 of the recent gain. Stockers and feeders were scarce and steady.

Best Lambs Steady.

Better grades of light and handy weight fat lambs sold generally steady yesterday, while others ruled weak to 25c lower, extreme weights lacking finish, showing the full loss. Most 80@90 lb averages of good quality brought $13.00@13.25, although shippers and city butchers paid upwards to $13.35@13.50 for a few closely sorted kinds.

Arrivals at 18,000 were fairly large for Monday and compared with 13,612 the previous Monday, with 14,782 a year ago and with 12,542 two years ago. Aged sheep and yearlings were scarce and steady. Feeding lambs were unchanged.

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

Await Chinese New Year.

Banks with far east connections are awaiting the approach of the Chinese New Year, which begins this Thursday and continues until the following Tuesday, with considerable interest to see if any large failures will be announced due to the recent slump in silver. The new year in China is always observed by the payments of all debts; hence many bankruptcies often happen at that time.

Food Shares Move Up.

Food shares as a group have been doing quite well, after being difficult to move for a month or more. The food group usually does well in a "poor" year, but the old slogan that food stocks are "depression proof" because "every one must eat" is a misleading one. At present market interest is centering on National Biscuit, General Foods, Gold Dust and Standard Brands.

Hampers Progress

Recent market action of International Telephone and Telegraph has been most disappointing to followers of this stock. Considerable liquidation or short selling has appeared on all bulges which has seriously hampered its progress. According to some this indicates that the company may announce plans relative to new financing in the next few months although what form this will take is dependent on the condition of the general market. Earnings of the company for the last year are expected to establish a new high.

Report Large Short Interest.

American Can among pivotal issues was able to gain ground in an otherwise irregularly lower market yesterday. A large short interest is reported in Can which is keeping the stock in strong technical position.

BANKRUPTCIES.

43604—J. W. Gould Jr., clerk; voluntary. Liabilities, $8,136; assets, $200. Mitchell Benicker, attorney.

New Postal Telegraph Plant Is Apt in "Storm Dodging"

What is termed one of the most modern headquarters in the world will be officially opened tomorrow in Chicago when Col. A. H. Griswold, executive vice president, will officiate at ceremonies incident to the moving of Postal Telegraph-Cable company's main headquarters from the Postal Telegraph building, 140 West Van Buren street, to the Insurance Exchange building, 166 West Van Buren street. Chicago's new Postal Telegraph main office becomes the operating center for the largest of six inland communications capitols set up by the company to act as relay points in a superimposed wire network, providing a new system of telegraphic "storm dodging" inaugurated this winter. "Storm dodging" is said to be the latest development of the communications art. Postal Telegraph now is provided with reserve channels, linking New York, Chicago, Dallas, New Orleans, Brimingham, and Atlanta.

DEFENDS COPPER PRODUCERS IN FIXING 18C PRICE

New York, Jan. 27.—Consumers of copper should not try to make their profit at the expense of the producer, said Gordon R. Campbell, president of the Calumet and Arizona Copper company, today in defending the policy of copper companies in holding the metal for 18 cents a pound.

"The country cannot prosper if consumers of raw materials refuse to pay producers of those materials a fair price, for the manufacturer is dependent on the producer of the raw material for his finished product," said Mr. Campbell. "If copper fabricators and other consumers refuse to pay a fair price to copper companies, the latter will be unable to operate their mines profitably and pay good wages to their workers. Coöperation, rather than competition, should be the watchword of business.

"The price of 18 cents a pound is a reasonable one for copper. When you hear low figures on cost of producing the metal you will find that the cost is reckoned without taking into account depletion, depreciation and taxes. Yet all manufacturers make allowance for those items in calculating the cost of what they produce. Now reckoned on that basis it costs 14 to 15 cents a pound to produce refined copper."

Mr. Campbell estimated that the industry has curtailed production on the average about 40 per cent. He expressed the opinion, however, that the worst is over and that from now on production will increase if anything.

Most people have a family circle

They have relatives living in other places—some near, some far. And they keep family ties alive . . . by telephone. It is very easy to make out-of-town calls and it certainly is a pleasant way to keep in touch with your "folks."

Sons and daughters away at school . . . perhaps an older son working his way to success in another city . . . your own parents, still living in the home of your childhood . . . dear friends moved away . . . all of them are as near as your telephone.

Some persons set aside a certain hour each week for telephone calls like these, which mean so much. From the quiet of their own homes they telephone those they wish might be with them. Try it yourself. You will be repaid for the small cost many times over.

On calls to points approximately 60 to 300 miles distant the station-to-station day rates have been reduced recently in amounts which will mean a saving of more than $5,000,000 to telephone users of the United States.

WHEAT DECLINES; OTHER GRAINS AT LOW POINT

Closing Prices Show a Fair Rally.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Liquidation was on in the grain markets the greater part of yesterday with May wheat selling down to $1.24⅛, the lowest figure since Nov. 13, while all deliveries of corn, oats and rye sold at a new low on the crop, May corn touching 89⅝c; May oats, 46c, and May rye, 89½c.

Stop loss orders were caught on the way down, but short covering and buying against bids absorbed the surplus in the pit and the finish was on a fair rally from the inside figures.

There was a big fight on around $1.25 for May wheat on the way down, with commission houses persistent buyers at that figure on resting orders or 1⅛c under Saturday's finish, but the persistent weakness in Winnipeg finally resulted in a further decline. However, there was further good buying, and as soon as the distressed selling let up there was a rally of around 1c from the low with the finish at net losses of 1⅛@1¼c, March being $1.21@1.21⅛, and May, $1.25⅝. Winnipeg closed 1⅝@2⅜c lower, while Liverpool was off 1¼@1⅜d. Buenos Aires and Rosario finished unchanged to ⅝c lower.

Winnipeg Wheat Weak.

Winnipeg May wheat finished only 4⅛c over Chicago, the smallest difference so far, and compared with 11c recently. Despite the narrowing of the difference there was no export business reported in Manitobas, the Pool failing to offer abroad over the week-end which had some effect in curtailing the demand. No sales of hard winters were claimed.

It was understood that No. 3 Manitoba was offered for opening of lake navigation shipment at a liberal discount under No. 2 hard winter. No. 3 Northern at Winnipeg was quoted at $1.16⅝ at the close.

The break in futures brought domestic cash prices down to around the federal farm board loan levels, with No. 1 hard at Kansas City quoted as low as $1.15½, nominal, or 2½c under the basis for that market. The coöperatives bought a few cars of No. 1 northern at Minneapolis at $1.25.

The general run of news on wheat was of a depressing character, and the 1930 annual summary by the bureau of agricultural economics stating that prices for the coming crop will not differ much from those of 1929 unless winter wheat suffers severe damage, or spring wheat acreage is reduced had some effect on values. Secretary of Agriculture Hyde in a summary of conditions said reports did not indicate relief from the fierce competition which prevailed between exporting countries, or an increase in the foreign or domestic demand. He feels that it is necessary to reduce rather than increase 1930 production.

Liquidation in Corn.

Long corn came out persistently through commission houses, and while there was buying by shorts and holders of bids, the finish was ⅛@⅝c lower with March 87c and May 90⅝@90½c. Weakness in wheat, and the prospect the 1930 prices would be lower than either 1928 or 1929, if farmers increase the acreage as expected, according to a bureau of agricultural economics summary had considerable influence on sentiment. Country offerings to arrive were small, and eastern demand rather slow. Visible supply increased 936,000 bu for the week, and is 14,232,000 bu against 24,518,000 bu last year. Buenos Aires finished unchanged for the day, with May there only 24¼c under Chicago.

Liquidation was on in oats with a lack of aggressive support until near the close when short covering caused a rally of ⅜@⅝c from the low point while the finish was ⅜@⅞c lower, March being 45⅛c, and May, 46⅝c. Cash houses were fair buyers on the break.

The rye trade had the impression that a member of the syndicate was a free seller, and prices dropped sharply only to rally toward the last on short covering, with the close ⅛@2c lower, March being, 91⅝c, and May, 90½c. Latvia was said to have bought a considerable quantity of Russia rye.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

There was a noticeable lack of export demand for cash wheat at the seaboard and no sales of consequence were reported. Local handlers sold 28,000 bu wheat; 60,000 bu corn and 39,000 bu oats to the domestic trade with 50,000 bu corn sold to go to store.

Despite the sharp decline in futures there was no change in the local spot wheat basis with No. 2 red, May price to 1c under and No. 2 hard and No. 1 northern 3½@4½c under May.

Offerings of cash corn were somewhat larger with the basis ¼c higher to 1c lower. Discounts as compared with May follow: No. 3 mixed, 9@9½c; yellow, 8¼@8½c; white, 5@5½c; No. 4 mixed, 10@11½c; yellow, 9½@11½c; white, 6@7c; No. 5 mixed, 12½@13½c; yellow, 11@13½c; white, 8½@9½c; No. 6 mixed, 14@15c; yellow, 13@15c; white, 10½@14½c. Oats basis was ¼c lower to ½c higher with No. 2 white, ⅜@1c under and No. 3 white, 1½@2½c under May.

Official receipts of grain at Chicago Monday: Wheat, 20 cars; corn, 380 cars; oats, 51 cars; rye, 2 cars; barley, 26 cars.

EGGS IN STRONG RALLY

Egg features made a strong finish, with January refrigerator contracts up 1⅜c, or $210 a car, followed openings on the Chicago Mercantile exchange that set new lows for the season. The steady advance represented a return of confidence, despite a ½c decline in the spot market and storage reports were not encouraging. Sales were 148 cars and receipts 9,382 cases.

An improvement of ½c in spot butter quotations led to a small advance in futures. Sales were 66 cars and receipts 8,625 tubs. Prices follow:

STOP ORDERS IN LARD

Heavy receipts in hogs, western markets having more than double the run of a year ago, combined with a break of 10c in prices and the decline in grains, led to selling on stop orders yesterday and some hedging by packers, although the latter were credited with buying on the breaks featured the provision trade.

Lard futures had a range of 12½@15c and closed unchanged, all but January, which was 2½c higher. Liverpool lard was 3@6d lower. Week's exports were 12,345,000 lbs of lard, against 12,240,000 lbs last year. Of bacon they were 6,154,000 lbs, against 2,882,000 lbs last year. Bellies were 7½c lower and cash trade fair. WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Liquidation in all grains, carrying prices down to the lowest of the season, changed bearish sentiment very little. The short interest was cut down somewhat on the break and buying against bids, in which there was a profit, closed practically all grains right in the "bids." A rally is due, but most traders express the belief that lower prices for wheat should be made in order to bring in buying by foreigners. Those inclined to the constructive side of the market remain in hopes of the decline bringing in buying orders from the other side, which they believe should make a rally.

One of the largest local traders expressed the belief that caution should be used in pressing the selling side of wheat on breaks below the present level, as the government may spring something of a bullish character and start a covering movement on the part of shorts, which would bring a sharp upturn in values. Beyond that he sees nothing in the market to advise buying for more than a moderate rally.

A decline in Canadian wheat varieties means that when export business does develop, as it must in time to a certain degree at least, it will center almost entirely on Manitoba varieties. This should have the effect of gradually reducing the burdensome stock of wheat in Canada at the expense of domestic supplies.

Urges More Intelligent Supervision of Man Power

More intelligent supervision of the man power in industry was advocated as a deterrent of the losses due to labor turnover by Arthur Perrow, chief accountant of the Illinois Bell Telephone company, in an address yesterday before the Advertising Men's post of the American Legion at the Hotel Sherman. Hasty resignations and impulsive dismissals which burden the cost of production could be minimized, he said, if supervision were employed to analyze individual problems of the men.

Stockholders of German Bank Approve Merger

BERLIN, Jan. 27.—(AP)—An extraordinary general meeting of shareholders of the Deutsche Ueberseeische bank today agreed without debate to fusion with the Banco Brasileiro. A statement issued by the bank pointed out that competition with native banks established since the war, and especially with branches of North American banks, was so severe that the only way to preserve German financial interests was in concentration and rationalization.

Choose New Orleans for Inv. Bankers' Convention

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 27.—The 1930 convention of the Investment Bankers' Association of America will be held in New Orleans, according to an announcement made today by the board of governors. Although definite dates have not yet been set, it is expected that the meeting will be held during the latter part of October.

Illinois P. O. Receipts in 1929 Total $78,610,465

Receipts from Illinois postoffices in 1929 totaled $78,610,465.44, a decrease of $150,664.77 from the total for 1928, it was made known yesterday by the Illinois chamber of commerce. The 1929 figure, however, represents an increase of $12,549,829.65 over the receipts for 1924 and is the first annual total since that year to show a decrease.

COTTON CLOSED AT INSIDE

Cotton prices, although holding fairly during the morning, turned weak after mid-day yesterday and declined sharply, closing around the lowest of the day, with scattered liquidation and short selling, recording net losses of 9 to 16 points on futures in Chicago and 12 to 19 points in other markets, New York leading the break. Early steadiness was due in a measure to higher Liverpool cables, but the market there weakened and closed 1 to 6 points net lower, with spot sales 5,000 bales.

The break in grain had a depressing influence on cotton traders, and although there was buying early credited to trade interests, liquidation was a feature at the last.

Cotton traders regarded the government's statement that any increase in acreage and production this year would be unwise as bearish. In view of conditions surrounding the cotton industry, it says, it seems highly desirable that cotton growers should give special attention to economical production.

Exports the last week were 132,204 bales, against 161,596 bales last year. Since Aug. 1 the aggregate is 4,832,- bales for the same time last year. Port receipts for the season to date are 6,999,251 bales, against 7,556,649 bales last year. The world's visible supply of American cotton is 5,716,804 bales, against 5,604,512 bales last year.

Spot prices were off 15 points with New York 17.20c and sales of middlings 300 bales. New Orleans, 16.75c; sales, 654 bales; Galveston, 17.15c and Houston, 17.05c. Prices follow:

Roads File Request to Build Connecting Line

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—(AP)—The Great Northern and Western Pacific railroads today filed their joint brief with the interstate commerce commission, seeking permission to build a 200 mile railroad to unite the rails of the two systems.

Greater service to western America over more than 38,000 miles of rails is claimed by the carriers to be their aim. An investment of only one-half of 1 per cent of the capital already tied up in the two systems will be required, the brief stated, in uniting the lines by building the road from Keddie, Cal., to Klamath Falls, Ore. The Southern Pacific, only railroad now connecting California with Oregon and Washington, is opposing the project.

Asks Permit to Transfer Bond Issue to Pennsy

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—(AP)—The Pennsylvania, Ohio and Detroit railroad sought permission today to issue and deliver to the Pennsylvania railroad $5,067,000 of 4½ per cent gold bonds in an application filed with the interstate commerce commission. The Pennsylvania, which controls the Pennsylvania, Ohio and Detroit under lease, would guarantee the securities, which will partly reimburse it for previous expenditures.

BUY NO DESK
Until You've Seen the Sensation of The Business Show

Buy no desk until you have seen Skyscraper, the new desk by Shaw-Walker. You'll marvel at the downright cleverness of it. You'll revel in the rich beauty of it. You'll be amazed at the organized features of it. And you'll gladly pay the moderate price asked for it. Your people, too, will thank you for an easier and better day's work.

No wonder the Skyscraper Desk by Shaw-Walker was the sensation at the New York Business Show.

Every desk-interested person who saw it, whether office worker, executive, official, or professional man, admired the way in which it solves old-time desk problems.

It has a new kind of top—smooth and glove-like. No other desk can have it.

Each drawer is organized for the worker's special convenience. One drawer is your "waste basket." Another takes a special model flat-type telephone. Others hold trays for "In," "Out" and "Pending" mail. Others, special card files, visible indexes, pencils, pads, accessories, etc.

Come see it, or send your man. Or mail the attached coupon for complete information. Shaw-Walker Company, 210 N. Michigan Ave.; Telephone, Randolph 8760.

Spreckels Tells of Efforts to Aid Kolster Radio

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 27. — Rudolph Spreckles, San Francisco sugar magnate and financier, today testified that he had indorsed notes to the extent of $1,350,000 for the Kolster Radio corporation, that he had loaned the corporation cash, and had purchased 57,246 shares of the preferred stock in an effort to keep the radio concern on its feet. Mr. Spreckels was a voluntary witness in Newark before Special Master in Chancery John A. Bernhard, appointed to investigate charges of Albert Schwartz, Paterson, N. J., lawyer and a stockholder in the Kolster corporation, that the market in Kolster stock had been "rigged." Mr. Spreckels said that he had done no "rigging" and that he had taken no part in any pools.

Statement of the Home Insurance company, New York, made public yesterday, is the first of the great fire insurance companies to show the results of their 1929 operations.

The statement shows as of Jan. 1, 1930, total assets of $128,914,889, a gain of more than $26,000,000 during the year. The reserve premium fund increased during 1929 from $39,326,734 to $41,393,575, the reserve for miscellaneous accounts, taxes, dividends, and other obligations is $15,194,872, of which over $4,000,000 is entirely voluntary. Net surplus is $48,325,632, which, with the $24,000,000 capital, gives a surplus to policy holders of $72,325,632.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was quiet and in absence of business prices were unchanged at 3.58c for spots, duty paid. Refiners were said to be showing interest at this level, but offerings were light with holders asking 3.64c. Early advances in futures as a result of covering against recent sales in the spot market and buying by trade and Cuban interests, promoted by the firmer showing of London, were followed by reactions in the later trading under realizing or liquidation. The close was not unchanged to 2 points higher. Approximate sales were only 29,950 tons. Prices follow:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. close.

SEASONED BONDS
6% and MORE!

FAVORABLE prices which enable you to obtain a yield of 6% and even more from high grade bonds will not long continue, most financial authorities agree . . . because thousands of individual investors, and many banks, insurance companies, corporations, and institutions are steadily increasing their purchases of bonds.

Rising bond prices should result from this growing demand. Today's buyers should profit by it.

Our current, broadly diversified list offers you an unusual opportunity to "salt away" your funds in high grade bonds, solidly secured. Many are priced to yield 6% or more.

You will obtain a high degree of safety and attractive income through the period of decreasing bond yields that is at hand, economists say. You also will have excellent prospects of appreciation in the value of your holdings.

United Fruit.

F. B. G.: United Fruit company was incorporated under the laws of New Jersey, March 30, 1899, and acquired the properties and business of a number of companies then in existence which possessed lands and other property in South and Central America and the West Indies.

The company produces, transports, and distributes bananas, sugar, pineapples, cacao, oranges, grapefruit, and other tropical products, and operates, through subsidiaries, a fleet of steamships, maintaining freight and passenger service between Central and South America, the West Indies, and the United States. It also operates railroads, telephone and telegraph lines, radio stations, and two hotels.

For the year ended Dec. 31, 1929, the company reported net income of $17,802,992, equivalent to $6.78 per share earned on 2,625,000 no par shares outstanding. After dividends there remained a surplus for the year of $7,433,563. Net income in 1928 was $20,606,393, or $8.24 per share on 2,500,000 shares. In 1927 net income was $19,621,341, and in 1926, $19,511,471.

Cash holdings on Dec. 31, 1929, totaled $24,182,730, exclusive of $10,000,000 of United States government securities in the insurance fund. The decrease in cash holdings during 1929 was due principally to capital expenditures for producing properties, reserve lands, and steamships.

Appropriations totaling $9,763,367 have been made for capital expenditures during 1930. There remains also $5,994,894 unexpended appropriations previously made for work now in progress.

Unfavorable market prices for sugar and cacao were experienced in 1929, but it was stated that the company would show some profit on its sugar operations.

Dividends are at the annual rate of $4 per share. A special 5 per cent stock dividend was paid April 1, 1929.

Obtaining better than average investment results
through management

THE purposes of the general management investment companies of the American Founders group are to invest the combined funds of many individuals with safety, and to obtain the maximum income commensurate therewith.

Having no interests beyond the secure and profitable employment of funds, the companies bring organized experience and dispassionate judgment to bear directly on these objectives. The history of the group ever since 1921 shows that better than average earnings can be achieved without the sacrifice of safety, by constant skilled attention to investment values and opportunities.

An extensive economic and statistical organization has been built up by American Founders Corporation for the administration of its own investment portfolio and those of the four subsidiaries. A force of specialists and analysts is equipped for the continuous observation of many investment fields, domestic and foreign. Proper management means not only the careful selection of investments, but the supervision of all holdings, so that when conditions warrant the funds may be shifted by the directors to the best advantage.

Consolidated resources exceeding $200,000,000 permit favorable diversification and advantageous purchase of selected bonds and stocks.

A copy of the annual report of American Founders Corporation for the fiscal year ended November 30, 1929, may be obtained by addressing Founders General Corporation, 50 Pine Street, New York City.

NATURAL GAS — The Servant in Millions of Homes

A Utility Romance: UNITED GAS COMPANY

There were 4,366,000 domestic consumers of Natural Gas in 1928, an increase of ten percent over 1927. They used over 320 billion cubic feet for cooking, heating, refrigeration, and various other purposes. In these millions of homes Natural Gas furnished about twice the heating units at half the cost of manufactured gas. Those who used Natural Gas received an unfailing, efficient, economical service. Even when they switched on their electric lights they may have been indirect consumers of Natural Gas—because electric public utility plants used over 77 billion cubic feet in 1928.

United Gas Company—among the four largest of its kind in the United States—through its subsidiaries and associated companies serves scores of communities in six states, in a territory having a total population of 2,800,000. The territory supplied includes Houston, San Antonio, Austin, Wichita, St. Louis, and many other cities in Texas, Illinois, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri and Kansas. The population in this territory has been showing a regular, substantial growth, and provides the Company's management with ample opportunity to build in accordance with its foremost policy: Growth—a Super-Gas System.

BULLS MANAGE TO KEEP STOCKS MOVING AHEAD

heaving and muscular energy. Constructive traders, in fact, found it necessary to switch their activity frequently from one group to another in order to make any headway at all.

Conspicuous Exceptions.

They managed to keep most of the pivotals out in front, but there were some very conspicuous exceptions to note, even here. Steel, for instance, slipped back to 177½, a loss of 1½ points, at the close; Johns-Manville selling off for as much, Radio receding a half point, and General Motors dropping fractionally.

But over against them were General Electric, closing with a net gain of 4¼; American Can, up a point; American Telephone and Telegraph, up 1⅝; Eastman Kodak, up 5¾; Allied Chemical, up 2; Sears Roebuck, up 4⅝; and Atchison railroad, up 1⅝ points.

Food shares were quite strong as a group, National Biscuit selling close to 200; the public utilities were generally higher, and the rails showed numerous gains in spite of the poor earnings statements for December. Amusement shares had a good day.

Money continued extremely easy, with outside funds offered at concessions from the official low of 4 per cent, but the demand was unusually light.

Steel Rises in Early Trading.

The buying wave washed up on nearly every shore at one time or another during the day. In the early trading bull leaders converged on steel stocks and United States Steel common ran up to new high levels above 180 on the strength of reports of a large flow of business to the corporation and indications pointing to substantially increased mill operations in the near future, but profit taking developed on a heavy scale later in the day and turned the leader back. Inland Steel in this group scored a net gain of 5 points on a small turnover.

On the day the best group showing was made by the farm implements shares, under the leadership of Case which ran up a net gain of more than 10 points. International Harvester and Advance Rumely both continued in good demand.

Motor shares were the center of a flurry of activity in the early afternoon as the Chrysler pool swung into action. One string of the shares, which included a block of 25,000 shares at 36, started at 35⅝ and wound up nearly a point above that figure. The large orders for this stock gave dormant shorts something to worry about for a few minutes, but a little later the bull forces switched their operations to the amusement group and interest in the motors quickly subsided. Net changes in most of them were fractional.

In the amusement division Fox Film continued to move in a manner which reflected the feeling of uncertainty prevailing in speculative quarters pending the decision of the court on the actions pending against the company, but the bulls won out in the end and the closing price reflected a gain of more than a point. Warner Bros. and Radio-Keith-Orpheum were both active and strong.

Consolidated Gas and Public Service of New Jersey were in brisk demand. Montgomery Ward, down at one time nearly 4 points, rallied before the end and closed at 44, which represented a loss of only a small fraction on the day. Tobacco shares continued to advance, also some of the rubbers had a good following.

RAILROAD NOTES

George M. Shriver, senior vice president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, testified yesterday before the interstate commerce commission the B. & O. had sought to acquire the Buffalo and Susquehanna railroad with the intention of maintaining all existing routes and channels of trade. Daniel Williard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio, testified that control of the Buffalo and Susquehanna and the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh by the Baltimore and Ohio were closely allied. If these roads were acquired, he said, the B. & O. would have control of a cross Pennsylvania line as far east as Sinemahoning, Pa., and from there to a connection with the Reading at Williamsport, a distance of seventy-five miles it proposed to construct its own line at a cost of about $15,000,000.

One of the new type electric locomotives to be used for freight switching between 39th street and Monroe street in the loop terminal of the Illinois Central railroad will be on exhibition at the Randolph street station today between 10 a. m. and 3 o'clock. Two more are to be delivered within a week, making four all electric switching locomotives in early service there.

A new division of joint rail-barge-rail rates between Fargo, N. D., and points in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, and Missouri was prescribed yesterday by the interstate commerce commission. The change resulted from complaint of the Inland Waterways corporation against the Great Northern Pacific railways. The commission not only set up a new scale of rates effective March 1, 1930, in connection with the Mississippi-Warrior operations between Dubuque and St. Paul and Minneapolis, but ordered a retroactive adjustment upon the same basis since Sept. 26, 1927. In its complaint the Mississippi-Warrior service charged the railroads claimed an unjust and inequitable division of the joint rail-barge-rail rates.

The association announced it was about to expand its program of activities among exporters, manufacturers, and shipping interests. The association was formed in 1910 to foster foreign trade.

Latest figures by R. L. Polk and Company, showing total registration of these cars

In state after state, Buick has outsold every one of the fifteen makes of cars in its field, by 2 to 1; and official registration figures prove that America is driving 700,000 more Buicks than any one of these fifteen other makes. Moreover, during the past several months, motorists have given BUICK even greater preference by awarding it from 35 to 50 per cent of the combined sales of ALL cars in its price class. A record tribute to BUICK'S greater value!

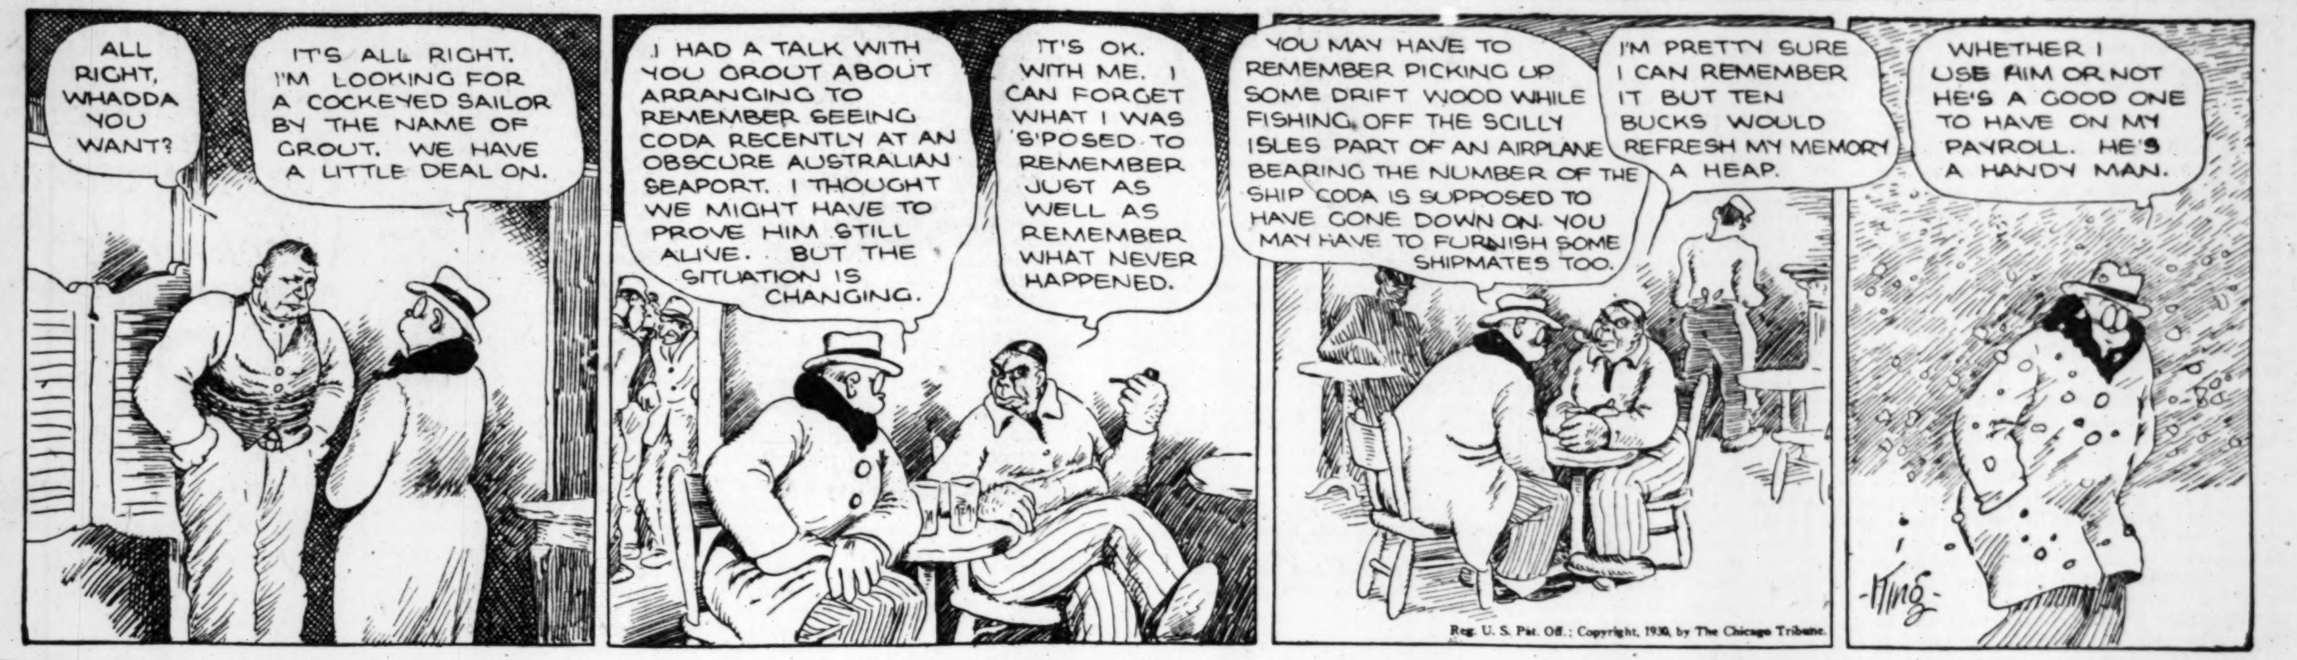
GASOLINE ALLEY—THERE, THAT'S FIXED



ALL RIGHT, WHADDA YOU WANT?
IT'S ALL RIGHT. I'M LOOKING FOR A COCKEYED SAILOR BY THE NAME OF GROUT. WE HAVE A LITTLE DEAL ON.
I HAD A TALK WITH YOU GROUT ABOUT ARRANGING TO REMEMBER SEEING CODA RECENTLY AT AN OBSCURE AUSTRALIAN SEAPORT. I THOUGHT WE MIGHT HAVE TO PROVE HIM STILL ALIVE. BUT THE SITUATION IS CHANGING.
IT'S OK. WITH ME. I CAN FORGET WHAT I WAS S'POSED TO REMEMBER JUST AS WELL AS REMEMBER WHAT NEVER HAPPENED.
YOU MAY HAVE TO REMEMBER PICKING UP SOME DRIFT WOOD WHILE FISHING OFF THE SCILLY ISLES PART OF AN AIRPLANE BEARING THE NUMBER OF THE SHIP CODA IS SUPPOSED TO HAVE GONE DOWN ON. YOU MAY HAVE TO FURNISH SOME SHIPMATES TOO.
I'M PRETTY SURE I CAN REMEMBER IT BUT TEN BUCKS WOULD REFRESH MY MEMORY A HEAP.
WHETHER I USE HIM OR NOT HE'S A GOOD ONE TO HAVE ON MY PAYROLL. HE'S A HANDY MAN.

INSTALLMENT II.

EN ROUTE.

Jim made an early start. The herds had already been tallied and all the last details supervised. He sent the wagons ahead to pick up a bill of groceries waiting for them at Lockhart. The cattle moved slowly forward in a long loose line guided by the point men. Young Rutledge took charge of the lead herd and let it string out for half a mile or more. He knew that the best trail drivers never pressed the stock except when necessary but let the animals saunter on as though under no restraint. Long of leg and horn, the steers were fleet as deer. Startled into a stampede they could make a tremendous lot of trouble.

The second herd under Sim Hart followed several miles behind the first. Sim had been up the trail half a dozen times and knew every bad spot in it as a Latin teacher knows the difficult passages in his Virgil.

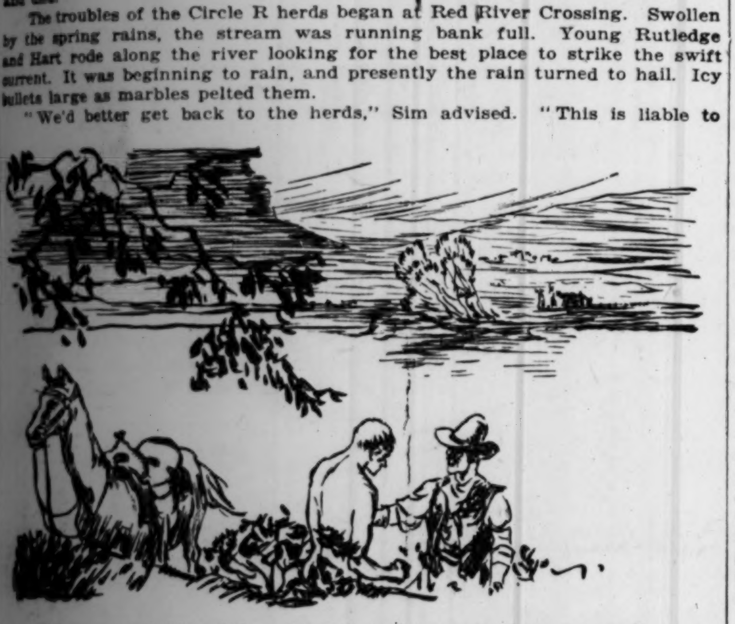
They made a good drive the first day and bedded down not far from Lockhart. Supper finished, the first guard took the herds and the other riders settled down around campfires to tell yarns and listen to them. Both Jim and Sim Hart made a round of their respective herds to make sure that the cattle were resting easily. They left the riders circling the bedding ground in different directions and singing softly range songs to let the longhorns know they were friends and not enemies. It was a night of stars, quiet and windless, such as every trail driver has known many times.

Water and feed were plentiful and Jim noticed with satisfaction that after the cattle had been driven ten days they were in better condition than when they started. Scarcely a day passed without the sight of other herds, strung out in long snakelike formation, heading north by east in the same direction as the Rutledge outfits. They were making for Dodge or Ellsworth or Cheyenne as the case might be.

One day followed another without mishap. Round Rock and Fort Graham lay behind them. They crossed the Brazos to the left of Cleburne, passed Hell's Half Acre, and forded the Trinity. Fort Worth was then, as Sim Hart phrased it, "a little burg on the bluff where the panther lay down and died."

The troubles of the Circle R herds began at Red River Crossing. Swollen by the spring rains, the stream was running bank full. Young Rutledge and Hart rode along the river looking for the best place to strike the swift current. It was beginning to rain, and presently the rain turned to hail. Icy bullets large as marbles pelted them.

"We'd better get back to the herds," Sim advised. "This is liable to start a run. Onct when I was workin' cows back in the piney woods and cane brakes of east Texas——"



"I come mighty nigh not cutting the mustard as it was."

Jim did not wait to hear the end of the story. He untied the cantle strings which held his oiled slicker and put on the coat as a protection against the stinging shots of hail. When he reached the herd he found the cowboys hunched up in their saddles but circling the cattle watchfully to prevent a break. The longhorns were drifting before the storm.

The hail pounded down for an hour, then stopped as suddenly as it had begun. Jim left the waddies to turn and bring back the animals while he cantered back to make sure that Sim's herd had not stampeded. Already the sun was shining and there was not a cloud in the sky. He caught sight of the foreman at the point and Sim joined him.

"All right here. They're quieting down fine. You still figurin' on crossin' tonight?"

"Let Jack Barton do that. The gray he's astraddle is a right good swimmer. You don't want to start babying yore punchers."

"All right. We'll let Jack go," Jim agreed reluctantly. He was still young enough as a trail boss to prefer to take risks himself rather than to ask his men to face them. But this he knew was a weakness to be overcome.

Barton stripped to the skin and removed the saddle from his mount before he rode into the stream.

"Ouch! It's cold," he shouted back.

The hail had chilled the water to the temperature of a mountain brook fresh from a snowbank.

Jim watched the man anxiously. He could see the gray was having trouble. The animal was in the deep water where the current ran swiftly. It seemed to have stopped swimming. Barton slipped from its back just as the horse went under.

"Got a cramp from the cold water. Jimminy, Jack'll never make it," Jim cried excitedly. "What the blue blazes you doing, boy? Come back here, you crazy fool."

Jim had plunged into the river and was heading straight for Barton. The gray had disappeared beneath the rushing waters but the head of the cowboy still rose and fell and rose again as he struggled with the icy torrent. Young Rutledge shouted encouragement to him. Barton was making little headway. It seemed to Jim that the strokes of his arms were growing feebler. Any minute the red head might vanish never to reappear.

The rescuer gave his cowpony a loose rein except for an occasional touch of guidance. "Go on, you Buckskin. You're doing fine. We're close now. Keep a-traveling," he urged.

Jim lunged forward and down from the saddle just in time to get a grip on the curly red hair of the sinking man. He could feel Buckskin faltering beneath the extra drag of the cowboy's weight.

The rider shook his foot from the wide wooden stirrup. "Grab hold, Jack," he ordered. "That's right. Can you hang on if I let go of yore head? Good. Stick to that stirrup, boy, like death to a nigger's heel." Rutledge slid from the saddle on the other side from the cowboy.

The ice cold water chilled him instantly, but he knew they were out of the most rapid current. A dozen yards of swimming separated him from the shallow water near the bank. Presently his feet touched bottom. Chilled to the bone, Barton's fingers released their hold and he slipped back. Jim caught him beneath the arms and dragged him ashore. The man sank down, eyes closed, completely exhausted.

Jim shivered in the warm sunshine. First, he must light a fire to dry his clothes. The sun did not yet have its summer heat and would not be enough to steam out the moisture. He gathered slivers of wood from a tree that had been struck by lightning. In the pocket of his shirt was a small oilskin package of matches. Within a few minutes he had a fire roaring.

Jack Barton looked at him and grinned. "You were sure enough Katy-on-the-spot, Jim. I come mighty nigh not cuttin' the mustard as it was."

The cowboy edged closer to the fire. "I'm still a leetle mite trifling and some shivery. It was a right cold bath, if any one makes inquiries."

Jim stripped to the skin and draped his clothes on logs and brush around the fire. "Reckon we'll have to divide 'em when they dry. We got to make a night of it here without grub, blankets, or tarp. How do you divide one pair of boots, one pair of pants, one shirt, and one vest between two suffering sons of Adam?"

"Gimme the shirt and the pants, an' you can have the boots and the vest," Barton suggested. "You forgot one saddle blanket. Too bad we ain't got a deck of cards. We could play freeze out for first choice."

"We're liable to play freeze out anyway, cold as these nights are. But we're in luck at that. It'll be warmer here than at the bottom of the Red."

They did very little sleeping. One side of them toasted and the other side froze. Barton complained that he had to turn as often as a turkey on a spit to keep both sides done the same.

"When I think that only yesterday I kicked on Doc's coffee," Jim mourned.

"I'd give five dollars Mex for the makings," Barton murmured.

They had never been more glad to welcome the sun when it rose.

Barton looked across the river at the smoke rising from the chuck wagon. "What a chump a man is anyhow! The boys are sittin' down to steak and flapjacks and hot coffee, an' there ain't one of 'em got sense enough to be thankful. Missing all that good grub reminds me of a young lady I onct kept company with. She usta sing a song about how waters broad between us roll since auld lang syne."

Two riders came into view, caught sight of the smoke of their fire, and rode down a long slope to their camp. The strangers were hard looking specimens.

"What's wrong, boys?" one of them asked.

Old English Songs Please Hearers, Critic

Heyner's Chicago Debut Brings Applause.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Herbert Heyner, baritone, made his first Chicago appearance yesterday afternoon and in its course managed to present about as interesting a song program as has been heard during the whole season. He appeared at the Playhouse under the auspices of the Musicians' Club of Women.

The program was rather highly specialized. It began with a group of Shakespeare songs with their original musical settings, some, like "O, Mistress Mine," which are quoted in full; others, like "Greensleeves," only referred to, but always with the music of Shakespeare's day. Then, by way of contrast, came a group of continental works, with a seldom heard Schubert song, an even less frequently sung song by Hugo Wolf, and others by Chabrier and Cesar Cui who almost never get upon song programs at all.

Back to old England, Mr. Heyner sang a rather long, but as it turned out unusually well liked group of the English lutenists of about 1600, the lute accompaniments having been transferred to piano. At the end another English group, mostly of old texts but with modern settings. As a whole it was not only novel but in many cases charming.

Mr. Heyner possesses a robust voice which in spite of its weight he was able to turn to the graceful ornaments of old music in fairly expert fashion. One suspects him of having been somewhat more of a student of songs than the technical art of singing, but in such a case this is by no means a disadvantage. Songs in his performance quite often took on definite personalities, and generally, if not invariably the words of the texts were projected distinctly and engagingly.

His concert manner was cordial; he paused here and there to make brief explanations to repeat songs on demand or to extend compliments to his accompanist, Frederick Schauwecker, who, he said, for reasons connected with a late Chicago arrival, got his first sight of the music only at 11:30 o'clock that morning. No apologies were necessary; both singer and pianist moved through the program as though they had been in complete accord for weeks.

Some Jest While Striving to Obtain $1,000 for U.S. History

Not even history, and American history at that, is a serious matter to a humorist, professional or amateur. Various and sundry of the manuscripts submitted thus far in THE TRIBUNE'S 500 word history contest treat the topic with a spirit of levity in summing up the epochal events that have helped to frame this country's evolution since the day when Columbus landed. The first prize is $1,000.

The competition was opened by this newspaper following the announcement that former President Coolidge had been retained to draft such a history, within a 500 word limit, to be carved on the side of the Mount Rushmore memorial in South Dakota. No restrictions were placed on the contestants as to the form or style they were to use, and the inevitable humorous efforts were encountered as expected.

One youth with a decidedly Socialistic philosophy, apparently, submitted his conception of the country's history in a total of six words—thus: "Chapter I., Business; Chapter II., Big Business; Chapter III., More Big Business."

Another utilized the full quota of words, but his fancy led him along the lines of Joe Cook's famous story of why he is unable to imitate four Hawaiians. While undoubtedly comical, it is doubtful whether his scrambled allusions would shed much light on the subject of America's development, if offered as history to a person having no knowledge of events as they are.

Prizes totaling $2,100 await the ten winners in the contest. A first prize of $1,000 will be awarded for the best paper received which sets forth the most important events in our national history in what the judges decide to be the most praiseworthy form. Nine minor prizes have been set aside, totaling $1,100

Any entrant may submit as many forms as he desires, provided only that his effort does not exceed the word limit. In computing the words in each paper dates, such as July 4, 1776, will be counted as three words. Each year mentioned, such as 1492, will be considered as one word. Each initial used will be counted as one word, except where they constitute the initials of a state, as N. Y., which will be taken as one word. Names such as Hudson bay, Kenesaw mountain, St. Paul, and other geographical titles will be counted as two words.

Midnight of Feb. 15 will be the deadline for the contest. At that time all manuscripts must be in the hands of the history editor of THE TRIBUNE Tribune square, Chicago.

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send your name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question James L. Muir, Apt. 1, 878 North Clark street, was awarded $5.

The Question.

Would you care to live in the old home town again?

The Answers.

Joe Gottschalk, 4105 Sheridan road, machinist—I was born in Munich, Germany—that's where they make good beer. I have been in this country only two and one-half years. I would enjoy going back for a visit but not to make a living. One can make a better living in the United States.

Mrs. H. B. Meyers, 2252 West 14th place, housewife—That was Salt Lake City, and I would like to go back there to live. I have many friends there, and I love the mountains, the climate, and the freedom of the west.

Harry Joffey, 7651 East End avenue, insurance agent—Certainly not; not to live. I came from a small town in Lithuania. It probably is all right for those who were born there and remained there, but he who comes from there to the United States sees the freedom and enlightened living conditions we enjoy here.

Mrs. Edith Smiles, 2426 Lexington street, housewife—Yes, I would. My home town was Lykenstown, Pa. In Chicago we have no mountains, no flower perfumed valleys, no forested hills tinted with red and golden yellow in the fall of the year. There everything is beautiful, and just right.

Paul Edouard Brusstar, Riverside, Ill., costume designer—I would not. My home town was Baltimore, Md., a beautiful and an aristocratic city, but Chicago beats Baltimore all hollow, even with its snow and ice in the winter and its heat in the summer. I have lived here twelve years and Chicago is nearer and dearer to me than any place in the world.

Some French Await Future Bourbon King

Meanwhile Living in a Royal Dream World.

BY ANN SOMERS HOUSE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 27.—Did people ever talk to you in the third person? Have you ever worn a crown or diadem "seriously"—that is, on other than carnival days?

Does it make a big difference to you whether you may enter church before or after the duchess of Luynes?

Have you ever dined without unfolding your napkin so as to protest silently against having got a minor place at a banquet table?

If so, then you may be fit to marry into the smartest families of France, where the ten fingers of your hand don't suffice to count all the generations of aristocratic ancestors.

Americans think France is a republic these days. Socially, they are wrong. France still has a "queen," the duchess of Guise. Now and then she comes to Paris from her château of exile at Brussels. The duke of Guise, pretender to the French throne, isn't allowed to enter France. But the duchess comes and grants gracious audiences even to butcher boys and coal carriers if they only will apply for the honor of kissing the finger tips of "la reine de la France." The duke and duchess of Guise still have a miniature court. There are at least a dozen French families who talk about them as "their majesties," hoping for lands and riches on the day when the duke triumphantly enters France as king.

Royalists of the old régime (Bourbon) wage obstinate feud against the "Bonapartist" nobility, made during the first empire. A couple of years ago the feud became open at the marriage of Mlle. de Luynes, descendant of a royalist family, with the duke of Montebello, great-great-grandson of Napoleon's general Lannes. Mlle. de Luyne's forefathers had been noblemen for five centuries. Those of the duke of Montebello were noble a mere one hundred years! It was a scandal. Even over the tomb of the young duchess, early this year, the Luynes family wouldn't consent to shake hands with the Montebellos.

When a famous De Rohan flirted with Marie Antoinette at the court of Louis XVI., Joachim Murat, ancestor of today's Bonapartist Princesses Murat, still was a nobody in some provincial town. That explains why the princess of Rohan who married Prince Lucien Murat was considered to have made a mesalliance, even though she still is a princess in a country that has no kings.

Another Princess Murat is more class conscious. She knows that she can't aspire to the lofty positions of the Rohans, Talleyrands, etc. But she is proud of her rank in the French social hierarchy. Her great-granddad was one of Napoleon's finest soldiers, Marshal Ney, and was made a prince. She married the great-grandson of another Napoleonic general, Joachim Murat. Her title of "princess" is but 100 years old, but it's highly authentic and historical. No law in France makes noble title a monopoly of noblemen, so any one can tack on a title. Men like the old duke of Bissaccia dine without unfolding their napkins when they feel the hostess didn't give them the seat at the dinner table that seemed due to the rank of their ancestors. That way only French nobility can uphold its prerogatives against all knocks of the irreverent republican era and against the "vile power of money."

Anna Gould of New York, who divorced Marquis Boni de Castellane, managed to marry a duke of Talleyrand of the ultra-exclusive royalist set. Helen McDonald Stallo of Cincinnati walked off with a Prince Murat of the Napoleonic caste. But these are exceptions. American commoners rarely break into the haughty circles of French aristocrats.

Some one said when the Bourbon kings were in power: "They learn nothing; they forget nothing."

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

Francine Larrimore, who has been missing from our playbills a little too long (since that hardened hoax, "Chicago," it seems), returned last night in a comedy dealing with the polite passions of that region of well dressed romance called Westchester. "Let Us Be Gay" is its title: and an audience at the Studebaker tried to dress up to it. There were alert lines tinged with the wit of semi-sophisticates: there were droll and cynical fashionables, assembled for tea, bridge, swimming, and other week-end ceremonials; and there was the usual modern game of "Who's got the husband?" And above everything else, there was Francine, a very alert girl and excellent actress, who reads dialogue as if her temperament were nearly always at the fever point.

Plays of this type have become well standardized in plot formula, and Rachel Crothers, an old hand at theatrical authorship, knows the rules to be followed. There is no new line of approach in "Let Us Be Gay," but, on the other hand, there is a freshness of view and a spontaneity of treatment. So the curtain rises upon Miss Larrimore in her boudoir, sobbing her heart out for reasons unknown until a handsome, hefty husband comes bolting in, to swear that his philandering meant nothing and that she is really taking this thing too seriously. In tears and wrath, they part. It's merely a prologue, but notable in its vitality.

Then the play proper, and improper, begins: Francine, the daring divorcée, comes as week-end guest (after five swift years in Paris) specially chosen by her eccentric hostess as a man trap for a lady killer. The old lady's granddaughter has begun to run wild at the age of twenty and is making ardent gestures at a man who isn't her fiancé. Will Francine undertake to break it up? She has a reputation for knowing how.

This is the start; and you need not be Philo Vance to deduce the rest, in outline. Francine's intended victim is Francine's old husband, and they brave out the situation in the style alleged to be "civilized." The foolish virgin blurts out her jealousy before the entire party; the handsome, hefty husband finds other wooers sitting upon his ex-wife's balcony in the moonlight, yearning to cross the portal into the dim bower of delight; quarrels, suspicions and accusations follow. But beneath these worldly negligees and shirt fronts, hearts are warm with old sentimentality; and finally the parted couple decide that another honeymoon is in order.

Miss Larrimore is still as vivid and dynamic as she was when she rated as the most emotional of the flaming ingenues. She gives this rôle an eager and alluring performance. She is, as usual, vibrantly alive, and that small, winsome head of hers, with its semi-classic profile, is exceedingly ornamental.

Charlotte Granville, playing the crankiest hostess who ever ran a popular week-end country house, is another dominating figure in the excellent company. Kenneth Hunter, as an easygoing amorist in tweeds, and Gilbert Douglas as a mild man of letters with a plaintive mistress twined around his neck, are others who register. The male side of this company, in fact, is exactly right. "Let Us Be Gay" is a bright and diverting treatment of the Westchester legend at almost every point. But the play submits proof that not every young actress can score in the rôle of a drunken flapper. An important scene missed fire because Molly Ricardel wasn't—well, say Joanna Roos of "Paris Bound," and more recently "Blue Heaven."

Plans of Chief Fair Buildings Almost Ready

Head Architect Talks to His Colleagues.

Steady progress in the buildin plans for the Century of Progress ex position was reported yesterday b Harvey Wiley Corbett, chairman o the Chicago World's Fair architectur commission. Mr. Corbett came her from New York to meet members o his commission at a luncheon in th Burnham building.

Plans for the main buildings, abou which the secondary units of the fa will be arranged, are nearly complete Mr. Corbett reported. These are tl administration, transportation, hor cultural, and radio buildings, tl Tower of Light, which is to be erect at 31st street, and one restaurant t be located on the first of the ma islands.

Of chief interest among the ne plans before the commissioners w that of an international competiti to stimulate designs for small, in pensive dwellings for a man of li ited means. Several villages compr ing homes and municipal buildin and representing the work of vario nations will be located on the groun according to the plans.

Mr. Corbett spoke of the unit p of home building whereby houses m be manufactured by mass product and at lower prices.

Only two made islands will be r quired, at the lake front, the arc tects decided. These will be or mental and provide a breakwater f a large lagoon, where it is plann to anchor boats in the transportat exhibit.

Russian Painter of Light and Nature Shows Pictures Here

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

It is extremely rare to find two extraordinarily brilliant exhibitions on view practically simultaneously. The one at the Knoedler galleries was spoken of last Saturday; today comment is passed on the exhibition of landscapes by the Russian, Iwan F. Choultsé, which opened yesterday in the Nachemsohn of London gallery, 910 North Michigan boulevard. It is one of the most flawless and most inspiring exhibitions Chicago has ever seen.

Choultsé was born in Petrograd in 1874 and his fame dates from the first showing of his work at the Academie des Beaux-Arts in that city twenty-five years ago. It has steadily increased ever since. During his years of travel and study he concerned himself with a minute observation of nature. Light and atmosphere were his objectives; to portray them exactly upon canvas, his goal. He has won to it.

One is awed by the marvelous lighting in his paintings. One is thrilled by the exactitude with which he paints mountains and lakes, trees, houses, snow and storm, and flowers and sunny peaceful corners all beauty and poetry; so closely akin is he to his subject that he lives an intense life in each stroke of his brush. He is the landscape; the landscape is Choultsé. It is not a question of photographic detail or even of realism. The paintings possess the best of those but something more besides. They quiver and vibrate with the sympathy that enwraps the artist and his subject.

So brilliant is Choultsé's rendering of sunlight that the painting which stands in the street window of the gallery appears to be artificially lighted. That glittering surface is innate. It is one of the secrets of his power. In the gallery "Midnight Sun in King's Bay" is a majestic, dominating, pulsating canvas, beyond words beautiful. "Before the Storm, Russia," is another painting that sweeps one from one's feet. The "Silver Color Scheme, Lofoten" is undiluted beauty. But these are paintings which must be seen to be believed; they are all little short of marvelous.

Puppies, Like Small Children, Like Lots of Fuss 'n' Attention

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

The new baby certainly is upsetting. She is cunning, with thick, rather curly hair, perhaps a shade too chubby, very bright eyes, good ears and well setup chest. She's winning, every one admits. Visitors coo and gurgle over her and she is quite unimpressed, though at four months one would expect it to be that way.

The first child, who has an established position in the house, is receiving little attention as a consequence though she has sleek, reddish yellow hair, exquisite manners, and is most graceful.

The new baby—yes, that's it, a Scotch terrier puppy—had lived, up to a week ago, all her short life in a kennel with other pups and no people. So she was almost paralyzed at the strangeness of her new home, and became immediately a Little Eating Problem!

Too disturbed by the strangeness to eat, she had to be fed piece by piece.

Her yellow friend, the cat, looked on with her inscrutable eyes, watching the puppy being fed by hand, her own beloved food, watching the admiring group around her, watching all this personal service that a refusal to eat obtained.

The cat sniffed her food, gave a "dirty look" to the puppy and walked away.

The puppy's owner took notice. Pussy not eating? Pussy who loved her little stomach and ate enormously? Pussy was coaxed and petted over to her dish, but refused to eat. At last, when offered her food piece by piece from the grimy hands of her little master, she consented to nibble daintily.

The standees yelled with laughter and said to their hostess, "Well, there's a fine set of ideas for articles. The coming of the second baby and its effect on the oldest child; easy to spoil children; contagiousness of bad behavior; easy to get them pampered; jealousy; conditioning and behaviorism—why, there's enough child human nature there to give you ideas for a week."

Well, at least there was for a day!

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—Vice President Curtis occupied a box tonight at the Bal Boheme, the annual event of the Washington Arts club, the most spectacular affair of each season.

The Vice President had among his guests his daughter, Mrs. C. P. George, and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gann. Upon their arrival at their box the elaborate program arranged by the ball committee began and continued for three-quarters of an hour. Every one was, in fancy dress, grotesque and otherwise.

Dr. F. V. Coville, former president of the club, was chairman of the floor commitee and Mrs. John Otto Johnson was chairman of the ball committee. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chandler Christy of New York and Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Tuckerman of this city were the judges, awarding prizes to the most beautifully costumed, the most comic and the most original. Two floors of the Willard were used by the merrymakers, who danced and made merry until the breakfast hour.

PARIS TURNS GRECIAN FOR FASHIONS FOR ITS LATEST SHOW

PARIS, Jan. 27.—The first Paris spring fashion show harks back to Grecian robes. Suzanne Talbot shows day and evening dresses with Grecian draped sleeveless bodices, instep length, flowing skirts and double band waistlines above and at normal.

Large triangular shawls replace coats on some of the afternoon ensembles in this collection. Navy blue is combined with white in the linen blouses, scarfs and linings, which are outstanding for practical day clothes at the Talbot establishment. Other features shown are silk ensembles with polka dots and afternoon and evening skirts beruffled and trailing.

Terra cotta is the new color. Chantal abandons one color ensembles to combine two and three opposing shades. Bolero jackets top the day time ensembles in this and other Paris collections. Wool, silk shantung and georgette fabric are the quite-in-vogue. Green is the favorite Chantal color. Her waistlines are normal and skirts moderately long.

There has been an important curtailment in spring wraps in all the collections. The sleeves are clipped to above the elbows or three-quarter length and are worn with long gloves. Jackets have been shortened. The full length coat is chiefly used for a separate wrap.

Many formal afternoon dresses reach the ankles.

Boleros and cape sleeves relieve the fitted silhouettes in day and evening collection gowns. The evening mode is very long with many lace dresses having deep décolleté camouflaged by removable boleros.

Well Dressed Man Has Eight Overcoats; That's Tailor's View

The man who hasn't at least eight overcoats in his wardrobe—and, of course, a corresponding number and variety of hats, shoes, shirts, and neckwear — is practically undressed when he steps into the social whirl.

At least that was the view expressed yesterday by Raymond G. Twyeffort, chairman of the committee on fashions of the National Association of Merchant Tailors of America, which will open its twenty-first annual convention today at the Drake hotel. The coats which the wardrobe of the sartorially perfect gentleman should contain, according to Twyeffort, are these:

A dressy black overcoat for evening use with silk lined lapel and cloth collar; two formal overcoats for day use—one winter weight and one thin weight, in a dark gray, blue, or black, with a velvet collar; a heavy winter ulster; a medium weight town coat of semi-rough material in color; a spring weight overcoat, also in semi-rough material; a tan covert for town wear; a camel hair double breasted polo coat or a raglan Harris tweed overcoat for sport use.

The Wholesome RUMFORD BAKING POWDER

Every mother knows how important a part fresh milk plays in the diet of a growing child. Rumford, in hot breads and cake, works to the same end—building strong bones and teeth, developing proper nerve tissue.

For Rumford contains phosphate of calcium in great quantity. In fact, two Rumford biscuits contain more of this valuable compound than does a large glass of milk. And it takes fifty quarts of milk to equal the phosphate content of a one-pound can of Rumford.

Give your family the advantages of food prepared with Rumford just as you give them the advantages of fresh air and sunshine.

SAVE TIME! Mix RUMFORD dough at night ...keep in ice-box...bake in the morning...

When Painting, Why Not Cultivate an Artist's Skill?

by Antoinette Donnelly

Yesterday we were talking about the light by which to do your best makeup work for day wear. The off-color, the high color, the badly distributed color on the cheeks may be due to something else, too.

It takes more skill, honestly, to apply dry rouge to the cheeks than it does to apply the paste kind. And I would suggest to women who are not satisfied with their handiwork to try the paste rouge and see if a smoother affect cannot be gained. I have nothing against dry rouge, understand, and for use on occasions where the compact has to be employed, it is the most convenient. But I mean, in making up the face at home the paste rouge is worth giving a trial.

Of course, with dry rouge the light greasing of the cheeks first is recommended, but personally I don't think it quite so manageable as the paste over the cream foundation. And with the dry rouge the temptation is to rub a little circle around on top of the cheek bone and call it a day. Especially, if you are touching up at a theater or some such public place.

We have gone too far in the use of rouge now not to want to have the face pretty nearly letter perfect. And for the amateur hand, meaning not the hand just beginning to wield a rouge pad but the hand that accomplishes amateurish looking work, I would suggest a paste trial, anyway.

Rub your foundation cream on, or your cold cream, which is more commonly used, I believe. Rub it over the entire face, not only on the area to be hand painted. Then, with your tissue sheet or your clean piece of linen, wipe the surface lightly, leaving it not fully clear of the cream yet. Then put your dab of rouge on the cheek and work it in a fairly wide but neat path from about an inch from the nose up toward the ear tip. Keep off the cheek bones, if they are at all prominent.

With your creamed tissue or rag clear the rouged edges that extend too far and rub and shape the painted area again with your finger tips. Have your color smooth, so smooth that you cannot see, yourself, where it begins or ends. Now, leave that section and take a clean towel and wipe the face clear of grease, but still leave it a little moist.

Then do your powdering, also with a smooth finish, over the unpainted area first and then the rouged. Just the lightest touch possible over the rouged surface so as not to efface the color is all that is necessary.

FARM AND GARDEN BY PAUL POTTER

An increase in the number of orchards planted in Iowa in recent years has resulted in greater interest in the care of young orchard stock, says H. E. Nichols, extension horticulturist at Iowa State college. To answer the demand for such information an orchard short course will be held at Ames, Jan. 28 to 29, during Farm and Home week, at which extension and experiment station men will discuss problems of both the young and the bearing orchard.

The control of apple scab, which last season caused serious damage to the Iowa apple crop, will be discussed. The apple maggot, which burrows inside apples doing damage which is invisible to the untrained eye until the apple is cut or bitten into, will also come in for a share of the discussion. Pruning and training young trees, variety selection, spraying, use of fertilizers on bearing orchards, and cultural practices are subjects to be taken up.

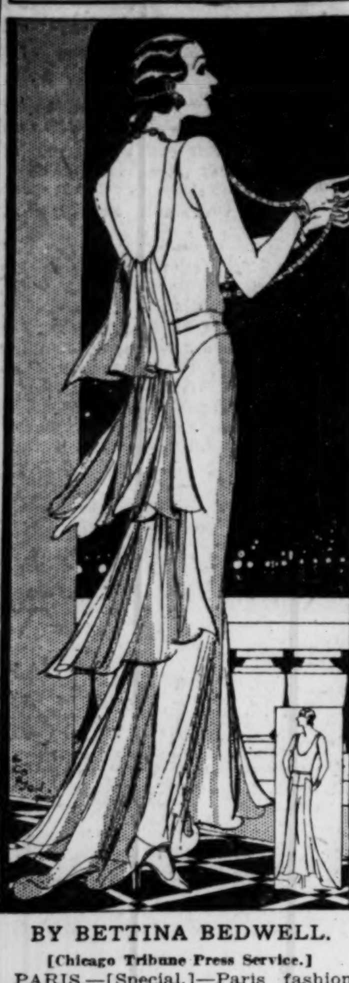
During the program of the horticultural department, which continues throughout the week, problems concerning nut growing, fence post preservation, gardening, and small fruit growing will be discussed.

White with Diamonds Wins at St. Moritz



BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS.—[Special.]—Paris fashions have their temporary headquarters at St. Moritz where the smart world goes to ski, skate and dance. This is interesting to the world's wife because styles are often started there, and the modes of the mid-season get their official okeh or are thrown out by fashionable women.

White for evening is splattered all over with okehs from the most distinguished ladies who are staying at St. Moritz this holiday season. They have also unleashed their diamonds from the safety deposit vaults and are wearing ropes, pins, bracelets, and pendants of them with their white evening frocks. A real snow maiden effect in a genuine snow maiden atmosphere is the result.

White satin, white moire, white marquisette, white net and white chiffon are the materials that make the smartest dresses seen at St. Moritz after dark. These dresses dash all hopes that may be lurking in recalcitrant bosoms for the return of shorter evening clothes. They are all of them instep length and some longer. The princess silhouette is outstanding, but it has been tricked up so that it is becoming to most women. Not many ladies wear the pure, unadapted princess.

The most successful white evening gown I saw at St. Moritz is shown in our sketch. It is from Jean Patou who has made it, since he first showed it in the mid-season, for many fashionable Parisiennes. This white chiffon frock is the modified princess that Patou has perfected and made every woman's line. The waist is slightly bloused, and down the back are three full, floating panels that veil the fitted line in beauty. There are flat panels from the high hipline at the sides that make the front of the skirt easy to wear.

A rope of magnificent square cut diamonds, two diamond bracelets and cut drop earrings make the ensemble of jewelry for this frock. The optical effect is stunning.

NEW YORK TO SEE IF MAGISTRATES ARE WAYWARD

Quality of Court Justice Under Investigation.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 27.—[Special.]—A grand jury today began to look into the magistrate situation here with the idea of finding out the quality of justice being dispensed and possibly handing up a recommendation that another grand jury consider the advisability of indicting wayward magistrates, if the first investigating body finds any wardward magistrates.

It sounds rather complicated, but District Attorney Thomas C. T. Crain was confident this afternoon that it would not take more than six or eight weeks to sift the charges ranging from gangster patronage to inefficiency. The magistrates have been under fire from all points of the compass for several weeks, with the attack centering on Magistrate Albert H. Vitale as the result of his having dined with gang leaders who staged the dinner as a background for a holdup. A general demand for reform in all magistrates' courts followed.

Chief Magistrate William McAdoo, who is conducting an investigation of his own, was the only witness to appear before the jury today. He went into the courtroom with a brief case under his arm and came out an hour later with a brief case under his arm. The brief case, it was reported, contained the papers in the Vitale case. Mr. McAdoo declined to discuss his testimony.

Both Sides Surprised.

"We are just laying the foundation for a painstaking and thorough inquiry," Mr. Crain explained a few minutes later.

At 12:30 the grand jury, accompanied by Mr. Crain, filed out of the room and down the stairs to pay a surprise visit to the Tombs magistrates court. It is the plan of the jury to visit magistrates' courts throughout the city and get a juror's eye view of how they work.

The visit to the Tombs court proved to be a real surprise visit. The visitors found that Magistrate H. Stanley Renaud had just closed court and knocked off work. The jurors gave a critical eye to the pictures on the walls, looked under and around the bench and then just stood around for a while.

At Mr. Crain's suggestion the grand jury then adjourned to meet again on Wednesday. After next Saturday two February juries will handle the routine business and the January jury will give full time to the investigation.

Eluding Legal Tangles.

The district attorney explained why he did not ask the present jury to find possible indictments. He does not want the investigators to be hampered by legal details in their consideration of the judicial situation. Attorneys for defendants, Mr. Crain said, might contest indictments handed up by the jury conducting the general investigaton on the ground they had been prejudiced by extraneous matters. A double jury procedure would eliminate such legal loop holes.

Mr. Crain promised the investigation would include not only the conduct of the magistrates, but of all persons attached to the courts as well. This requires an inquiry into the work of 636 persons who are in some way connected with the magistrates' courts.

The district attorney intends to devote considerable time to the charges of bail bond abuses. This is expected to lead into other fields than the courts, as a federal grand jury already has handed up a presentment charging the New York police were accepting graft from runners of bail bondsmen.

In addition to Mr. Crain's inquiry and that of Chief Magistrate McAdoo, District Attorney McLaughlin of the Bronx is conducting an inquiry into the magistrates' courts in that borough. The Bar association also has been investigating.

Charges of assault to kill and robbery against Joseph Durham, 8533 Muskegon avenue, were continued to Feb. 15 by Judge Samuel Heller yesterday to permit the recovery of Durham's companion, Leo Szlabiewski, 24 years old, 8134 Burnham avenue, who was shot by the police when Durham was captured.

HIGH COURT MAY MAKE LAKE LEVEL DECREE IN EARLY SUMMER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Indications that the United States Supreme court hopes to enter its final decree in the lake level controversy before it adjourns for the summer recess were seen today in an order setting March 12 as the day for final arguments in the case.

The order came as a setback to Illinois and the Chicago sanitary district, who had moved for a postponement until April 14 on the ground that the additional time would be needed by both sides to study and answer objections or exceptions to the report by Special Master Charles Evans Hughes.

Attaches of the court pointed out, however, that in view of the illness of Chief Justice Taft and the poor health of several associate judges, it is the plan of the court to adjourn several weeks earlier this year than customary. The court usually adjourns for the summer vacation early in June. With the probability of adjournment early in May, final arguments on April 14 would not leave the court sufficient time in which to consider and write its opinion.

EDITOR REGRETS WHAT HE SAID OF MARY GARDEN

Gene Howe, the Texas editor, defended himself and his criticisms of Mary Garden and Col. Charles Lindbergh during a brief visit in Chicago yesterday. He paused only between trains on his way to New York to visit friends.

"Actually I'm sorry I said all the things I did about Mary Garden," confessed the "Tactless Texan," as he is known in his column in the Amarillo Globe. "I shouldn't have made any reference to the number of years she has been singing. She is a great singer, but she let us down when she sang in Amarillo. As for Lindbergh, he is one of the greatest men in this country, but he was discourteous in promising to land at Amarillo and then passing up the town. So many people were deeply disappointed. I told him so and he came back and apologized."

While Howe was explaining this in his room at the Congress hotel, Mary Garden herself was discussing men and music in a talk before the musical art council of Chicago. She declared men dislike opera and have to be dragged to it by their wives, and that women rather than men are thus responsible for the growth of opera.

CIVIL WAR VET COLLARS THIEF IN LOOP MOVIE

Charles H. Carnahan of Washington, an 85 year old civil war veteran, yesterday pursued and captured a pickpocket who had robbed him of a pocketbook containing $40 in the Oriental theater. Carnahan is of diminutive stature, being about 5 feet 4 inches tall, while his prisoner, Ben Berger, 36 years old, 3815 West 13th street, is a large man weighing about 175 pounds.

Carnahan, who is in Chicago visiting his son, Robert W. Carnahan, 722 Hinman avenue, Evanston, was in an aisle of the theater when he was jostled by a man, and immediately he discovered that his pocketbook was gone. He saw Berger heading for the door and started in pursuit, collaring Berger as he reached the lobby. Berger, in his haste to escape, had dropped Carnahan's bank book, attracting the attention of an usher, who ran to Carnahan's assistance with Ed E. O'Donnell, the manager.

O'Donnell and two ushers held Berger until the police arrived and locked him up at the Central station.

SEAWAY TREATY WITH CANADA IS REPORTED NEAR

Pelouze Says Negotiations Are Far Along.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

A treaty settlement between the United States and Canada on the St. Lawrence seaway project may be reached in the near future, according to a report issued yesterday by William Nelson Pelouze, chairman of the Illinois commission of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater association.

The proposed seaway is linked up with the Illinois waterway, to complete which congress is being asked to appropriate $7,500,000. Chicago and Illinois have already spent in excess of $100,000,000 on this project, which is within two and a half years of completion and when finished will open the great lakes to the Gulf of Mexico.

Reviews Treaty Negotiations.

In a pamphlet with a title, "Chicago an Ocean Port," Mr. Pelouze sets forth the story of the St. Lawrence development to open the lakes to the Atlantic. After reviewing the treaty negotiations between the United States and Canada on the St. Lawrence project, he declares:

"The governments are well advanced towards an understanding. The present outlook for negotiating a treaty between the United States and Canada within the ensuing year is most encouraging.

"When both the St. Lawrence and Illinois waterways are completed they will prove component parts of one another and each will prove a feeder to the other. When both projects are completed the manufacturers of Milwaukee, Duluth, Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland, and Buffalo who have shipments for the Pacific coast by the Panama canal will ship by way of the Illinois and Mississippi rivers, because the distance is shorter and the time and cost of freight less than by any other route.

Both Routes Necessary.

"The manufacturers of St. Louis and the cities along the Ohio river who buy and sell in the commercial markets of Europe will ship by way of the Illinois and St. Lawrence rivers because the distance is shorter and the freight rate less than by any other route. This indicates how necessary to each other are these two great waterways—the St. Lawrence and the Illinois.

"The Illinois waterway to the gulf will prove the panacea for the industries of the central west in solving the Panama canal problem. It will place the farmers and manufacturers of the middle west on an equality basis, so far as freight is concerned, with their seaboard competitors, in their trade with the Pacific coast and all trade served by the Panama canal.

"When the Illinois waterway is ready for operation the money appropriated by congress will have been spent under the jurisdiction of the U. S. army engineers. These army engineers will know then what quantity of water it will be necessary to take from Lake Michigan to make the Illinois waterway practical for commercial navigation.

Makes Chicago Seaport.

"When the St. Lawrence waterway is opened to through navigation the cities on our great lakes will become ocean ports. The farmers and manufacturers of the central west will be on an equality basis so far as freight is concerned with their eastern competitors. There are 40,000,000 people who live adjacent to the great lakes and who are landlocked, so far as access to the ocean is concerned. This great population is entitled to buy and sell its products in the markets of the world and should be privileged to do both at the lowest possible cost in transportation. Any improvement that will benefit 40 million people must of necessity benefit the other 70 million."

The Pelouze report likewise reiterates that lake states which have been fighting diversion from Lake Michigan at Chicago will be beneficiaries of the Illinois waterway. "If the Illinois waterway is to benefit Illinois," it says, "it will likewise and to a corresponding degree benefit many of the states of the tidewater association, notably Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Michigan, Indiana, and Ohio."

Boy, 8, Kills Sister, 18, Playing with Revolver

Bay City, Mich., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—A newspaper picture of Speaker Longworth of the house pointing a revolver cost the life today of 18 year old Dorothy Conklin.

The picture, which showed Longworth aiming a revolver that belonged to Jesse James, was seen in a paper by Dorothy's 8 year old brother, Nathaniel.

Nathaniel proceeded to show that he too knew how to point a gun. He pulled the trigger. Dorothy fell dead with a bullet through her heart.

Health Department's Latest Official Milk Report Just Issued

Shows All Records for Purity of Chicago's Milk Supply Surpassed

Laboratory tests show that Chicago's milk supply is of higher quality than ever before in the history of milk-control work.

The efficient enforcement of sanitary regulations on the 35,000 dairy farms producing Chicago's milk supply and in the 335 plants where milk is received, or pasteurized and bottled, together with the splendid co-operation between the milk distributors of Chicago, the milk producers and the Chicago Health Department, all exercising every effort toward increasing the excellence of the milk, are responsible.

DR. ARNOLD H. KEGEL
Health Commissioner of Chicago

That Chicago's Milk Is Pure

is proved by the fact that not one case of communicable disease was caused by milk in 1929.

A Measuring Stick of the purity of a community's milk supply is the death-rate of infants under one year of age.

In the Year 1929

Chicago's death-rate of infants was the lowest in its history.

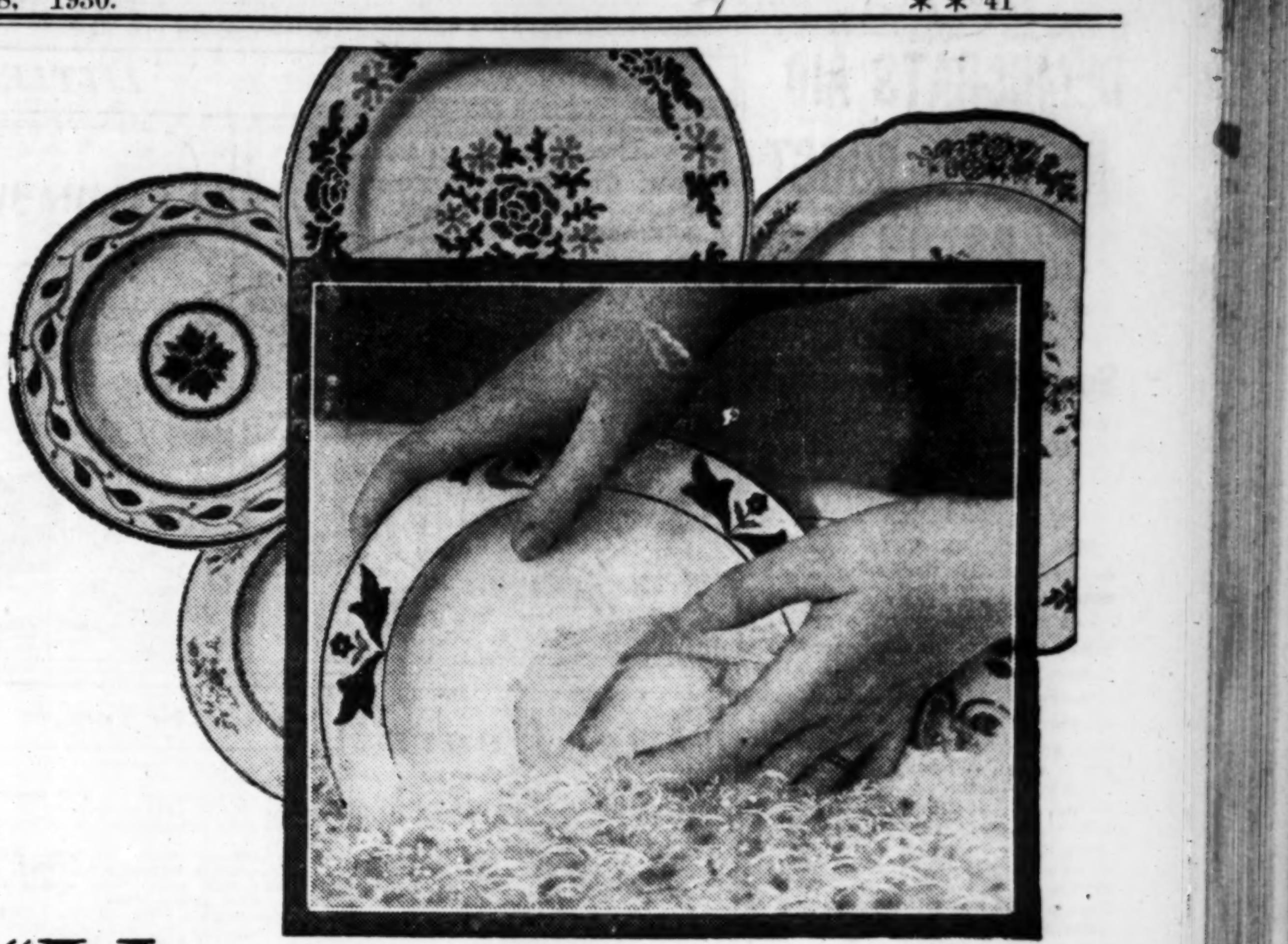
The Price of Milk

The price of milk to the consumer in Chicago is less than in many other large cities. For instance, in New York the price is 16c; Boston 15½c; Los Angeles 15c; Philadelphia 14c; Detroit 14c.

DR. ARNOLD H. KEGEL, Commissioner of Health, in his official report for 1929 says that the health of a community is largely determined by the safety and wholesomeness of its milk supply.

This is why the Health Department regards the control and safeguarding of our milk supply as one of its most important activities.

Pure milk is a contributing factor, not only in the saving of lives of babies, but in building up the health and energy of every individual in the community.



"Vogue for Color in Dishes demands modern dishwashing,"

by RUTH WASHBURN JORDAN

IT'S color everywhere—from fragile imported china in Fifth Avenue shops to the gay cups and saucers at the "five and ten!" And best of all, the salespeople tell you, these lovely new tints are easy to care for.

As one of the foremost experts on china, F. J. Cuthbertson, President of the famous New York china house of Wm. H. Plummer Co., said:

Saves colors—saves hands

The gentle, bland Lux suds that modern homemakers everywhere have adopted to save the beauty of fine things save, too, the delicate colors of these new dishes.

If ordinary, coarse soaps dull the beauty of your dishes, think what they do to your hands! And red, rough dishpan hands are so unnecessary.

Washing dishes the modern way in bubbling, sparkling Lux gives the hands real beauty care—keeps them smooth and white as the hands of leisure.

Start today to give your hands and your dishes this modern care. It's so wonderfully inexpensive. Lux for all your dishes costs less than 1¢ a day.

Indigestion
Immediate Relief!

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle — any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.

DEMOCRATS AID IN DUTY BOOST ON RAYON YARN

Southern Bourbons Help G. O. P. Regulars.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Southern Democrats today came to the rescue of regular Republicans in a controversy over duties on rayon yarn. The senate approved a finance committee amendment increasing duties after several attempts to provide for lower rates had met with defeat. The debate on the paragraph occupied nearly six hours.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler [Dem., Mont.] led the attack upon the high duties proposed. He offered an amendment to fix a duty of 35 per cent instead of 45 and 50 cents on different grades of rayon yarn, and to eliminate a proposed minimum rate of 45 cents per pound. His amendment was defeated by a vote of 23 to 52. The southern Democrats turned against Senator Wheeler, contending that the rayon industry is a large purchaser of cotton linters and that its prosperity is linked with that of the cotton growers.

Amendments Rejected.

An amendment by Senator F. M. Simmons [Dem., N. C.] to reduce the minimum rate from 45 to 40 cents per pound was defeated by a vote of 34 to 37. An amendment by Senator Duncan Fletcher [Dem., Fla.] to eliminate the minimum rate proviso, retaining other committee rates, was rejected by a vote of 26 to 48.

Senator Wheeler in a lengthy speech charged that the American Viscose company, one of the largest producers of rayon yarn, is British controlled. The Montana senator asserted that "If there is one schedule in this entire bill that is going to take millions from the American farmer and put it in the hands of the greatest trust in the world it is rayon."

Radicals Aid Wheeler.

While Senator Simmons would have been satisfied with a duty a litle below that proposed by the finance committee he insisted that a much higher rate than advocated by Senator Wheeler was consistent with the Democratic platform declaration for a competitive tariff. Senator Wheeler's support came chiefly from the radical camp.

PREMIER'S SON CALLS POLITICS BRITISH RELIGION

Alister MacDonald, son of the prime minister of Great Britain, addressed 300 members of the Socialist club of the University of Chicago last evening in Swift hall at the university. Young MacDonald, an architect who came here to study skyscrapers, spoke to the university students on politics.

"To the Socialists of Great Britain politics is neither a game nor a business—it is a religion," MacDonald asserted. "We take our politics seriously, regarding it as a study of how people live and how they ought to live. We don't expect immediate results, but we are moving closer to the point when all men and women will have an equal chance. That is why I call it a religion.

"A movement which has grown in 25 years from a vote of 60,000 to one of 6,500,000 is a thing of the working people and their sacrifices have made it a success. It is no unusual thing for Labor workers to give up their vocations and wage earning time to help a cause which will benefit only their grandchildren."

Elmer Hears Music to Suit Every Taste

Gypsies' Orchestra Proves Good as Usual.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Excellent entertainment suitable for every variety of taste was not lacking last evening.

The importance of the universal acceptability of the Gypsies orchestral program, from New York through W-G-N, 7:30 to 8:30, looms larger and larger as the years roll by. Their popular selections do not descend to the level of silliness. And last evening the concert numbers reached the high level of Sarasate's "Gypsy Air," a difficult violin solo, and Ketelbey's great "In a Monastery Garden."

The Family party program from New York, through W-G-N, 8:30 to 9, is not the great family party it used to be, though their program of popular light opera and modern movie music was enjoyable in its way.

Quin Ryan's elaborate sport event revivals, W-G-N, 9 to 9:30, go over my head like a baseball whizzing through the air. There is no doubt, however, that Mr. Ryan's efforts are intelligently appreciated by sports fans.

The concert by the Rochester Civic orchestra, through KYW, 9 to 9:30, is one of the best of the big things in little time period, Saint-Saëns' "Ronda Capriccioso," the violin solo being played by Alexander Leventon, was doubtedly the evening's highlight in solo playing achievements.

Universality of appeal also was an attribute of the W-G-N orchestra's popular program from 9:30 to 10. Victor Young, arranger, composer, and violinist, conductor, and so on, showed his hand at the baton and at the same time showed his uncanny mastery of modern orchestral arranging. If the popular selections received a colorful transformation that took one by surprise, the playing of Weber's "Oberon" overture was true to Hoyle, except it was given a rich coloring that orthodox symphony orchestras need not be ashamed to emulate.

Mozart's symphony in G minor was played complete from New York, through WIBO, the 10 to 10:30 period.

JURY PICKED FOR EX-CHICAGOANS' ALIENATION SUIT

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—A jury of eight women and four men will decide the $300,000 alienation suit of Mrs. Mattie Hutchinson, wife of Samuel S. Hutchinson, wealthy Chicago and Hollywood film distributor, against Mrs. Edith Taylor. All the parties to the suit formerly lived in Chicago. The trial is before Judge Arthur Keetch's court.

Mrs. Hutchinson gives her address as 6231 Sheridan road, Chicago. The Hutchinsons separated in September, 1927, in Hollywood.

Mrs. Hutchinson alleges that her husband's romance with Mrs. Taylor began in Chicago in 1908 after he met Mrs. Taylor in Valparaiso, Ind. The romance is said to have continued without the wife's knowledge for years, and the petition says that her husband had a daughter by Mrs. Taylor, now 12 years old, of whose existence she did not know at the time of her marriage. Mrs. Taylor avers that she did not know Hutchinson was married.

The wife states that Hutchinson has settled $300,000 on her, besides $400,000 property in her possession.

Husbands as Censors on Shopping Tours? Wives Chorus "NO"

BY DORIS BLAKE.

A popular novelist was quoted recently as suggesting that husbands should be censors as well as payees of their wives' wardrobes.

"But where are you going to find husbands you can drag along on a shopping tour with you?" wives chorus. "Or, managing to drag him into a shop with you," some add, "how are you going to get him to look as if he were enjoying the operation?"

"You can drag them in," pipes up one clear voice, "but most of them look as if they were going to get their pictures taken and the smile won't come. Before you've tried on the third of the dozen hats in mind for trying on, they're muttering it's time to go."

"All I ever got out of my mate," one woman confesses, "when I did take him shopping was, 'It looks all right.' A woman doesn't buy clothes to look all right!"

If the proposed censorship ever comes to pass it will be after a longer period of shopping education than men have known, to date. In fact, it might have to begin when Johnny is 8 or 10. But fancy the juniors you and I know at 8, 10, 12 or 15 being asked to go out with sister and see that she gets a pretty frock. With the tepees and radio sets and aeroplanes waiting to be set up!

Some men have a flair for clothes. The fact that many of our leading designers are of the sex masculine proves that. Some men can pick a better hat, a better frock and a better shade of stockings than their wives. But the species is so rare that the average woman has to go on her own sweet shopping tour without benefit of man.

The average man on shopping bent with his wife would be a deleterious influence to the trade. He'd hat and frock his wife in the most conventional of modes. Last year's mode, because he had become accustomed to it, would seem a more proper investment than the new. Most men are like that about women's clothes. The new, if a bit extreme, scares them. The woman can buy it, herself, wear it a few times, and it is quite all right.

I've an idea that if a vote were taken among women as to whether friend husband were wanted along with them or left safely at home on shopping days, the don't-take-'ems would win. Furthermore, the vote would get the men's heartiest approval, as well.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Broiled Lamb Kidneys.

The great chef does not blanch and reblanch kidneys (you may study kidney cookery in the writings of famous cooks under the French name, "rognon." Obviously the kidney part of a kidney chop does not get blanched, but in household cooking kidneys are either soaked in cold water for some hours or blanched, with from one to three changes of water. If this work is rightly done there is still enough quality in a kidney to make a good stew, or the graviest of gravies, and perhaps for most eaters it is too strong if the blanching is not done.

Probably almost any cook who has experience with kidney cookery will inevitably compare the cooking of this meat with the cooking of liver, and also with the cooking of poultry giblets. If you can make a good giblet gravy you can also make a good lamb kidney gravy, chopping the blanched meat fine and never boiling it after it is added to the liquid foundation.

Here is the difference: While it is customary to cook giblets first—perhaps a mere blanching would be much better for them—lamb kidneys are really no more cooked than the blanching effects them when used for a kidney gravy. To prepare a lamb kidney for broiling, it is split from the convex side in and spread out, but the root is not removed or only the tubular end is cut off. After it is split it may be soaked and dried, or blanched and dried, then dipped in melted butter, or oil, before it is broiled.

One way to finish broiled lamb kidneys after they have been broiled two and a half minutes to a side is to put them into a pan, add salt and pepper in reason, pour over them a little melted butter, cover the pan and let them stand over a small fire for three minutes, then serve on toast, pouring the butter from the pan over the whole. A broiled kidney with a broiled lamb chop or even some other pieces of meat is a rather high class addition, or it belongs in that collection of broiled meats called the mixed grill, or in Italian the "fritto misto."

If you want to give these a French name, call them "rôgnons d'agneau grilles." An English direction following that for splitting the kidneys says: "Turn each half back, and run a skewer through them to keep them flat, brush over with salad oil or butter, broil quickly over a clear fire, remove the skewers, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and serve as hot as possible."

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

Here is a dress made of printed rayon crêpe that will be just the thing to wear under your fur coat for daytime occasions during the balance of the cold weather. The cape collar, the low placed fullness, the tight fitting hips and the shirring all show it to be one of the latest designs. Black Canton crêpe with an eggshell crêpe collar, and emerald green flat silk crêpe are smart suggestions.

The pattern, 3232, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3⅜ yards of 39 inch material with ⅞ yard of 35 inch contrasting and ⅝ yard of 35 inch crêpe for the belt, and sleeve bows.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

The nurse was proudly exhibiting the new sister to the 6 and 8 year old brothers. They looked at the baby, but made no comment for a moment. Finally, the 6 year old, turning to his brother, said in a voice intended only for the brother's ear, "Not much to look at, is she?" C. R.

Curtis was the only boy among three girls. A new baby arrived, which proved to be another boy. Curtis' father took him in to see the new baby and after gazing at it awhile, he looked up into his father's face and said, "Gee, dad, ain't it swell to have three good looking men in the family now?" A book full of dictation, and she must go home; what can she tell her employer? One more girl who hasn't heard of Midol. In misery at least one day of every month, and a tiny tablet now banishes such pain in five to seven minutes! Not a narcotic, mind; nothing that has the slightest effect on the natural process. Midol acts directly on the organs themselves, and avoids the painful part—the part that is not natural or necessary. You may have tried other things for relief at such a time, but ask about Midol; purse-size metal case is fifty cents.*

* Midol's comfort is not confined to any certain days or age. It relieves at any time of life. Its ease is felt immediately in cases of nervous headache, backache, cramping, hot flashes and all febrile pain peculiar to women.

A SPECIALTY

We have a DOLLAR DOWN sales set-up on a popular priced household necessity that means sales. Being a salesman, YOU are naturally looking for something of MERIT that will SELL.

Answer this question to yourself: If you had two articles that ARE IN GREAT DEMAND and were in a position to SELL THEM for HALF of what any other merchant would care to offer them, how many ORDERS a week do you feel YOU could write at a DOLLAR DOWN and a dollar per week?

JUST ONE MEASLY ORDER A DAY WITH A DOLLAR DEPOSIT PAYS YOU $54 A WEEK IN FULL. NOTHING DEFERRED, and WE GET YOU INTO THE HOME at our own expense and pay you on all other purchases that your customer makes.

IF YOU ARE SEEKING A GOOD, LEGITIMATE, STEADY INCOME AND WANT SOMETHING THAT SELLS—WE HAVE IT! 23 E. JACKSON-BLVD., 11TH FLOOR.
